GERMANY TO PLAY SCOTLAND

GLASGOW—The German Football Association has accepted an invitation to play Scotland next season. Wednesday, Oct. 14, was suggested as the date. The Scottish Football Association selection committee would prefer Oct. 21, but if this does not suit the visitors, the game will be played on the date suggested.

New Catcher Key To Success Of Pirates

(This is the fifth of a series of prospects of major league baseball clubs.)
By Felix R. McKnight, Associated Press Sports Writer (By Guardian's Special Wire)
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 12.—"Mixed checker" Todd, a stony visaged catcher, holds the pennant hopes of Pittsburgh Pirates in his big mitt. He'll be "quarterback" for a crew of veterans in his freshmen year with the club.

"Last year we finished fourth," mused manager "Pie" Traynor. "It wasn't the pitching—it wasn't the hitting. It was trouble behind the plate. We believe we have the solution in Todd."
Todd was obtained from the Phillies. He is hitting at a merry pace in spring training. Last year he played 289 after a 314 in 1934 but Traynor thinks he will return above the 300 mark.

"It looks as if Cy Blanton and Bill Swift, the league's two leading pitchers in effectiveness last year, will have great seasons," Traynor said. "They won 33 and 28 last year and should do even better."
Ready for a regular berth is Mace Brown from Tulsa of the Texas league, who won four and lost one with the Pirates last year. John Tising, a rookie from Louisville in the American Association, appears the cream of the freshman crop.

The veterans Jim Weaver, Guy Bush, "Red" Lucas and Ralph Birk-out round out the list of mainstays, with Waite Hoyt for relief.
"Last year we finished last in double plays. It'll be different this year." They were at second last year and should do even better."
The veteran "Pie" will be in the Traynor-to-Vaughan-to-Suhr combination.
"Arky" Vaughan, whose 385 average led the league last year, is damaging fences in practice. James Earl Browne, who socked 344 as first sacker for Little Rock in the Southern Association, and the giant Bernard Cobb, slugging first baseman of Fort Wayne with a .392 average, look good to lead the team.
Paul Waner, cheery little veteran who batted about .321 last year, will roam right field and Forrest Jensen has left field clinched. The center-field post, vacant while Lloyd Waner recovers from pneumonia that will keep him out at least two weeks, will be filled by Chick Williams, wearing their brand new crown of junior champions of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island meet Amherst Canucks, Nova Scotia titleholders. It will be a battle between two squads that have proven their worth all season as they built up brilliant records and now as they wait for the whistle to send them into action odds are even on the outcome of the important first game.

New Olympic Stadium Arises Out Of Old

(Note: This is second of a series of the Olympic situation in Germany, based upon first hand study by a writer who covered the winter games and has spent considerable time in Berlin, scene of the forthcoming summer sports.)

By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Sports Writer (By Guardian's Special Wire)
BERLIN, March 2.—The magnificent Olympic Stadium in which the world's athletes will match speed and brawn in August has arisen, literally, from the foundations of another Olympic arena, crumbled in the debris of the Great War.
In 1914, when Germany's howlers were trained on the forts at Liege, a "luxurious" stadium seating 50,000 practically had been completed in preparation for the ill-fated 1916 Olympic Games. It was the scene of a sunken bowl, in the interior of Berlin's fashionable horse-track.

Since the first spade of earth was turned in the summer of 1933, an average of 3,200 men have worked constantly day and night on the stadium and its allied structures. There has been no halt for the coldest weather. By June 1 they expect to have slapped the last dab of silver paint on the last flag-staff. The stadium is ready now except for the finishing touches; likewise the swimming pool.
Smart planning enabled the Olympic architects to get some use of the old sunken bowl of '16. They left one end of it unfilled; let it remain as a sort of basement for one wing of the new structure. It makes a huge parking lot, capable of accommodating an estimated 3,000 automobiles and buses. It is reached by a tunnel which ducks under the ground about a quarter-mile from the stadium, dodging any traffic snarls.

Also, there is the new Olympic subway, which will tear straight from the centre of town almost to the stadium gates. Two other subway lines terminate within easy distance. Then there is a railway station just across from the main gate, which can disgorge and pick up passengers like a scoop shovel working in soft ground.

CELTIC'S BITTER PILL

GLASGOW—When St. Johnstone put Celtic out of the Scottish Football Cup by winning their second round tussle 2-1 at Parkhead, the defeat was the first inflicted on the Celts in the competition on their own ground for 14 years. The Perth club had never before scored a win of any kind at Parkhead.

Moncton Maroons Capture Senior Title Eliminating Antigonish In Series 6-3

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
HALIFAX, March 12.—The Maritime Provinces, home of Canadian hockey champions for the past three years will send Moncton Maroons into the 1936 Allan Cup playdowns. The Maroons, New Brunswick titleholders, defeated Antigonish Bulldogs, Nova Scotia's best here tonight, 3-2 after winning the first of their two game total-goals, 3-1 at Moncton.

Outplayed almost all the way the Maroons, coached by Dud James of Moncton Hawks fame used a sturdy defensive style with a sleeping passing attack to outscore the fighting Bulldogs by finished workmanship around the goal.
Antigonish, playing their home game on Halifax ice, seemed at a disadvantage on the large surface but controlled the play from the opening whistle with an aggressive but disorganized attack.

Less than a minute after the start of the game MacDonald, Antigonish forward, drove a scorcher at Barton from close in and started an offensive that kept the Maroons tied up deep in their own territory. McKenna and Irving McGibbon both tested Barton before the veteran Kenny Carroll opened the Moncton attack with a quick breakaway which carried him right through the Purcell-McNeil defence, but McGillivray outgassed him with a fine save.

Midway in the first period Dickie grabbed the puck at his own blueline and left the Bulldog forwards far behind. Fooling the defence, he broke in on McGillivray, aimed deliberately, and scored. Just 8 1-2 minutes later Frank McGibbon grabbed a loose puck in a gang play and drove it past Barton to tie up the game's score at 1-1.

Opening Game Of Maritime Junior Hockey Finals Takes Place At Forum Tonight

The opening clash of the Maritime junior finals takes place at the Forum tonight when Chick Williams' Royals, wearing their brand new crown of junior champions of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island meet Amherst Canucks, Nova Scotia titleholders. It will be a battle between two squads that have proven their worth all season as they built up brilliant records and now as they wait for the whistle to send them into action odds are even on the outcome of the important first game.

Royals face their stiffest task of the season but notwithstanding, a quiet confidence reigns in their camp that they will come through. With Sammy Blanchard back in the lineup the locals will be at full strength again. Blanchard's presence on the lineup will benefit Royals greatly, two smart forward lines will be intact and juggling of the lines which has been necessary in the Chatham series will be conspicuous by its absence.
Canucks arrived in town last night exuding confidence. They are a husky looking bunch of youngsters and like the Royals are ready to give everything in tonight's game. While expecting to win they nevertheless know they will have to play heads up all the way and that they will come through.

The game starts at 8:30 and indications point to the Forum being jammed to capacity when the puck is faced off at centre ice.
The Beavers received a generous "hand" from Kensington fans when they denied the twine behind Champion for the first goal of the score. Kensington evened the score early in the second period and by clever work with a modicum of good luck, added two more before the final bell. Very few penalties were dispensed, both teams playing an "Alphonse and Gaston" game. It is a noticeable fact that the great number of games played in Kensington rink during the past winter have been characterized by the most gentlemanly conduct on the part of the players. The boys do their level best on all occasions for the love of the game and the glory of winning—the genuine psychology of amateurism. The fairness and precision of those referees in charge no doubt contribute in no small degree to that end.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Bill Werber, Boston third baseman, has given up his holdout stand. The Red Sox infielder said today he would leave tomorrow for the Sarasota, Fla., training camp, prepared to agree to owner Town Yawkey's salary figure.
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Roy Johnson, who just reached camp Wednesday, served notice on the other Yankee outfielders Thursday that he is out to win a regular job. Johnson made up with two sensational catches despite a cross wind that made it hard to judge files.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Mel Almada's homer with two on base enabled Manager Joe Cronin's team to defeat the Yennigans 8-5 in the second Red Sox' first practice game. Slugger Jimmy Foss, who played first for the regulars, got hit but one scratch hit out of four tries.
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Boston Bees regulars landed on Bobby Brown for three hits and four runs in the second inning to clinch a 6-3 victory over their scrub team forces. Brown's wideness was responsible for most of his trouble.

Light Heavy Title Bout Set For Tonight

(By Alan Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, March 12.—Jock McAvoy, Britain's best puncher and perhaps her most formidable prospect for heavyweight consideration since Bob Fitzsimmons, tackles the first objective in a highly optimistic fight campaign in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The Lancashire larruper, following a brief but spectacular New York debut early in the winter, will attempt to lift the world's light heavyweight crown from the dusky brow of John Henry Lewis, Arizona negro, in a 15 round match.
McAvoy, the choice of most critics to win—perhaps by a knockout—rules a 10 to 9 choice in the betting. The odds in the Briton's favor have shortened, however, since Lewis established training quarters at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and impressed observers with his boxing ability. The rangy negro may have the antidote for Jock's wallop but he will need it.

McAvoy, now only an over-sized middleweight, likely will concede six or seven pounds to the titleholder, in addition to advantages in height and reach. Jock scaled 168 1-2 the night he fanned Eddie (Babe) Risko, the American middleweight champion, in one round last December.
Win or lose against Lewis, McAvoy will return to England to fight Jack Peterson for the British heavyweight title. He already holds the middleweight and light heavyweight championships of the Old Country. His ambition is to emulate Fitzsimmons, whose punch offset a lack of poundage, and fire a challenge at the heavyweight title.

Kensington Wins From Bedeque 3-1

In the first game of the playoffs for the Lea and Wright trophy at Kensington rink on Wednesday night March 11th, the Silver Wings were victorious over their fast skating and hard working rivals the Bedeque Maple Leafs by a score of 3-1.
The ice was in a very soft, slushy condition which makes it hard for even a connoisseur of the great game to judge the real merits of the teams with any degree of certainty. It wouldn't be surprising to see the outcome reversed when those teams meet again on Friday night at Bedeque rink. The Bedeque team were driven overland in a two horse cutter by taximan Earl Noonan of Bedeque.

The Beavers received a generous "hand" from Kensington fans when they denied the twine behind Champion for the first goal of the score. Kensington evened the score early in the second period and by clever work with a modicum of good luck, added two more before the final bell. Plan Tennis Finals For Grass Courts

(A.P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, March 12.—The United States Lawn Tennis Association, yielding to Australia's wish, announced today that the anticipated North American zone Davis Cup final between the Aussies and Uncle Sam's representatives will be played on the grass courts of the Germantown Cricket Club, near Philadelphia.
The matches have been scheduled tentatively for the May 30 weekend, assuming that Australia eliminates Cuba and the United States disposes of Mexico in first round matches.
Meanwhile the Davis Cup committee, of which Holcombe Ward is chairman, confirmed the selection of five players who will compose the American squad for practice preliminary to the contest with Mexico in April.

The players are Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex.; Donald Budge of Oakland, Calif.; and Bryan M. (Bilek) Grant, Jr., of Atlanta—ranked one-two-three in the United States—and Gene Mako of Los Angeles, no. 11, and Johnny Van Ryn of Philadelphia.
NO JUSTICE
"Have you any references?" inquired the lady of the house.
"Yis, mum, lots of 'em," answered the prospective maid.
"Then why did you not bring them with you?"
"Well, mum, to tell the troot, they're just loike me photographs. None of them don't do me justice."

Leafs Again Take Section Lead Defeating Canadiens 6-3; Maroons & Hawks Tie

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
MONTREAL, March 12.—Toronto Maple Leafs, with curly-haired Bill Thoms playing the star role, staged a six-goal scoring outburst in the third period here tonight to defeat Montreal Canadiens 6-3 and end virtually all hopes of the French team entering the National Hockey League playoffs.
Thoms was the hero of a dazzling assault, scoring three goals himself and passing to Buzz Bell for a fourth. The centre player's sniping made him the first player in the League to score 20 goals this season. His total was boosted to 21. Charlie Conacher of the Leafs raised his total to 20 with one goal.

Holding grimly to their slender chance of overhauling the third-place New York Americans for the last playoff berth in the Canadian section, Canadiens made a great stand for two and a half periods. The defeat left them five points behind Americans with only four games to play.
Three misconduct penalties and a private feud between manager Conroy Smythe of Leafs and manager Sylvio Mantha of Canadiens featured the first period in which the Montreal team built up a 2-0 lead. Leroy Goldsworthy and Jack McGill did the scoring.

The real excitement came as the period ended. Horner and Paul Haynes of Canadiens started a fight on the ice and were still at it when they skated off. In the milling beside the players' benches, Smythe took a few punches at Mantha. The referee stopped this and Horner and Haynes drew misconduct penalties.
Trailing 2-0 and facing the prospect of Montreal Maroons gaining first place in the group by tying Chicago, the Leafs opened up in the second period without success. Wilf Cude held off the Leafs until the start of the third.

Then Thoms opened an attack that netted six goals and put Toronto alone on top of the standing, leading Maroons by a single point. The centre star bagged two within two and a half minutes, the first on Horner's pass.
Aurel Joliat put Canadiens ahead again but Joe Primeau scored with a long shot and Conacher sent Toronto ahead for keeps on Bell's pass. Bell and Thoms both scored in the final minute.

SUMMARY
First Period:
1—Canadiens, Goldsworthy (S. Mantha) 4:0.
2—Canadiens, McGill (Drouin, Deslites) 13:50.
Penalties—Day, Thoms (10 minutes misconduct), S. Mantha, Bell, McGill, Kelly, Haynes and Horner (10 minutes misconduct).
Second Period:
Scoring—None.
Penalties—Blair, Clancy.
Third Period:
1—Toronto, Thoms (Horner) 2:02.
4—Toronto, Thoms, 2:33.
6—Canadiens, Joliat (Gagnon, Lepine) 4:43.
7—Toronto, Primeau, 11:32.
8—Toronto, Bell (Thoms) 19:25.
9—Toronto, Thoms, (Day), 19:52.
Penalties—Clancy, Horner, Kelly, Lesieur, Gagnon.

PLAY 3-3 TIE
CHICAGO, March 12.—(A.P.)—Montreal Maroons staged a gallant come-back tonight to get a 3-3 overtime tie with the Chicago Blackhawks in a hotly contested National Hockey League match played before 12,000 spectators in the Stadium.
Goals by Earl Selbert and Johnny Gotselig in the first period, while Lions Conacher was doing time in the penalty box, sent the Hawks off to a 2-0 lead and the situation appeared safely under control from the Chicago angle.
Dave Trotter converted a pass from Russ Blinco midway of the second session, but Alex Levinsky scored his first goal of the season to make it 3-1.

The Maroons cut the margin to one goal late in the second period on Baldy Northcott's goal, and tied it up early in the third when Herb Cain assisted by Gus Marker and Bob Gracie, beat goalie Mike Eakas on a neatly executed play.
SUMMARY
First Period:
1—Chicago, Selbert (March, Thompson, Romnes, Gotselig) 18:40.
2—Chicago, Gotselig (March, Selbert, Thompson) 19:20.
Penalties—March, Conacher.
Second Period:
1—Chicago, Trotter (Blinco)

Wales Making Good Bid For Soccer Title

(By Hilary Herbert)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
CARDIFF, March 11.—Celtic occupant in the international soccer tournament last year, Wales is making a strong drive this season to win the honor for the seventh time since the series was inaugurated in 1883.
Victory over Ireland at Belfast March 11 will ensure for the Principality at least a tie for the championship, as Scotland, by winning from England in the big battle at Wembley, April 4, can draw on even terms. Wales has drawn with Scotland and defeated England so far this season while the Scots overcame Ireland and at present the countries are bracketed with three points each. Erin's colors were also lowered by England so the Welshmen's chances are thought to be particularly bright.

For years the Welsh were regarded as among the finest exponents of the rugged code in the world and the youth of the country knew only the oval type of football. Since the turn of the century association football has spread rapidly however, and the game now boasts thousands of adherents and many professional clubs.
It was not until 1907 that Wales won its first international championship and 13 years elapsed before the feat was duplicated. Further honors were won in 1924, 1928, 1933 and 1934.

Scouts for English and Scottish clubs have found their activities in Wales and Ireland very profitable and the exodus of promising players has handicapped these countries in putting strong teams in the field for international tussles. When all such matches were played on Saturdays officials of English clubs were reluctant to weaken teams for league fixtures by allowing their Welsh and Irish stars to represent the land of their birth.

Frequently Welsh selectors have been able to select representative teams only a few days before games were scheduled to be played and this has led to some matches, in which either Wales or Ireland are one of the participants, being set for midweek.
When the "Taffies" met Scotland Oct. 5 the difficulties under which their selectors worked was shown by the fact that several players on English clubs decided to play for their own teams for league points rather than accept international caps. In this case the Welsh eleven was completed two days before the match.

Among the players eligible to play in the Wales-Ireland encounter are several players counted among the cleverest in old country soccer today.
Peter Doherty, Manchester City's inside right, will prove a tower of strength in the Irish vanguard. He was recently transferred to the Maine Road outfit from Blackpool at a fee of about $50,000. J. Bambrick, Chee's stalwart centre-forward, A. Stevenson, Everton inside left, and Doherty's inside team up as a formidable inside trio.
The Welsh team will probably include two Aston Villa stars for whom the Birmingham team paid $75,000. The Villans forstared Arsenal in signing C. Phillips, Wolverhampton Wanderers outside left for $45,000. This sum was $15,000 more than the Gunners were prepared to pay. Tom Griffiths, famous halfback, went to Aston from Middlesbrough a few months ago at a cost of $30,000.

When Barney Worth arrived here recently, he was hoisted from the ship in a sling, elephant-wise. As a matter of fact that is the only way Barney dare land.
Reason for this unorthodox landing is that his employers can't afford to take any chances on the 24-year-old, 686-pound youth stumbling down the gangplank. Barney is a major attraction in a carnival and believed to be the fattest man in the world. He is an Irishman.
Travelling with the outfit at Napier, New Zealand, in 1931, Barney was thrown from a bus and spent 72 weeks in hospital. His arm was too big for splints or plaster. Bone-pulling and riveting failed time after time. The bone hasn't knitted yet and his arm still wobbles about.
Year by year he has watched his weight increase without halt. Indulging in reminiscences "The fat man" begins: "When I was 20, I was only 450 pounds, then of course..."
His fat has been his bread and butter for years. When interviewed here prior to a performance at Rogge Bay, he said he did not envy the ordinary man. "You see," he explained, "I have never been thin and I don't know what it would be like. I don't know what I may be missing."

Unlike other members of the troupe, this elephantine man has to stay indoors. Sight of him in the streets might detract from the box office. Two inches short of six feet in height, he measures six feet, six inches around.
"The fat joker," as he is called, was born in County Cork. His parents were normal people, his father weighing 166 pounds and his mother 112.
In 1932 Barney tipped the scales

at 450. He has added 236 pounds and doesn't care how much he puts on in the future
