LEWIS McLAREN's son of Brudenell had three single stalks of black oats in Montague on Friday, taken from a large field. The number of grains on each one was—230, 190, 182. Total grains on three stalks 522. A very profitable yield.

WHAT IS A BLENDED FLOUR? Cooking schools and cooking experts have never grown so enthusiastic over any other flour as they have over blended flour. And the enthusiasm is well merited.

What is a blended flour you ask? It is a blend, adopted for some time by most millers, consisting of Ontario fall wheat (which is so soft in the autumn and ripens in the late summer), and Manitoba spring wheat (sown in the spring and harvested in the fall). The firsts unbleached and given a rich consistency and fine flavor by remaining all winter in the ground, maturing slowly during the summer months. Up to the North-west they have several hours more sunshine every day in the summer than comes to most southern fields, and wheat matures quickly into its finest grain, containing a large percentage of gluten. These two wheats, when blended scientifically in just the right proportion, make the most nutritious, finely flavored and successful flour that can be obtained.

Blended Flour is unreservedly recommended by those learned in culinary mysteries for both bread and pastry.

There is no doubt that the Blended flour is the perfect flour.

Persons sending advertising matter to The Guardian are requested to state whether same is to appear among Classified ads, Business locals, Announcements or among regular display advertisements. When no such information is furnished the management will not be held responsible if ad does not appear here desired.
