The members of the Executive Committee of The P. E. Island Tourist Association are requested to meet in the Stipendiary's Court Room this evening at 8 o'clock.

The three Island students, Miss McCannell, A. F. Matthews, and Miss Alice Fife, leave Monday for Guelph where they will take the short course in Nature Studies.

In Saturday's issue The Guardian will begin the publication of a most interesting story "Love For an Hour Is Love Forever", by Amelia E. Barr, Author of "Friend Olivia", "Beards of Tasmania" &c. All persons interested in a good story should not miss this one.

A HANDSOME new racing and cruising yacht is being built by M. Stevens, Tancred Island, N. S. for George J. Rogers. She will be ready the first of May. The builder has also constructed boat for T. B. Grady, Summerside, James Tuplin, Kensington and other Island people.

The death took place on Tuesday of Mrs. Peter Campbell, Cardigan at the advanced age of one hundred years. She was in good health up to the day of her death and took her breakfast as usual but expired before noon. The family consisted of three daughters and two sons, the latter Duncan and Daniel surviving.

The Amherst News speaking on hockey says:—The Abegweit came from Charlottetown, played two games here, were defeated and returned home and the Charlottetown papers report that they were delighted with the treatment that they received from the Ramblers.

A LARGE number of the members of Triumph Division, North Wiltshire paid a fraternal visit to Refuge Division, at Fredericton, on the evening of 23rd inst. A very interesting meeting was held and an excellent program rendered by the visiting members. It is the intention of the members of Refuge Division to pay a return visit as soon as practicable.

The attention of the City authorities is directed to the condition of the Park Roadway which, during the winter, has been made the dumping ground for snow and refuse taken from many yards. Among the curiosities seen along the roadway are dead dogs, dead cats and even a pig that met an untimely end adorns the bank. Such a condition of affairs is disgraceful.

MANY citizens are in active sympathy with the splendid social work carried on the world over by the Salvation Army. The lecture tonight by Mr. Hawley on "The Hadleigh Farm Colony, which is the practical outcome of the "Darkest England" scheme, is intended to convey valuable information thereon, the speaker having had the privilege recently of a personal visit to this now famous farm and village which is proving such a success in the reformation of London's submerged. The public is welcome.

The music-lovers of Nova Scotia look for a veritable feast May 15th, 16th and 17th, the occasion of the first large festival in their history. One can hardly over-estimate the exquisite pleasure to be derived through listening to such an orchestra as the Boston Festival Symphony Orchestra, with its fifty trained musicians under such a brilliant conductor as Emil Mollenhauer. It is complete in every detail, making it possible to perform every kind of large work requiring such instruments as Harps, English Horn, etc., and for the performance of Sullivan's cantata "The Golden Legend," the orchestra is provided with a beautiful chime of bells, which the full orchestration demands.

There passed away to her eternal rest at French River on Friday, March 24th, Mary J. McLeod in the 65th year of her age, daughter of the late Donald McLeod, elder. Miss McLeod was of more than ordinary personality and will be missed in the community and congregation of New London, where she was ever a devout member. The cause of Christ had no truer friend than she. Although laid aside for many months by a lingering and painful affliction, she necessitated much care and attention, she was never heard to complain, ever anxious for the welfare of others her patient spirit acted as a benediction and will long be remembered. The service was conducted by Rev. A. D. Sterling who chose for the text, Philippians 1st and 2nd verses. Miss McLeod leaves to mourn one sister and four brothers, Miss Barta and J. D. McLeod at home Ben in Alberta, Dan and Andrew in the United States.

It is with deep regret The Guardian records the death of William Glen Gillis, which sad event occurred at his home North Rustico on Saturday, March 25th 1905. All that medical skill and kind nursing could do was done, but to no avail. By his sterling qualities and upright character he had won the esteem and respect of the entire community. He died trusting in the merits of a once crucified but now exalted Redeemer. Deceased was 32 years of age, a dutiful son and affectionate brother, and leaves to mourn an aged father, four sisters and two brothers, who have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement. The sisters are Mrs. James Cousins and Mrs. Martin J. Walsh, Boston, Mrs. Peter Matthews, Charlottetown and Miss Rachel at home the brothers are James of North Rustico and Hugh of Boston.

The case of Jardine vs Wood in the Court of Chancery was adjourned yesterday till May 18th owing to the bad roads which prevented witnesses attending Court. Mr. Jardine claims that he purchased a piece of land from Wood for which he was to pay $100. The sum of $50 was paid down and the deed was left in the hands of Judge McDonald who was then at the bar, to hold as an estro until the balance was paid. This was ten years ago. Jardine claims that he and Wood settled their accounts and that Wood admitted a balance of $50 due him which was to be taken as balance due on the land. This is denied by Wood who contends that the balance was not paid and five years ago he entered and took possession of the land. Judge McDonald has been made a party to this suit and will hold the deed subject to the direction of the Court. Haszard K. C. for plaintiff and Stewart K. C. for defendant.

On Tuesday evening the city druggists met at Ellis' Drug Store and presented Charles Y. Hughes of the Apothecaries Hall who leaves with Mrs. Hughes for the Northwest tonight with a gold chain and locket suitably engraved and the following address:—

DEAR SIR.—Your fellow druggists take this occasion, on the eve of your departure to the Great Canadian Northwest, of expressing to you in a few words their regret at bidding you good-bye. During the time you have been connected with the Apothecaries Hall our associations with you have been the pleasantest. Courteous and obliging, we have always found you a prince of good fellows. Your service in the goal in the recent hockey match will be cherished as a pleasant remembrance of you.

In presenting to you this small token of our esteem we ask you to accept it with the warmest feelings of friendship on the part of the donors.

To Mrs. Hughes we wish to be kindly remembered, and that you both may long be spared to enjoy life and prosperity in your new home.

On behalf of the Druggists.

H. A. Ellis,

E. A. Foster.

The employees of the Rogers Hardware Co. have presented Jas. H. Turner with a beautiful fountain pen on resigning his position with that firm. Mr. Turner appreciated this gift, accompanied with the best wishes of future success, very much as an expression of the good will existing with his fellow employees. Mr. Turner intends departing for the North West in the near future.

Owing to the constantly increasing cost of barrels it has been decided by the Dominion Bonded Vinegar Manufacturers throughout Canada to charge for packages in the Lower Provinces on and after Monday, 27th March. Packages have always been charged for in the Upper Provinces. The price charged will be marked on all packages and allowed when returned to the factories.

Among the mysteries of Canadian trade to which a wholesale merchant called the attention of The Sun on Saturday, was the price of pure lard. The price has risen until it is now $1.15 cents. There has been no such increase in the United States here. Imported lard is offered here at 7 5/8 cents plus the duty of two cents. So an advance of another half cent would admit the foreign article duty paid at the local price. It has been studying the case in the hope of finding some reason for the present high price of lard but it is too much for
