PROMOTED.—Amongst the Canadian Militia promotions gazetted last Saturday was that of Lieut. J. W. Stanley of the P. E. I. Heavy Brigade C. A., who has been raised to the rank of Captain, dating as from 1st February last.

THE PAPAL DELEGATE.—His Excellency Archbishop Stagni yesterday visited St. Joseph's Convent school. At a fitting reception he was presented with bouquets by the pupils. He was the guest of honour at dinner in the Convent, which was served by the ladies of St. Joseph's. In the afternoon, accompanied by his Secretary, Rev. Mgr. Sinnott, and His Lordship Bishop O'Leary, His Excellency left by train for Souris, where another warm welcome awaited him. From there he sailed last night to the Magdalen Islands. He is expected to return to Charlottetown on Friday.

VISITING CLERGY.—Rev. Dr. Roche, assistant Editor of the Catholic Register and Canadian Church Extension, who recently returned from a tour of the world, arrived in Charlottetown, on Friday evening. He supplied at Iona on Sunday last, in the absence of the pastor, Father M. J. Smith, who was present at the ordination at Kelly's Cross. In the evening Rev. Dr. Roche gave an excellent lecture in Iona, on "The Church in Mission Lands." At Kirkcubbin on Sunday Father O'Brien, brother of Bishop O'Brien, Peterborough, Ont., celebrated Mass, the pastor, Rev. John J. McDonald, being at the ordination at Kelly's Cross.

AN AGREEABLE SURPRISE.—Rev. Dr. Fullerton was pleasantly surprised on entering his vestry on Saturday last, to find that the young ladies of the Guild had, during his absence in Woodstock, Ont., splendidly refurbished his vestry in a very complete manner. A handsome appointed desk, fully provided with the church stationery, and with a beautifully upholstered chair, two other chairs, new toilet set, new carpet square and a mirrored mahogany wardrobe give evidence of the thoroughness with which the young ladies carried out their self-appointed duty and, of course, made their thoughtfulness all the more praiseworthy. This furnishes but another instance of the cordial relations existing at St. James' between pastor and people. The generosity and kindness that prompted this action of the young ladies of course have earned the Doctor's highest appreciation and unstinted gratitude.

The following letter has been received by Mrs. Muttart, mother of Ensign Muttart, who was thought to have perished on steamer Enigma, this letter being written in London on June 1st.

My Dear Mother:—I am just writing you a few lines to let you know that I am well and am enjoying myself very well.

We have been out taking in some of the sights. Well, mother I have seen some strange sights, and sights and funny sights. Oh to see the way the women drink, it is fearful. Our Congress does not begin till the 11th so we have quite a time yet. My heart has been saddened very much indeed, when I think of the great loss we have sustained in losing dear Commander and the other dear officers of whom I thought so much, especially "Creighton", you know him, it hardly seems possible that they are gone. Now I shall not write much as I hope to see you sometime if the Lord spares me till after the Congress. We are hooked to leave here the 1st of July.

WILD FOXES.—There was great excitement at Dundas on Saturday the 23rd inst. on the finding by some children of a black fox and her pups in a clump of woods near Dr. Morris' home. The Dr. and some other parties had such faith in the children's story that they formed a company at once and repaired to the bush in order to secure the foxes but no foxes could they find. After holding a council it was decided to phone to Montague for foxmen and their hounds to come at once, and come they did; five foxmen with three teams and two hounds. They came at such a furious rate that they broke all records of travel between Montague and Dundas. After making inquiry regarding the possibility of foxes being seen elsewhere besides children, had just called to remembrance (especially one person) of seeing a black fox a few days previous minus a tail fleeing through the brush. Well the hounds were put to scent, but no fox scent could they find. It is a pity that black rabbit fur is of such little value, otherwise their friends might have taken home with them enough black rabbits to start a ranch.—Com.

Fitting tributes were paid last night by his brother members of the League of the Cross and the Pastime Club to the popularity of Mr. William Morgan, who leaves on Monday next for Springfield, Mass., to assume a position in that town. This tribute took the form of the presentation of appropriate addresses and several handsome and worthy souvenirs. The presentation was made in the League of the Cross Hall where there was a large gathering of members for the occasion. The address from the League of the Cross was read by Mr. Ambrose Joy, Secretary; that from the Pastime Club, by the President, Mr. Ernest Trainor, and one from the basketball team of that club read by the Captain, Mr. A. Hennessey. Several laudatory speeches were made, among them one by Rev. Father Pius McDonald, Spiritual Director of the League of the Cross. Mr. Morgan handsomely acknowledged the favours bestowed on him and the subsequent proceedings were given over to the carrying out of a delightful program of musical entertainment, which was much enjoyed by all. "Auld Lang Syne" and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," sung with much gusto and telling effect, concluded a fitting termination to the event.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS.—The Road Machine is doing good work, especially in North Rustico, where it is operating under Mr. Stanislaus Polron.—11.

A PLEASANT VISIT.—Mr. M. C. Baker formerly of Summerside, was a passenger on the Western train last evening en route to his home in Springfield, Mo. He had been spending a brief vacation in Lunenburg with his relatives. When visiting the Island last fall he joined Mr. Frank Boyer in the purchase of a pair of silver foxes and they built a ranch at Lunenburg known as the Boyer Fox Ranch. He had the pleasure of seeing five black beauty pups from this pair. Mr. Baker is engaged in the wholesale drygoods business in Missouri and his associates are anxious to join him in his investment with Mr. Boyer. He will return in the fall with at least one of these men who can examine for himself this wonderful money-making business. He suggests that the ban on automobiles be lifted during Confederation week so that foreigners can bring their cars and see the Island's ranches and scenery.

$275,000 FOR N.F.L.D. RELIEF.—The fund for the relief of sufferers by the scaling disaster last March closed in St. John's Nfld., yesterday. A total of $275,000 was raised. The newspapers in Newfoundland express grateful appreciation of the generosity of the outside world, from which nearly half the subscription was received.

SCHOOL GARDENS.—Thursday morning F. F. Smith gave a talk on the school garden movement in other countries. The Italian City Republics maintained botanical gardens several centuries ago, the earliest being in existence in 1525. There were undoubtedly, for the University students, rather than as a part of the Elementary Educational System. The great Educators, Rousseau, Pestalozzi, Froebel, all advocated school gardens, showing that in this as in other respects they were in advance of the age in which they lived. Austria, in 1860 passed a law that school gardens and a place for experiments in agriculture should be established when practicable in every rural school. In 1898, there were over 18,000 of these school gardens, and in the Province of Styria there was one in every school. Sweden established school gardens in 1869. There should be from 70 to 150 square rods in area. The gardens proved a great success. Switzerland had had the system for about 30 years. In Belgium every school must have a garden of about 40 square rods. The government gives prizes for those who do best work. In France no country school can have its plans approved unless provision is made for a school garden. Agriculture is taught in the elementary schools. Even Russia, with forbidding climate, and with many difficulties to contend with, has a well developed system of school gardens. Ontario has considerable development of the movement and the system has many admirable features. The Inspectors took much interest in discussing the feasibility of school gardens in this Province.

Try Triscuit To-day

Food science has taught us that there is much body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain which we do not get in white flour. The only question is how to make the whole wheat grain digestible. That problem has been solved in the making of

TRISCUIT

The Shredded Whole Wheat Wafer

It is the whole wheat, steam-cooked, shredded, compressed into a wafer and baked—the maximum of nutriment in smallest bulk. Many people prefer it to ordinary bread toast. Heated in the oven to restore its crispness, it is delicious for luncheon, or for any meal, with butter, potted cheese or marmalades.

A BAKING SUCCESS WHICH YOU CAN DUPLICATE IN YOUR HOME

BEAVER FLOUR

George Weston, the baker, made Toronto blended flour city.

When Manitoba wheat flour first appeared, it became popular because it made a big loaf. But the bread was heavy, coarse, full of holes and not especially tasty.

George Weston thought there were enough people in Toronto who would appreciate the difference between quality and quantity—and he determined to bake a real, old-time, home-made loaf, using blended flour.

At that time, Weston was running only two ovens. In a week, he had to start new ovens, and it was not long before he was selling FIFTY THOUSAND LOAVES A WEEK.

Today, 75% of the bread baked in Toronto is made of blended flour.

There is no doubt in the world but that "BEAVER" FLOUR is better in every way than any western wheat flour.

"BEAVER" FLOUR, milled of Ontario wheat and a little Manitoba wheat to add strength—makes a deliciously light, tasty loaf of bread—makes a big loaf—and makes more loaves to the barrel. "BEAVER" FLOUR is equally good for pastry, because it contains so much of the choicest Ontario fall wheat flour, the finest pastry flour in the world. What George Weston did in Toronto, you can do in your own kitchen with "Beaver" Flour.
