Our old friend George McDonald of Boston, has forwarded us a copy of the Boston Record with a "Believe it or Not" by Ripley. There we recognize with pleasure a very good drawing of Prince Edward Island's aged speed skater, Joseph Arsenault of Wellington. Ripley says: "Joseph Arsenault of Prince Edward Island, aged 93, is a champion speed and fancy skater."

There is also a cartoon of Wiley Post, who in 1928 said—"I would give my right eye to fly a plane of my own." The next day he lost the sight of one eye to an accident and with the insurance money he bought his first plane, resulting in his solo flight around the world.

Peter F. Kelly writing in the Record says: "The Boston Club rosters hope that Eddie Shore, western wheat farmer, will agree to play with the Bruins, but the Boston management says he must accept the terms offered. Without Shore the team will be as a ship without a sail, an automobile without an engine. He is more than half the team end last season held the pole as the most valuable player." If that is true one can understand why Eddie won't take a cut!

Evidently the Boston writer was not talking poppycock when he made the above statement as yesterday's despatches say of the game between Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins Thursday night at Toronto—"After holding valiantly for two periods the weakened Boston defence succumbed completely in the final stanza as the Leafs benefited in five goals, all of them from close range."

Halifax and Moncton are both shouting winner, winner, and the series has not even started. Moncton has a good reason to shout, we suppose, having the prestige of travelling from the Atlantic to the Pacific and coming home with the old M.G. emblematic of the Canadian championship, but we would serve notice on our Moncton friends that things are a bit different this year. There is a new and steady hand at the helm, a man who combines the skill and knowledge of the game with a strong, compelling and pleasing personality, Stan Jackson. He is our pick and the pick of many good judges of the Maritime quartette, Nicklin, Stewart, B. N. Diet and Jacks n.

The touring Winnipeg All Stars who hit here on Wednesday night is without doubt the finest aggregation that has ever left Old Fort Garry. They are said to be even stronger than the Winnipeg Olympics, which won the world's championship at Lake Placid from the All American team after having previously won the Allan Cup. We should see some lively hockey next Wednesday night and there will be no doubt a bumper house.

The Moncton Transcript making comment on Bert Connolly's statement that Manager Patrick of the New York Rangers, world's professional champions, does not believe in gym training for hockey players, says "that the success of Patrick's Rangers seems to be a good argument for his system and yet on the other hand the Moncton Hawks, Allan Cup Champions, were conditioned last winter by means of physical training previous to taking the ice. They were without doubt the best conditioned team in the Maritimes."

We take strong exception to that statement and would admit as our proof the fact that in the game that most severely tried the condition of both Abegweits and Moncton, a game which was not decided until in the final five minutes of the final overtime and which was played on Moncton ice early in February, the Abbies played the Hawks to a standstill. Dud James was falling on the ice from sheer exhaustion, while other Moncton players were almost in a state of collapse. The Abbies scored their two goals in the final overtime period and came through the ordeal bright as lakes.

Our old friend, Dabby Bubar, has led himself off to Moncton. He will be a valuable acquisition to the Hawks roster. Everyone here wishes him the best of luck in his new environment.

Coach R. D. Stewart and Manager Jack Conn were in Moncton last night watching the game between the Moncton Hawks and Winnipeg. Continued on page 9

HAWKS AND ALL-STARS EXPECT GOOD BATTLE TO DRAW

Allan Cup Holders Stage Rally To Break Even With Winnipeg Aggregation.

(Canadian Press)
MONCTON, Nov. 10.—The Moncton Hawks and Winnipeg Allstars battled to a two-all draw in an exhibition game which opened the hockey season here tonight. The teams did not play overtime.

A typical Hawk finish saved the Allan Cup champions from a defeat. The westerners who played clever hockey all the way, caught the champions short handed early in the third period while Gill and Burrage, Hawks defencemen were in the penalty box, and rapped in two quick goals in ten seconds.

From then on it was an aroused Hawk team that hammered the Allstars from all angles. About midway through the period Bill Miller raced from his own goal straight to the Winnipeg defence and fired a rifle shot into the corner of the cage. With less than two minutes to go Knucker Irvine poked Dud James' shot between McQuade's feet for the tying counter in a gang attack on the Winnipeg cage.

"Hobb" Wilson, who played defence with the Saskatoon Quakers, Allan Cup finalists, last winter, scored the first goal for the visitors by working a forward passing attack with Walker Monson, ex-Olympic star, and from the subsequent face-off Allstars took Duke Campbell's forward pass to put the Allstars two up. In addition to Gill and Burrage of the Hawks, Norm Malloy was also in the penalty box

EXPECT GOOD YEAR IN JR. HOCKEY

President Fred W. Garagan, Halifax, Predicts Successful Season.

TRURO, N. S., Nov. 10.—(C.P.)—Increased interest in junior hockey was predicted for the coming winter today by Fred W. Garagan of Halifax in his Presidential address before the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Junior Hockey Association.

President Garagan declared the action of the M. P. B. A. A. U. of Canada and the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association in doing away with fees for junior clubs undoubtedly would bring about registration of more clubs this year, and he looked forward to a successful season among the juniors.

The Association chose Garagan President for another term, with the following other officers: Vice President—Art Robinson, Berwick.

Secretary Treasurer—E. F. Lordley, Halifax.

The Executive was named as follows: J. J. Probert, Halifax; Art Robinson, Annapolis Valley; R. M. Ross, Cumberland; J. H. Henderson, Colchester; Rev. Fr. Nearing, Pictou and Antigonish; Judge A. D. Campbell, Cape Breton.

Chief item of business at the meeting was adoption of a new constitution and set of by-laws, drawn up by J. F. McManus, Harry Butler and Jimmie Smith of Halifax.

The Executive was empowered to arrange for the provincial playoff games, after being instructed that Cape Breton's championship team was to enter the finals automatically. This action was taken to eliminate heavy expenses that would be incurred by teams making the long trip to and from the Island.

Stricter enforcement of age regulations was advocated by the Association, and Secretary Probert was instructed to give close scrutiny to birth certificates submitted by prospective junior players.

ABBIES DISPLAY CLASS IN PRACTICE GAME

Hockey enthusiasm, smouldering for the past few weeks, burst into flame last night when a crowd of 3,000 rabid hockey followers wended their way to the Forum to witness the practice tilt between members of this year's squad.

All that goes to make up a real hockey battle was dishied out, keen rivalry existed and several hard checks were handed out during the fray.

Forward passing in the third zone took its bow before local fans last night. The team have adapted themselves to the new ruling in a remarkable manner and several of the goals scored last night were by the forward route.

By the form displayed last night the locals served notice that they are to be highly reckoned with in picking contenders for Allan Cup honors this year.

Coach Jackson has moulded his men into a strong unit and his three forward lines will compare favorably with any in the Maritimes.

The line of Beaton, McArthur and Hudson, ever a thorn in the side of last year's Maritime teams, appeared in form, said trio seeming to have found the old scoring punch.

The new line of Kelly, McGlashen and Nicholson showed plenty of speed as they made sortie after sortie on the McCann citadel.

Gulliver, Kane and Lawlor, relieving the other two lines, also displayed plenty class during the evening, the trio accounting for two of the nine tallies garnered.

The Reds emerged on the long end of a 5-to-4 count in a game chock full of action from start to finish. "Red" Kelly put the Blues in front 4 minutes after the start when he beat McCann from close in. One minute from the end of the period, Beaton took a pass from McArthur to tie it up.

Hudson's unassisted goal at the start of the second gave the Reds the lead, but McGlashen again tied it up a minute later on a pass from

Free State Team Wins Horse Show Honors

(Canadian Press)
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Nov. 10.—The crack riders of Canada's military team to the National Horse Show sent their chargers over the intricate jumping course in faultless fashion to-night for the finest performance of the five-nation international contest. But the mistakes they made Thursday when the second stage of the contest was held denied them final honors.

The Irish Free State team, performing not so well as the Canadians in the final trial, but still showing up admirably with a buck private from the rear ranks cast in the hero role, won the international trophy. The Irish forces made eight faults tonight, but in the two previous nights of the competition only four errors were charged against them.

The heroes who fell in the great World War, We honor their memory today. Let's offer a prayer, which is no more than fair.

For the great price they had to pay, For our brave soldier lads who fell in the fray Who now sleep over there neath the sod. Are the ones who gave up their lives that we live, In defense of our Country and God.

And, there's no better proof of our love than this, That we lay down our life for a friend. For that's what our brave boys have done, over there, That our banner shall wave to the end.

There wasn't a drum, not a funeral note, As our brave lads were laid to their rest. But, to retain the blood stained fields of France

Bell Trophy Won By Woodstock

Upwards of 500 people witnessed the final pull for the A. F. Bell trophy in O'Leary rink on Thursday night.

Knutsford and Woodstock were the competing teams in the finals and after fifteen minutes of strenuous work Woodstock won out and are the proud possessors of the cup for this year.

Dr. Champion presented the cup with a few congratulatory remarks. Knutsford and Woodstock then engaged in an exhibition pull, changing ends of the rink. This was won by Knutsford in 2 minutes, 16 seconds.

Besides the main feature of the evening several teams gave exhibition pulls. The first was Woodstock versus a picked team, won by the latter.

Coleman vs. Knutsford in a sudden death pull won by the latter. Mount Royal (jr.) vs. O'Leary (jr.) won by Mount Royal; Mount Royal and Glenwood, won by Glenwood; Glenwood (jr.) vs. Howland (jr.), won by Howland; Glenwood (jr.) vs. Woodstock (jr.), won by Glenwood.

Woodstock announced that they would challenge any team in Prince County for a pull in O'Leary rink. Knutsford challenged any team of their own weight in Prince County.

Stewardship by Miss McKinnon of Grand River and Hugh McGregor with Mr. Forest Phillips on the violin was an interesting feature of the evening. S.

SHORE ON WAY TO REJOIN BRUINS

Extreme speed was on tap all season. Bertha C. Hanover 2.04 went a quarter in 28 seconds. Vitamine 2.06 1-4 quarter in 28 1-2, Lord Jim 2.05 1-2 quarter in 29, Muscletone 2.03 3-4 quarter in 29 1-4, Sturdy 2.04 3-4. Vitality 2.08 1-2, Tara 2.07 1-4, Pay Mac 2.07, Sly Mac 2.10 1-4, Masie Volo 2.08 1-2 and several others showed their capacity to trot in 30 seconds or better.

The 35th renewal of the classic Hunyadi prize drew an immense crowd to the Vienna Trotting Club races, Vienna, Austria, Oct. 15th. Weather conditions were not favorable. There was a cold wind blowing but the track was in pretty good shape. There were ten starters in the event, including three Austrian Derby winners and others winners of big purse events. It was a handicap affair, being won by Primavera, a four-year-old bay filly by the Austrian sire Baka.

Baka, sire of the winner is a grandson of the American sire Caid 2:07 1-4 and the dam of Primavera is Alara the Great by Peter the Great out of Altara Wilkes.

The Heinrich Scheld for 6000 shillings was the next most interesting contest. It was won by the four-year-old bay colt Caesar, a son of the ex-American sire Gordon Peter. All the other winners were sired by American bred horses.

In the other two events on the program we find sons and daughters of American sires such as Brother Peter 2:06 1-4, D. V. d. Axworthy 2:06 3-4, Gordon Peter, McGregor the Great 2:03 1-4, Adam 2:07, etc.

Reading in the press one would form the opinion that the Austrian capital, Vienna, was the scene of turmoil and strife, but evidently the people take means of enjoying themselves just as they do in the most normal countries.

Earl Pim who has made such a success during the past season racing the champion trotter Van Sa at 2:01 3-4, plans to spend the winter in Italy. The Italians are importing quite a number of trot-

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Among the starters in the five mile trot and pace at Quebec, September 11th, which was won by Angus Peter in 11:54, a new world's record for five miles, was Rose Aubrey, who secured third place in a field of five.

Rose Aubrey was campaigned in Prince Edward Island last season and was 7 2, 2, in the 2.25 trot and pace at the Provincial Exhibition, August 23rd, in the race won by King Frisco in 2:14 1-2, 2:13 3-4, 2:13 1-4.

The Jerald Sulky Company of Waterloo, I. A., are making a special exhibit at the O. G. Glory Sale, N. Y., Nov. 27-30. The Jerald people claim that their new bike sulky with balloon tires is very much faster than the old style bike and is in addition much more comfortable.

Joe McGraw, the celebrated starting judge of the Grand Circuit says he never remembers a single season when as much extreme speed was displayed by two-year-old trotters. At the very first meet at North Randall, Maine, McElwyn 2:08 3-4 and Emily Stokes 2:07 1-2, set everyone talking by an official quarter in 28 3-4 seconds. Several other two-year-olds in the same race were timed in better than thirty seconds.

Another of the Calumets that has made good is Calumet Alice, which set a number of new track records in Maine this year, including her final tab of 2:07 3-4 at Topsham's closing meeting. She is owned by Dr. Stanwood of Rumford, Me.

From advices received from Germany, Holland, Denmark, Italy and France, the invasion of America by foreign buyers of harness horses will be one of the greatest in years and the exports should be heavy. This will be welcome news to those holding the auctions and also the consignors.

We note where one of the feature consignments of the coming Old Glory sale, Nov. 27th will be colts and fillies by Peter Lincoln. These are from the Josedale estates, Indianapolis, Ind. Others of the trio have made good and it is expected there will be a keen demand for the youngsters mentioned above.

Our recollection of the Peter Lincoln's is connected with the name of Miss Peter Lincoln 2:11 1-2, campaigned eight or more years ago at some of the Maritime meetings by Mr. Fred Perkins of the Metropolitan Speedway, Boston, Mass. Several Island horses were at the Saint John meeting that summer and all made friends with the genial Fred. For some reason or other Fred did not win very many events and we remember one day he started in all three classes and when somebody asked him a question he retorted "Leave me alone, this is my busy day. I'm driving three hoeses today." Well McNeil will remember the above remark.

Apogee of the above, anyone who has driven in races will tell you that the general public do not realize the strain they place on a driver's nerves when they keep asking questions on race day. So
