MRS. ALDEN MOASE

Not only her devoted family, but a host of friends, mourn the passing of Mrs. Alden Moase, at her home at New Annan, on Monday, January 17, 1949. She was the former Mabel Paynter, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Paynter, and was sixty-four years of age. Forty-five years ago, she became the wife of Mr. Alden Moase, who is left to mourn the loss of a loving wife.

More than twenty years ago her health began to fail and as the days and months brought varying degrees of sickness and pain, with a serenity only gained by constant trust in and communion with an all-wise Father. Even when tragedy entered the life of a beloved daughter whom she was to follow in a few short weeks, her calm faith never faltered.

She was a life-long Anglican and regularly received communion. She never lost interest in the affairs of the church, even when infirmity forbade her attendance at services. One of the last acts of her life was to become a member of the Women's Auxiliary, assigning her affiliation fee to a tiny church newly erected by a courageous community.

Left to mourn the loss of one who was an inspiration to all who knew her are her devoted husband, four sons and two daughters, fourteen grandchildren, two sisters and many other relatives and friends. Her children are: John, Walter, and Elmer, at New Annan; Ralph, at Keelina Grove; Ruby, Mrs. Harold Mill, at Clermont; and Ella, Mrs. Herbert Proffitt, Springfield. One daughter, Mrs. Alton Bell, Long River, passed away six weeks previously. Her sisters are: Florence, Mrs. William Cousins, Burlington; and Sadie, Mrs. John Johnston, Margate.

The funeral was held on Wednesday from St. Mark's Church, Kensington, after a short service at her late home and was conducted by her minister, the Rev. S. J. Davies. His message was based on the words, "Thou hast also given me the shield of Thy salvation; and Thy gentleness hath made me great." Mrs. Moase and her faith in her God which enabled her to accept weakness, illness and even tragedy without complaint.

The hymns, led by a full choir with Mrs. Davies at the organ, were: O God of Bethel, Lead Kindly Light, and There is No Night in Heaven. Beautiful floral offerings covered the casket. The pallbearers were: Messrs. John Howard Stewart, Moase, Harold

In the absence of the president, the 2nd vice-president, Miss Martina LeClair, presided. Mrs. Ben J. Pitre acted as secretary. The meeting was most interesting with Question Box and other topics.

Mrs. Ben Pitre spoke on the importance of co-operation between parents and teachers in the discipline of boys and girls. The teacher spoke at some length about the manual training class for the boys and urged the trustees to support this movement with a good insight into its beneficial to the growing boy. The class which was organized lately is under the direction of Mr. E. J. Arsenault who is very proficient and qualified to give the most interested, are showing a marked progress in reading, spelling, arithmetic, grammar and social studies as well as a little public speaking.

MR. JOHN T. FOUND

It's own an esteemed citizen of Long River, this time in the person of Mr. John T. Found.

The late Mr. Found passed away after a brief illness on Monday, January 10th, 1949, within a month of his 82nd birthday. He was of a quiet disposition, self-sacrificing, serving community and church to the best of his ability. In the church where he was a solemn worshiper from his place at the hour of worship and where he was ever ready to assist in material ways, he will long be remembered. Visitors to the home will miss his genial friendship and cheerful greeting, but it is in the family circle that he will be most keenly missed. Bereaved of his beloved wife, nee Maria Parsons, many years ago, and left with a family of young children, he raised them with care and affection to worthy manhood and womanhood. Four daughters and one son are left to mourn the loss of a devoted father, they are: Marjory, Mrs. Fred MacEwen, Campbellton, Me at home; Ellen, Mrs. Ralph MacLeod, and Evelyn, Mrs. Frank MacEwen at Kensington, and William at home, also ten grandchildren. The funeral was held on Wednesday from Long River United Church, which was filled to the doors with friends gathered to pay a last tribute of respect. The service was conducted by his pastor, the Rev. G. S. Stevens, who paid a warm tribute to the late Mr. Found as one whose practice of Christianity might well be emulated by others.

A full choir with Mrs. Murdoch MacLeod at the organ led in the singing of the following hymns: There is a Land of Pure Delight, The Lord's My Shepherd, and Abide With Me. Beautiful Isle of Somewhere was sung as a duet by Messrs. Ernest Dunning and Andrew Johnstone, with Mrs. Dunning at the organ. The pallbearers were: Messrs. William Easter, Davis Mitchell, Elmer Parsons, William E. Johnstone, Everett Paynter and Horace Thompson. Burial was in the Geddie Memorial Cemetery.—Bur.

The work of Bobby Gay on defence continues to convince us, (as it did last year), that Bob has a bright future behind the blue-line. The other rearguardmen did all right, but it was Bobby who did the most damage between the pipes, and Jack Bernard is a fast skating, hard-working kid who should add a lot of strength to the forward line. Enzor Oatway also played a hustling game.

The Kensington trio who are now playing with the Sheen & McInnis outfit all gave good accounts of themselves on the very first night. Charlie Rogers turned in a sparkling game between the pipes, and Jack Bernard is a fast skating, hard-working kid who should add a lot of strength to the forward line. Enzor Oatway also played a hustling game.

From Prince County

The Nova Scotia bowling statisticians who mention the 372 angle of Marion Gay of Truro as being the best score for the Maritimes among ladies could have heard of Mrs. Nettie Stewart's score of 437 made at the Capitol Bowling Alley in the winter of 1947. We were bowling on the next alley when Mrs. Stewart made her record score, and you can vouch for its value. Mrs. Stewart is a former Summerside girl, but now resides in Sydney, N.S.

Alan Stewart, son of D.O. Stewart of Summerside, is still winning laurels in aquatic sports. In a swimming meet between Halifax and Acadia University held quite recently, Alan won the 60 and 100 yards dashes (backward stroke).

By the time this who reverts to the Summerside Juvies will have played their first game of the season, weather permitting. The local squad appears to be pretty strong this year. Herb Schurman has his son, Layton, and his wife, Josephine, and Paul Schurman, at a first string line. Others who will probably make the team are Bill Stewart, Norman Deighan, Jackie Bernard, Enzor Oatway, another youngster by the name of Oatway from Borden, Frank's brother, nee he, Charles, "Uik" Rogers, and Ed McInnis. There are some other boys who played with last year's juveniles, but we haven't heard whether they are still eligible to play or not.

The Summerside Curling Club has kindly consented to let the High School boys curl in their new rink free of charge, and for at the school is busy organizing the boys who would like to become devotees of "the besom and stane" pastime.

The Summerside High School basketball team defeated the Miramichi team of the K.C.A.F. court last Saturday by the score of 43 to 25.

We have heard that the R.C. A.F. hockey team and the Junior Legionaires of Summerside, both of whom are members of the St. Lawrence League this year, playing their home games in the airmen's rink at New Glasgow High School a few years ago and is now entering the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to study for his Ph.D. degree. The new director is a special agent in charge of the St. Lawrence League. When fishermen become lost they can be tracked by the "Mother-Ship" which can then give a rescue party direct to the fishermen. Mr. E. B. Ellis of O'Leary is an uncle of the young inventor.

The juvenile hockey teams from Charlottetown and Summerside have had their first trial of strength with good success. The Prince County boys. Nobody could doubt their superiority on the night's play, though it was perhaps not quite so pronounced as the 8 to 3 score would seem to indicate. The 14-year-old youngsters in the visitors' case were game as they come, but certainly did not put up the kind of game that Burke would have done had he not suffered the unfortunate accident which cost him an eye some weeks ago. There are other circumstances that keep us from going out on a limb and calling the Sheen & McInnis sextet the coming Island champions. We may feel like making this prediction a little later on, but not yet.

The ice was sticky for one thing, and it prevented both teams from showing their very best wares. At that, our boys look a shade lighter and might be expected to play a better game on such a surface, but we'll have to see the teams on better ice before we'll give an opinion as to their respective merits. Again, a large percentage of the goal were scored with good shots, but both teams a man or two short, and when the boys learn to control their impulses to push their opponents around, there will be less penalties, we hope.

There are many encouraging features about the new Summerside sextet, however, and we wouldn't be exactly thunderstruck if they travelled a long way along the play-off trail that will begin in the spring. Layton Schurman is the same old opportunist of other years, and that he will score a flock of goals this season goes without saying. The other youngsters haven't struck their stride as yet, but judging from their last season's play, they should be pretty valuable bric-a-brac to have on a team which aspires to championships. Bill Stewart looked better than ever, and Roy "Chick" Gallant's surprising improvement makes it look as if the wise boys who said he would never fill his father's brogans may be sadly mistaken. A good shot, a burst of speed, drive, but still considerably above average), and he has developed a lot of cunning around an enemy goal crease.

The Kensington trio who are now playing with the Sheen & McInnis outfit all gave good accounts of themselves on the very first night. Charlie Rogers turned in a sparkling game between the pipes, and Jack Bernard is a fast skating, hard-working kid who should add a lot of strength to the forward line. Enzor Oatway also played a hustling game.
