A large congregation at the morning service yesterday heard the farewell message of Rev. A. C. Vincent, D. D., who on this occasion closed a ministry of nearly six and a half years with the Charlottetown Baptist Church. After making brief and feeling reference to the kindly relations that have obtained throughout his ministerial term between himself and his people, the steadfast, loyal support that he had received from all organizations and the Church as a whole, to the regrets of himself and family in breaking this rich co-operation in Christian service, and to his wishes and hopes for continued progress under his successor, the sermon of the day was delivered. Taking as his subject "Facing the future with courage," based on the opening words of the twenty-third Psalm: "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want," the deep value and vital necessity of confidence in the presence, care, leadership of God was emphasized. Not only is God to be regarded as a Shepherd, let each in the words of the Psalmist express conviction that the Lord is MY shepherd. With this confidence we shall not want, we shall not want for protection, nor for restoration, for leadership, we shall not want eternal home.

A destructive fire, which broke out in the home of Mr. Wes. E. Wood, Hazelbrook, at about half past one on Saturday afternoon, destroyed completely a valuable house and a large amount of the household effects. The greater part of the furniture and fixtures were removed in time, from the ground floor but nothing could be salvaged from either the upstairs or the basement. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective chimney.

Mrs. Wood, who has been an invalid for some years, was removed to a neighbor's house at the outlet of the fire, and her aged mother who was living with them, managed to reach a point of safety in a field nearby.

A great deal of valuable furniture, was damaged and destroyed. The house had been recently remodelled and fitted with an up-to-date heating and plumbing system.

Mr. Wood stated that the loss would be in the vicinity of five thousand dollars, partly covered by insurance. The slight breeze at first fanning the flames directly on the other buildings, which were quite near the house, seemed to shift just in time to save the barns and root-house.

Members of the household working outside after dinner did not happen to enter the house again until about four o'clock, when she was found lying where she had fallen, and unable to speak. Everything that love and skill could do failed to restore her, and at eleven o'clock that night the end came. Verily, "we know not what the day may bring forth." Mrs. Casford, whose maiden name was Louise Stevenson, was a daughter of the late Robert Stevenson of Wheatley River, and his wife Elizabeth Waye.
