CURED OF CANCER CLAIM OF WOMAN

Swallowing Disappeared After Attending Bosworth Meetings, She States

...TORONTO, May 13.—Considerable interest has been aroused among those who are attending the faith healing services of Rev.
P. F. Bosworth at Massey Hall, by the claim of Mrs. E. Killick, of 28 Bank Street, that she has been cured of cancer. Mrs. Killick underwent an operation for cancer in the leg a year ago last January, since which time she states she has suffered terrible pain and had been unable to walk properly.
Three weeks ago she attended the meetings and prayed for healing.
Since that time she states she has had no more pain, and her large swellings have disappeared, and her general health has been better than for the past 25 years.
Dr. W. A. Burr, of Roncesvalles Ave., who attended the case, stated last night that Mrs. Killick had been cured of cancer by her last operation and that there had been no sign of a return of the disease.
He had examined the patient last Saturday, he stated, and had noted that the swelling which had been present seemed to have disappeared.

SPROUTING AND PLANTING PO-TATOES FOR EARLINESS AND YIELD

(Experimental Farm notes)

When the margin of profit in potato growing is narrowing as it was in some places during the past year, it is important to adopt any method which will increase the profits, and the sprouting of potatoes before planting, particularly where it is intended to dig potatoes for an early market, should be much more general in Canada than it has been.

In 1920, Irish Cobbler potatoes yielded at the rate of 413 bushels per acre while those which had been sprouted yielded 506 per acre, a difference of 83 bushels. In this case potatoes were laid out for sprouting on April 21st and allowed six weeks for sprouting.
Not only is the yield greater when potatoes are sprouted, but the crop reaches a marketable size earlier in the season. The sooner early potatoes are marketable the more money will be made out of them as a rule.

To "sprout" potatoes, medium sized tubers are selected before they have sprouted to any extent in the cellar, and are either placed in shallow boxes or trays, preferably with the seed end up, or spread shallow on the floor of a room where there is bright light.
Either method will give almost equally good results. At first the temperature should be cool enough to prevent sprouting. The skin will soon turn green and become rather tough. The temperature is now raised enough for the tubers to sprout, and when treated as described two or three strong sprouts will develop from the seed end, the other eyes remaining dormant.
Growth will thus be concentrated in these few shoots and, as a rule, there will be a larger proportion of marketable potatoes where there are a few good shoots than where there are many. If the potatoes are given plenty of light and are fairly cool, the sprouts will be very sturdy and strongly attached to the tuber, will be green in colour, and will not be broken off in handling unless very carelessly used. Thus given a start before planting they will usually come along rapidly and tubers will develop more quickly from sprouts which have grown slowly in a bright, cool place than from sprouts which have grown in a dark place, the latter moreover usually breaking off at the time of planting. Sprouts about an inch or two inches in length at the time of planting.

The warmest and best drained soil that is available should be used for extra early potatoes, and the sets should be planted shallower than for the main crop so that they will get the advantage of the heat from the surface soil.
In Great Britain the potatoes are planted whole when sprouted, growth being more vigorous when this method is followed, but this is not necessary in order to get an increase in yield. It has been found that, taking one year with another, the earlier potatoes are planted in most places in Canada after the ground is dry enough to work and danger of very severe frosts are over the danger the crop will be.

The following is given as a general rule of guidance for planting potatoes in Canada for highest yields. Where the spring is early and autumn frosts early, plant early; where the spring is late and autumn frosts late, early planting is not so important; where the spring is late and autumn frosts are early plant as soon as soil is dry enough.

The New Laws on teeth cleaning—five of them

Dental science has adopted new laws on teeth cleaning. They mean whiter, cleaner, safer teeth to those who follow them.
Millions employ these new methods, largely by dental advice. Now this ten-day test is offered to show every home the results.
1—Fight the film
The first law is to fight film—that viscous coat you feel. It dims the teeth and causes most tooth troubles.
Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Old ways of brushing do not end it. So few have escaped some form of film attack.
Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.
Millions of germs breed in it.
They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.
Thus Pepsodent fights two deposits—film and starch—which may do great harm to teeth. Also the destroying acids, and in Nature's way.
These mean vast improvements on old methods. In fact, old methods brought the opposite effects. Pepsodent has introduced a new era in teeth cleaning, and millions now enjoy it.
Now we urge that you send for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film.
See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Feel the other good effects.
Then decide by what you see and feel. Do this for your own sake. Cut out the coupon now.
