A GROWING INDUSTRY

Less than six years ago, Stanfield's Limited, one of the most prosperous manufacturing industries of this Province, indeed of the Dominion, was organized on its present basis. This fact is called to mind by the announcement, to be found in today's paper of the re-organization and capitalization of a similar industry, "Hewson Pure Wool Textiles, Limited," and the offering of $100,000 of the company's securities.

HARVARD PRIZE PLAY

For the second week of the New Year at B. F. Keith's, there is promised one of the strongest all-star vaudeville bills ever seen in Boston. One big novelty and three headliners of international reputation will appear, William Rock, Maude Fulton, Clarice Vance, and the Harvard prize play. The last named is a one-act comedy written by Miss Florence J. Lewis of the famous school of dramatic art at Radcliff, and is entitled "That Case of the Jones." It is of exceptional interest to Bostonians from the fact that Ann Crewe, last seen here in "Over Night," will have the leading role, and she will be supported by a splendid company. William Rock & Maude Fulton unquestionably the greatest eccentric dancing team in the world, will present their big musical review, which has been creating a genuine furore in New York for the past month. This requires the services of a company of twenty, including a French orchestra of five pieces and a beautiful stage set. Another famous star to appear will be Clarice Vance, the "Southern Singer," who is beyond the question of a doubt the cleverest singer of plantation melodies on the American stage. She comes with a brand new repertoire of songs, most of which were written especially for her by Moss Gumble, other big talents will be Frank Stafford & Co. in A Hunter's Game, which introduces a handsome Irish setter; Arthur Dunn and Marian Murray, singers and dancers; Warren and Keefe, two original fun makers; Germinal the modern Hercules, and others yet to be announced.

WEDDING BELLS.

The following further additional particulars of Miss Murray's marriage will be of interest:—An event of particular interest to the people of New London took place in St. John's Presbyterian Church on the evening of December 27th, when Miss Lena Bessie Murray, only daughter of the Pastor, Rev. John Murray, and a graduate of the Ladies' College, Halifax, was united in marriage to the Rev. Albert M. MacLeod, B. A. of Dalhousie '01, now minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Hyde Park, Boston. The church was beautiful for the occasion with fitting decorations. The bride looked charming dressed in a tailored suit of dark blue broadcloth with hat to match and wore an elegant ostrich boa. At 5 o'clock the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, and carrying a large shower bouquet of bridal roses and maiden hair fern, tied with white satin streamers, entered the church to the sweet strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. Here Comes the Bride, played by Mrs. (Rev.) G. Sutherland of Kensington. The ceremony was performed with due solemnity by the bride's father, assisted by Rev. Mr. Sutherland, while the contracting parties stood under a beautiful evergreen arch, from which hung a most artistic wedding bell. The ceremony performed, followed by the officiating clergymen and the four ushers, they marched down the aisle to the swelling notes of the dismissal march. After luncheon at the Mansie, the happy couple departed amid showers of rice and ringing of bells. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents, the groom's gift being an elegant silver mounted manicure set accompanied by a substantial cheque, while the bride's father presented her with a valuable German clock in solid executive the New Year celebrations of the foreign representatives. He declared that he and the other members of the Corps felt certain that France would continue to be a powerful aid in every work having in view the progress of civilization. He added that this permitted the hope that the generous initiative of the President of the United States in favor of the extension of arbitration to international questions would be productive of larger results during the coming year. "The countries we represent," continued Sir Francis, "know that they are sure to find in France a powerful auxiliary with which to obtain these results." Responding, President Fallieres assured the Diplomats that France would labor always in behalf of progress. France, he said, already could with modesty, claim her part in the initiatives that have been taken on land from which civilization is reaping benefits. "Like you, Mr. Ambassador," the President continued, "we congratulate ourselves that we have seen during the past year the President of the United States give his precious adhesion to the principle of arbitration. It may be repeated that the application of this principle will determine for men and things, a decisive method for the pacific solution of international differences."

most part the district camps will be at some central point within each county, possibly the county town, though details have still to be worked out and the size and location of camps will vary, according to varying requirements. The cadets will be furnished with accommodation and with complete camp equipment. A serviceable but inexpensive uniform will be given to each cadet.

The age of the boy eligible for attendance at the camps will be from ten to eleven years to sixteen or seventeen. Boy scout work, which is now becoming of world-wide popularity, will of course be one of the features of the work this summer. Hon. Mr. Hughes is a firm believer in the value of military training for every boy in the country as fitting him not only for service, if ever required, but also as making him a better citizen in every way, disciplined, alert, upstanding and patriotic.

It is expected that the scheme above outlined will be given an immense impetus to the cadet movement throughout the dominion. Later on it will be followed by training in rifle shooting and in a more practical and thorough organization of the whole uniting actual efficiency in the field under conditions of actual service, militia service with a view to pro-
