and see this paper's Typesetting All who call can see The Guardian's machines making new type for each issue. Scores of people have seen them in operation since they were installed in January last, and the Guardian being the first Provincial paper to set all of its reading matter by the Monoline. Full particulars of these machines will appear in later issues.

THE KING'S COUNTY GUARDIAN

Offices in Montague, Capt. W. A. Jonstone, Manager; and in Souris, Morley S. Acorn, Manager.

...Rev. F. A. Wightman, of Montague, who has been attending the Laymen's Missionary Conference in St. John, returned yesterday.

...Dr. McPhail, Mt. Stewart, will lecture on Scotland in Morell Hall next Monday evening September 28th. Tickets 28 cents. Proceeds for West St. Peter's Church property.

...A meeting in the interest of Moral and Social reform will be held in McKinnon's Hall, Montague, next Thursday at two o'clock. All who are interested in a pure election are urgently requested to attend.

...A meeting of the residents of Murray Harbor North, Peter's Road, Cambridge and adjoining districts, was held at Cambridge Hall on the 18th inst. to urge the construction of a branch line of railway from Murray River to Murray Harbor North, round to Montague.

...A farewell party was held at the home of Angus McDonald in Valley field East, recently previous to the departure for Boston of the Misses Margaret and Kate MacDonald. The following young ladies, who were also returning to Boston, were present, as guests Miss Kate Ross, Miss Florence MacLeod, Miss Sadie MacKinnon and Miss Margaret McPhee. The evening was pleasantly passed with songs, games and music. After partaking of a supper to which all did justice, the following program was carried out: Harmonica selections—James Ross, Valleyfield, Song, "The Jubilee," D. Alex. McLeod, Valleyfield. Violin selections, Malcolm McKinnon, Heatherdale. Harp selection—James Ross. Miss Margaret Gillis presided at the organ in a very pleasing manner and added to the enjoyment of the occasion with well-rendered selections. In the wee small hours the company dispersed to their homes in Grandview, Valleyfield, Glen McIntyre and Heatherdale, all well pleased with the evening spent.

...Schr. J. M. Capt. Cook, arrived in Montague yesterday to load produce.

...Schr. Diploma, Capt. Lemon, arrived in Montague recently with a cargo of coal.

...Schr. F. E. Willard, Capt. Herring, of Murray Harbor, is loading early produce at Montague.

...There were almost 100 tickets sold for Charlottetown, at Montague Station, yesterday morning.

...Miss Olga M. Wicsham, graduate nurse, Montague, was a passenger by the western train Saturday, en route to Boston and New York, where she intends visiting the leading hospitals. She will be absent about six weeks.

...How P. E. I. boys travel and meet in unexpected places is shown by the following.—A young man from Commercial Cross, near Montague, while going into the Klondyke, went to a supply store at Dawson to purchase his kit. The gentleman in charge asked him if he belonged down east. The young man said, yes, he belonged to P. E. I., whereupon the proprietor asked him if that place was near Montague. The question was enough. The young man who a moment previous were strangers turned out to be neighbor or practically so, one from Victoria Cross the other from Commercial Cross, near Montague. No doubt the customer was well treated.

FURS

We have just a word or two to say about furs, and we will endeavor to say it in the shortest way possible. When buying our stock for the present season, we made it a point to get the best skins we could get that were cut and made up into a fur that would combine both style and comfort. As a consequence our stock is entirely free from freak styles.
