

Rich - - - warm - - - luxurious OVERCOATS of quality

A GENTLEMAN'S demands for his overcoat of today goes beyond the incidental essential of warmth. Correct style, richness of fabric, genteel appearance are governing factors. These have guided us in our presentation of these overcoats . . . in the selection of fine Tweeds, Scotches, Shetlands, Camel's Hairs and Chinchillas.

Three outstanding examples

VERY handsome, well tailored Melton Overcoat, Raglan sleeve, belted all round, shield lining, a coat in which every seam says quality $20.

AN aristocrat in Overcoats is this soft rich grey in pure wool English fabric, double breasted, satin shield lining, patch pockets, half belt $30.

THE "Alpacote" is hand tailored by the most artistic designers of men's clothing in the city. The fabric is silkily soft to the touch—warmth, comfort, style in every feature. Double breasted, half belted. $35.

French Montagnacs, Crombie, Silvertone and Kashas. Blue, Browns and Greys $50.

Mystery Surrounds Dancer's Death

(Associated Press)

JERUSALEM, Nov. 6.—A new element of mystery developed today in the slaying of Joan Winters American dancer, and an Indian Government worker with reports to authorities that the two had been travelling with another Indian Moslem, who left Saturday for Egypt. Jerusalem police, who had come to the conclusion the couple was slain by Arab rioters, began an immediate investigation into the new development. The third Moslem, whose name was not learned, was said to be headed for India, via Egypt.

New Angle

Author's first said the Moslem whose body was found near that of Miss Winters outside the wall of Jerusalem, was probably Mohammed Karaman, a probationary civil employe en route to resume his duties in Madras. Later information indicated they now believed he was Hyder Abadi, not Karaman.

An unmailed letter which Miss Winters was said to have written shortly before her death led authorities to believe there was a romance between the young American blonde and the man whose body was found near hers.

Members of her family in New York described the so-called romance as a "remote and absurd possibility" and said she might have hired him as an interpreter during her travels in which she sought material for a book.
