RETURN FROM SOUTH — Mr. W. R. Rogers of Coleman, P. E. Island, Mrs. Rogers and their son, Harris and daughter, Greta, were in Sackville Thursday on their way home from Florida where they spent the greater part of the winter. Speaking to the Post Mr. Rogers declared he and his family had a delightful holiday. They motored all the way down, and all the way back as far as Sackville. He left his car here and will return for it later. The Rogers party visited nearly all the leading towns and cities in Florida, and spoke of the weather as being delightful nearly all the time with sunshine practically every day. Every day, according to Mr. Rogers, was full of tourists, with hotels doing a rushing business in addition to 32,000 trailers in which tourists lived all the winter.—Sackville Post.

PETER SNORES AGAIN

Sir,—As you pointed out some days ago, during the discussion of the Post Office estimates in the House of Commons, Mr. Peter Sinclair, representative of Queens County caused amusement and wonder by asking the Postmaster General if it was the intention of the Government to establish an air mail service between the Island and Moncton, apparently unaware in his slumber of the events of recent years. Last week he evidently again awakened and staged another act in the comedy—or tragedy. Hansard of March 31, page 2872, tells the story of the discussion on the tentative vote for the Wood Islands harbour. Mr. Dunning, according to Hansard, kept absolutely silent, evidently considering himself, as he stated when he entered the present Cabinet, not a representative of any one constituency but a representative at large who in the emergency of the hour got an Island seat. So Mr. Sinclair undertook to explain the need of a ferry between Wood Islands and "Pictou Island," where apparently two more harbours will be necessary, and an overland railway cradle to get the boat across that island which he thinks is on the mainland. Perhaps again he only snored in his sleep. For here is the Hansard story: Mr. Bennett: How many miles across would it be? Mr. Sinclair: Fourteen miles. Mr. MacNicol: This vote has to do with Wood Islands harbour, and that is what we want some information about. Mr. Sinclair: Wood Islands is the eastern end of the province. Mr. MacNicol: The whole eastern end of it? Mr. Sinclair: It takes in the whole eastern half of it. Mr. MacNicol: Is it out in the ocean somewhere? Mr. Sinclair: No, it is not; it is the eastern end of the province. People in the Maritimes go down to Sackville, turn off and go down to Tormentine and to the Cape Breton national park. Then they take a run through the Annapolis valley, and that is the only way we can establish any tourist traffic in Prince Edward Island. We have been voting millions of dollars for the west and other places; now we are looking for something for Prince Edward Island, and this is what we want. If this is established in Prince Edward Island we will have something which will bring tourist traffic. That is what we want to see. Mr. Bennett: Would the hon. member on what part on the mainland the ferry will run? Mr. Sinclair: From Wood Islands to Pictou Island. Mr. Bennett: That is fourteen miles. Mr. Sinclair: Yes. And again "That's that!" I am, Sir, etc., "OLD SALT".

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. PAUL'S ANGLICAN CHURCH. CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The services yesterday began with celebration of Holy Communion, followed by morning prayer. At this service awards were presented to Sunday School scholars for memorization of Scripture.

Rev. H. D. Raymond addressed the congregation and stressed the significant meaning of this month—"April" from the Anglo-Saxon word "Arvil" which is expressive of two words "opening" and "shining". Using the text from the 51st Psalm—"O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall show forth thy praise," the preacher outlined the spiritual interpretation of the text.

From the context the speaker showed that the words were the plant of a man who was down in the depth of sin and was seeking forgiveness, and that only after he had been assured of this was he able to say "Thou wilt open my lips, O Lord; my mouth shall show forth thy praise." Its lesson is that real praise costs. It is the fruit of a real experience. The message of opening and shining is one which fits our religious life. The preacher expressed surprise that there are so many bibles, but few who read them. In the sermon on the Mount, our Lord taught that no man hides his light under a bed—and in His transfiguration prayer—Christ's face shone as the light. In an infinitely less degree, but just as certainly our faces should shine as we pray and the mark of our Christian faith should be upon them so that the common man might read.

At the evening service the sermon was from Phil. 3, 25, "Our citizenship is in heaven"—or "our citizenship" is in heaven for that was the meaning of that word three and a quarter centuries ago. The setting of the text shows that the first demand of our citizenship is that we should put our feet upon the earth and the temple, and keep it there. The second message emphasized the immense privilege of citizenship of a kingdom in which Christ is all in all. This citizenship challenges us to loyalty and obedience to Christ. Concluding, the speaker said the kingdom in which our citizenship is expected with confidence the return of Christ and with it the refashioning of our bodies into the glorious form which is his.

The anthems at both morning and evening prayer were beautifully sung by the choir.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

For the morning sermon, the Rev. Dr. R. Moorhead Legate took as his text—"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God"—Romans 8, 28. We must be sure that we know what Paul meant by these words, that any trouble, disaster, or evil happening is a good thing in itself. But he wants us to know that the sum of all the good and bad which we make up a life is for the best. Life may be compared to a great picture. If we take too close a view many strokes of the artist's brush seem unintelligible and ugly to us. But when we step back and view the picture in its right perspective, when we appreciate the beauty of the impression it conveys. So it is with life. God, the artist, ordains what is best. Let us remember, too, that all things work together for good to those who love God, that is, to those who can see things in the light of the spirit. We must have the spiritual view of life if we are to realize the truth of St. Paul's words.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

In his morning sermon the Rev. H. L. Denton spoke on "Kingdom Challenge" with special reference to the missionary programme of the Churches. Based as it is on the sacred memory of the last message of Jesus, how unworthy we, if we neglect its challenge. "If the gospel of Jesus is not worth giving away, it is not worth possessing." That the world may one day come to a happy safety, that Christian civilization be preserved we must keep ever bright in memory this challenge, and meet it by our consecration and our support. Council "Send forth thy light" was the anthem of the morning.

The evening sermon, the second of a series on Bible roads, was an eloquently thoughtful address on "The Road out of Eden." The anthem of the evening was Farrar's "Lord, for Thy tender mercy's sake." Messrs. Quigley, Cudler, and Dingwell sang expressively "Nearer Still Nearer" and Mr. V. L. Dingwell sang with deep feeling "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

A. M. subject "The Lord of Life" (based on the incident of the appearance of the risen Christ to the disciples by the Sea of Galilee (John 21) Our Christian Faith enshrines, not the memory of past events, but the inspiration of a living Lord, who comes seeking us in our discouragements and leading us out into the fuller experience of a life victorious over sin and death.

What does it mean to be a Christian? It means to have the mind of Christ—to share his confidence in God, and his belief in the fundamental goodness of human nature.—To share his purpose and carry on his unfinished task, to make real a brotherhood of all mankind based on the Fatherhood of God.

The services at the Central Christian Church were conducted by Rev. S. C. Cooper. The children's sermon was "Invitation." This was illustrated with an invitation card when three lessons were drawn. The gospel invitation was now, it is free and the gospel supper is prepared.

The adult sermon had as its title "The Enjoyment of Justification" the text being Rom. 5: 1. It was pointed out that justification was not a mere cold theological dogma but an experience warmed by the presence of Christ and translated into life. Justification itself means being regarded by God as just. This doctrine, when experienced by the individual brings peace. Peace has been made by Christ and the Apostle's exhortation is to enjoy this peace. There cannot be peace where there is sin. The heart must be right and then we enjoy peace.

The music for the day was an anthem rendered by the choir entitled "Crown Him Lord," Heyser. The special musical number for the evening was by Mr. H. E. Porter, who played a violin solo "Prayer" by Weber. At the evening service it was announced that Mr. G. W. Titus, Maritime Evangelist for the Churches of Christ would conduct an Evangelistic Campaign beginning Sunday next.

The evening sermon was "Leave Christ Alone" having as its text John 16: 31; 32. The minister discussed the setting of the text and then pointed out that the disciples had left Christ alone in the garden, men have left Him out of their home life, politicians have left Him out of politics and many churches had left Him out of their religion. The exhortation was back to Christ and let Him control your life. The services of the day were deep and spiritual and the large congregation showed keen interest in the minister's messages of the day.

Speech From The Throne Reviews Session Activities

(C.P. by Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, April 11—Readjustments in the governmental structure of Canada have become necessary as a result of economic and social readjustments since Confederation, said the Speech from the Throne read at the prorogation of Parliament late last night.

Measures designed to improve trade, provide increased defence forces and control traffic in war materials were featured in a review of legislation approved at the session.

Baron Tweedsmuir, the Governor General, read the speech that told of "widespread and substantial improvement and continued progress toward national recovery."

Conviction of the Government that recovery was dependent on trade was reiterated in the speech which referred to the trade agreements between Canada and the United Kingdom, Germany and Uruguay, and the pending negotiations with Australia.

Following is the text of the speech: Honorable Members of the Senate—Members of the House of Commons:

I desire to express my appreciation of the care and expedition with which you have conducted the proceedings of the session of parliament now being concluded. The close and continuous attention given your parliamentary duties is reflected in the number and importance of the measures enacted.

The widespread and substantial improvement in economic conditions is evidence of continued progress towards national recovery. Export trade exceeds in value that of any year since 1929. Expansion in employment is now accompanied by a pronounced decrease in the number of persons on relief.

Convinced that recovery is dependent upon the development of trade, my ministers have pursued their efforts to negotiate agreements with countries willing to trade with Canada on a reciprocal basis.

The trade agreement concluded between Canada and the United Kingdom has received your approval and effect has been given to the changes in the customs tariff for which it made provision. Ensuring as it does a freer exchange of commodities, through a lowering of trade barriers, the new agreement will be believed to bring substantial benefits to producers and consumers alike. It will serve as well to strengthen understanding and goodwill between the United Kingdom and the Dominion.

Approval has also been given to a trade agreement with Uruguay and to a provisional trade agreement with Germany. Progress has been made in negotiations with the Government of the Commonwealth of Australia for the revision of the existing agreement with that country.

Special provision has been made for the promotion of the sale of farm products. Appropriate action has been taken to give effect to conventions between Canada and the United States for the preservation of the sockeye salmon and Pacific halibut fisheries.

With a view to fostering increased activity and employment in the construction industries, an act has been passed to facilitate the granting of loans to finance improvements in rural and urban homes. Provision has also been made for the extension of the work of farm rehabilitation in the drought areas of Western Canada, for assistance to the fishing industry, and in co-operation with the provinces, for the further alleviation of unemployment and agricultural distress.
