Matthews-Best Wedding

The Church of Christ, Summerside was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Lillian May Best, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clark, Linkletter, exchanged marriage vows with Wallace Eugene Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Matthews, Lockport, N. S. Rev. M. L. Breakenridge was the officiating clergyman. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with baskets of daffodils and other mixed flowers.

To the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" by the organist, Mrs. Winslow Morrison, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Herbert Best, by whom she was given in marriage. She was lovely in a suit of wine gabardine, with black accessories, and carried a bouquet of tallsmann roses.

Her attendant, Miss Edith Dunning, Long River, was attired in a suit of dark teal blue with brown accessories and carried a bouquet of Better Time roses. L. A. C. Douglas Brown was the groomsmen while Messrs. Frank and Gordon Best, brothers of the bride were ushers.

During the signing of the register, the organ played, "I Love You Truly". Following the ceremony, a reception was held for twenty guests at Mulberry Lodge. The bride's table, with its artistic arrangement of flowers, was centred with a two-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, under an arch of orange blossoms and silver leaves.

The groom is an L. A. C. stationed at Summerside and the bride is a graduate of the Prince County Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Matthews will reside in Summerside.

Grade V Pupils Stage 'Joyland Play' in S'side High Auditorium
A three act play, "To Land", was exceptionally well presented on Friday afternoon in the Auditorium of the Summerside High School by the pupils of Grade V, under the direction of their teachers, Mr. J. B. Wood, Miss Anne Green and Miss Ruth Croken. The stage setting was Sa la Claus' Workshop, with Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus her assistants and the elves present. After the excitement and joy of Christmas has passed, one would expect to find Santa pleased with having made children so happy, but this year something seemed to have gone wrong, and upon looking in upon Santa, find him very much discouraged - so much so that he has decided not to make any to s in 1950.

How Mrs. Santa and the Elves encouraged him was told in the play of Toyland. The leading character parts taken were: Santa Claus, Peter Arnold; Mrs. Santa Claus, Maureen Forbes; Na rator and Mrs. Santa's helper, Margaret Joan Carruthers; and nine elves. Ninety-five children took part in this performance. Special features were: The Walking Doll D-11, The Clowns, Rhythm Band, Game of Nine-Pins and a tap dance by Joan Rogerson.

The Story Book Parade was introduced by a dance of the fairies and the following characters were well portrayed by the different pupils: Jack the Nimble, Little Red Riding Hood, Humpty Dumpty, Rumpelstiltskin, The Three Bears, Alice in Wonderland, The Little Lame Prince, Peter Rabbit and Mr. McGregor, Jack and Jill, Mother Hubbard, Rip Van Winkle, Queen of Hearts.

The costumes were most attractive and appropriate to the characters and the stage was artistically decorated for the occasion. The choruses, "Toyland" and "Looby Loo" and "The Teddy Bears Picnic" were under the direction of Miss Patricia Saunders.

HAS LONG VOYAGE
LIVERPOOL, England, Jan. 30 (AP) - John Chandler piloted the Cunard liner Franconia out of Cobh, Republic of Ireland, harbor, three weeks ago expecting to be back home in Cobh within a few hours.

He landed here today, 7,000 miles later. And he still wasn't home. The 55-year-old pilot was unable to leave the Franconia because the seas outside Cobh were too rough for the pilot boat to take him off. He travelled first class to Halifax and New York at the company's expense. When the Franconia returned to Cobh yesterday on its home journey it again was too rough for the pilot boat.

Chandler sailed on to Liverpool. He's leaving for home tonight on the Dublin steamer across the Irish Sea.

Snort Echoes From Prince County

Sugar coating: That's what they've been accusing local sports commentators of recently. They've even been writing anonymous letters! It's got now so it isn't safe to tuck away all the bouquets out of sight and bring out the bricks. Get ready to duck!

The R.C.A. Meteorers are certainly not what the dictionary says they are. "Shooting stars," our dictionary says. These boys couldn't hit a barn door with a puck from ten feet out. All the opposing goalie has to do is to stay in his net and go to sleep. His slumber will be undisturbed unless he minds the banging of pucks against boards on either side of him. As we see it, their inaccurate shooting and their general lack of polish around an enemy net are the chief causes of the 9 to 1 trouncing they received from the Summerside Crystals Saturday night. Then, of course, instead of clearing the puck out of the danger zone they clear it into their own net much too frequently. How is that for a complete absence of sugar, Mr. Anonymous?

We thought LaRush had good style and made a few difficult stops. We liked the way Charlie MacDonald hustled out second he was on the ice. Just a minute, just a minute, we're forgetting ourselves. Forget we ever made the above remarks, will you? They're far too syrupy and we can imagine Mr. Anonymous dipping his pen into his vinegar and getting ready to write us a letter.

There was far too little hockey and far too much ping-pong in Saturday night's match. Sometimes the banging of that little black water from end to end sounded like the tick tick of a metronome slightly off balance. Accurate, heads-up passing is the exception rather than the rule in our games of late. The player just bangs the puck in an oblique direction and prays that there will be friendly hands at the end of its journey. Passes from the corner or from behind the net will get goals if the opposing defence is not doing its job of checking the receiver parked in front of the citadel. But we love the scores that result from beautiful, bewildering, three-way passes that confuse both the outer defence and the padded gentleman standing in the cage. Let's have more of them.

And let's have more well-directed passes and less puck-hogging. You're not kids playing on the marsh anymore. You're neither Superman or Frank Merriwell and the cash customers are not paying to see you attempt solo flights. You have far too many unhappy landings. How are we doing, Mr. Anonymous?

We've been scoring games from the penalty box of late, and we've made the startling discovery that every time the ref sends a man over with us he has made a very cruel mistake and punished the innocent bystander instead of the real culprit. We've never seen so many innocent men sent to penal servitude. You'd think those referees would get the right man just once!

Young Gerard Dalton of the Summerside Kinjupes looks like a bright prospect. He scored three goals against Charlottetown Friday night and forced an opponent to commit a hooking penalty to keep him off the score sheet a fourth time. He really hustles. Oh, sugar! What are we saying? Forgive us, Mr. Anonymous. We agree. The kid was probably just lucky.

Now for a fling at those other local sports commentators. Please notice we say "other" sports writers. We mean those creatures of delusion who write "The Rellum of Sport" and "Blue-line Sniffles." They're terrible! Time out, please, until we try to think of the ways in which they are terrible. Hum. Plenty of ways, we assure you, but right now we can't seem to put
