SASKATOON, May. 1—(CP)— Academic education is fine, but knowing how to shoot straight was sometimes the most useful accomplishment. Howard Bigelow, medical missionary in the Belgian Congo said in a address here.

During his cadet training in Saskatoon he won the gold medal for marksmanship five times and in Africa he was able to shoot through elephants to buy wives for his native teachers.

He was stationed in the land of the Pygmies and suggested lack of sunlight and uncertain diet had something to do with their small stature. They lived in dense forests. He said he had noticed Pyg-mies living with neighboring tribes under different conditions of diet and surroundings were nearly as tall as other natives.

Death Of Miss Sarah C. Green

It is with profound sorrow that the Guardian records the death of Miss Sarah Caroline Green of Summerside, who passed away quite suddenly on Saturday evening while she was about her duties arranging the flowers in St. Mary's Church.
From her girlhood Miss Green had interested herself in church work and one of her special duties and pleasures was to see that fresh flowers were always on the altar and as was her custom, she went into the church on Saturday evening to look after the flowers, and without warning collapsed. Her sister, Miss Eleanor Green, R. N., found her when she called to take her home, and summoned the doctor immediately, but her gentle spirit had returned to the one who she loved.

Miss Green was born in Summerside and was the daughter of the late Harry C. Green and Caroline Ellis Green his wife. During her whole life she had devoted herself to her church. From her girlhood she had taught in the Sunday school and only gave up teaching a class a year or two ago, but retained her membership on the teaching staff.

In the W. A. her Christian character manifested itself in all branches of this important workshop. She was a member of the Diocesan Board and held the office of President of "Little Helpers". At the last annual meeting of the Board she was made a Life member. Miss Green was secretary of St. Mary's W. A. for many years and will be sorely missed by this auxiliary.

A lasting tribute to her memory are the beautiful tapestries and hangings on the altar of St. Mary's Church and many of the fine linen embroideries were the work of her hands.

Ven. Archdeacon White, D. D., paid a touching tribute to her departed soul at her funeral service to her church when he announced with deep feeling and sorrow her sudden passing, to the congregation on Sunday. The sympathy of St.
Mary's congregation and the entire community goes out to Miss Eleanor, with her family, and to her other three sisters, Mrs. H. C.
Miles, Mrs. W. B. Mills, Summerside, and Mrs. Major Jones, St.
Eleanors, in their sudden bereavement.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 10.30 a. m. from St.
Mary's Church to the Anglican cemetery at St. Eleanors.

Alberton and was deeply touching and impressive.

The funeral was largely attend-deceased and of the surrounding districts who joined in paying a fine tribute of respect to a young woman who was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The late Mrs. Henderson was a daugh-

Investigation Of Illegal Fishing Is Continued

Six witnesses were called at Summerside Saturday as a Royal Commission with Mr. Justice A. T.
LeBlanc of the King's Bench Division of the New Brunswick Supreme Court sitting as Commissioner continued to investigate the illegal fishing of lobsters and smelts in Districts Seven and Eight during 1936.

The Commission will sit at Summerside again today and probably move to Digby on Tuesday after which evidence will again be taken at Alberton.

James Cousins, Park Corner farmer and lobster packer was the first witness examined Saturday morning. He stated in 1936 he operated a cannery at Park Corner during the Spring season and packed more than 200 cases of lobsters. He told counsel he had never poached lobsters in his life nor had he ever canned them illegally.

Concerning two cases of lobsters which he delivered last August, Ewen Nicholson, Summerside manager of Irving Oil Company, Limited, the witness said the lobsters were packed during the legal season and had been stored at his home until their transfer to Mr.
Nicholson. The lobsters were delivered at night, witness stated, but this was because of the fact he was busy farming in the daytime. He admitted they were delivered without permit and said he was unaware permit for the transportation of canned lobsters after July 15 was necessary. His first intimation of this was after the Commission commenced sittings in this province.

He agreed with counsel, Hon. H.
F. G. Bridges, that the transaction might probably look illegal in that the lobsters were delivered at night and without permit, but felt his explanation would clarify this.

He explained he had owned Mr.
Nicholson a bill for gasoline, supplied him during the Spring season and at the latter's suggestion had given him (Nicholson) two cases of lobsters to seal and credit the proceeds to his account.

"You say you never fished lobsters illegally?"

"What do the fishermen in your area do during the late season?"

"They fish cod and mackerel and appear to make a living".

He said that he knew fishermen who last year could have sold more cod and mackerel had they had fish on hand and laughed when the lobsters were caught. The Commissioner counsel said that witness after witness at Alberton had said they had to poach or starve.

"It is my opinion," said Mr. Cousins, "they are getting poorer poaching".

The witness told counsel he knew of quite a few fishermen in the district he came from who had made money fishing cod and mackerel but added he felt bigger money might be made poaching lobsters.

However, fishermen around Clark's Corner and Sea View did not fish illegally to his knowledge.

"Would you believe a man from Alberton South who said he would starve if he did not poach?"

"No, I would not".

Edward G. DesRoches, Miscouche fisherman said he was employed on patrol boat F.D.B. No. 2, in 1933 and with Captain Leslie Champion had destroyed a large number of traps in the Malpeque Bay and Goose Harbor district. He expressed the opinion the patrol boat "was not half fast enough", and remarked "we could have caught lots of poachers with lobsters in their boats if our boat had more speed".

The third witness called was Glorice Richard, Mount Carmel fisherman and farmer. He said he and his father, Peter Richard, bought one lot of lobsters about 500 pounds from Gussie Gallant last fall. He thought they were illegally caught lobsters but was not sure. This was the only time he or his father had ever handled suspicious goods. He explained Gussie Gallant came to his place with the lobsters and he did. It was on September 4, 1936 and the next day his father and brother drove to Summerside and told Gallant they would not handle any more.
Gallant, the witness said, informed him he could keep supplying him with lobsters during the closed season.

Peter Richard, father of the previous witness, also of Mount Carmel, followed to the stand and recited a like story to that of his son and said in 15 years of handling lobsters and other fish the Gallant transaction was his first and only illegal one.

In the afternoon Patrick C. Martin, district fishery inspector, was examined. He outlined the district in which he was inspector and told of his duties as such. In 1936, in company with an assistant inspector, R. W. Squarebrigg, he had located two outdoor illegal lobster canning plants at Bolle's Creek and Brown Creek. He also told of releasing about 500 pounds of lobsters in the closed season which he and Squarebrigg found in crates at Bolle's Creek.

The inspector was of the opinion destruction of gear by patrol boats was both good and bad, but stated he felt education methods were much more effective and added he felt that the patrol boat last fall operated in his district last fall was not fast enough and said that with a good fast boat and capable crew he believed poaching could be completely stamped out in his district.

It was pointed out by Commissioner that evidence submitted to the Commission revealed but little illegal fishing in the eastern portion of Prince County which is Inspector Martin's district.

Matthew C. Gallant, Abram's Village, lobster packer, was the sixth and last witness after Inspector Martin had been stood aside. He said he operated a factory at Locke Shore, near Summerside, in the Spring season and another at Egmont Bay in the fall. Mr. Gallant said he had never poached lobsters in his life, nor did he ever pack illegally. In 1935, the witness said, he purchased four cases of lobsters from Collingswood Maynard, Port Hill, which had been illegally packed, but this was his entire illegal violation.

"I knew it was against the law, but I sampled the lobsters, they were good and I bought them", remarked the veteran packer.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hooper, Middleton, was the scene of a happy gathering on Tuesday evening of last week when old friends and neighbours from Bedeque came to celebrate with Mr. Hooper's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Allison Hooper their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs.
Hooper were former residents of Bedeque and are held in very high regard in this district.

Receiving with her parents was Mrs. Frank Deacon, their only daughter. Their two nieces, Mrs.
Wright Leard and Mrs. W.N. Jenkins ushered the guests. Assisting in serving were their two grandchildren, Grace and Hilda Deacon.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Organ who on behalf of the committee of Bedeque, Middleton and Searltown extended hearty greetings to the bride and groom of 50 summers.

Mr. Wm. Callbeck then read an address, given below, which was accompanied by two very handsome chesterfield chairs and a beautiful chesterfield robe.

A leather bound Bible from the congregation of the United Church, Bedeque, was presented by Mr.
Major Lowther, accompanied by a brief address.

A lovely wilton rug, fireside seat, and many other beautiful and useful gifts presented all testified to the love and esteem of the community for their old friends.
Mr. Hooper replied very feelingly to the addresses and on behalf of himself and Mrs. Hooper thanked one and all for their lovely gifts.
After refreshments, an old time sing song brought the memorable occasion to a close.

Afternoon Reception

In the afternoon intimate friends of the bride and groom called and at five o'clock supper was served in the dining room. Covers were laid for twelve.

The dining room was attractively decorated and was lighted by a lamp, the wedding gift of the late Mrs. Priscilla Callbeck. This gift of fifty years ago is one of the most treasured possessions of the bride and groom.

The supper table was enlivened with impromptu speeches and toasts to the guests of honour.

Following is the address.

TO HIGH POST
Hon. Robert Irwin, in his most recent picture who had been appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison Hooper:
Dear Friends—We think tonight of an event which took place fifty years ago; we wish the date could have fallen in midsummer when the flowers are in full bloom and this company could admire the beauty of your garden in all its glory. We are thinking of a past event and also more particularly of the period which has passed from that date to the presents with its record of faithful service; a long period during which you have acted the part of good neighbours, faithful friends and earnest christians, adorning the doctrine of Christ, our Saviour, by practising the principles of christianity.

We remember that in that period you have given a son who made the supreme sacrifice for his King and country and that the remains are filling their places with credit to you and yourselves. We are accustomed to celebrations, some times the object is unworthy; two men meet on a public platform and fight until one falls from exhaustion; or we may think of something more worthy: a man is first to cross the Atlantic through the air and the names, in both cases, are proclaimed upon the house-tops and their photos adorn the front pages of thousands of newspapers throughout the land. Perhaps in the latter case it can be compared with a record of fifty years of service in the interest of goodness and righteousness?
"Better is he that ruleth his own spirit than he that taketh a city".

We congratulate you upon the completion of this long term in which you have lived according to the golden rule and we pray that God may bless you and continue to make you a blessing.

Please accept these gifts from your friends and neighbours as an expression of our esteem.

MASCOT SPANIEL DECIDES RETIRE

REGINA, May. 1—(CP)—Laddie, beloved spaniel mascot of No. 1 Fire Hall here, has retired owing to advancing years.

The 13-year-old dog, owned by G. Donbrook, fire hall mechanic, used to spend every day at the hall and ride on the trucks to fires.
During the past three years he has been on duty there for only a few hours each day, and now he remains at home.

Mrs. Donbrook used to telephone her orders to the meat market and send Laddie to the shop alone to carry the meat home. One of his most interesting tricks was to pick up a five-cent coin out of a pail of water.

Kensington To Celebrate

The citizens of Kensington are joining whole heartedly, young and old in preparations for celebrating the Coronation on May 12th and are daily adding and improving their tentative program. The celebration will open with a parade of school children at 7 o'clock from the school grounds and then all will join in listening to Patriotic speeches to be made by the Premier Hon. Thane Campbell, Rev. Mr. Fream of Kensington, Rev. R. S. McDonald P. P. of Indian River and others.

The parade will be headed by the Miscouche Band who are practicing unerringly for their program and the evening will finish with magnificent supervised fire-works.
There will also be a huge bon-fire lighted and it is suggested that this idea be followed all over the Province from East Point to West Cape and from West Cape to Point Prim, so that every high elevation in the Province will be illumined to celebrate the crowning of our beloved King and Queen. As bonfires are to be lighted from Cape Bedeque to the Pacific Coast this Province cannot help but let its lights burn brightly.

Roosevelt Signs Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON, May 1—President Roosevelt signed the Neutrality Act at sea Saturday night a few hours before the temporary law was due to expire.

The measure, approved finally by the United States Congress Thursday, was rushed by plane, automobile and boat to the destroyer Moffett, headquarters for the presidential fishing party.

The new law broadens restrictions against trade with nations at war and confers upon the President discretionary powers in administering the United States Neutrality policy.

The first of two proclamations signed by the President proclaimed existence of a state of civil war in Spain and listed articles of war which may not be shipped to belligerents. The second related to registration of manufacturers, and shippers of arms and war materials.

The new law differs principally from the old in its "cash and carry" provision, limited to two years operation. Under it the President may limit exportation of war materials to belligerents as well as prohibit outright the shipment of

A Face Covered With Pimples Causes Much Embarrassment

There is little doubt but that impure and impoverished blood is the soil in which those red, white, pus filled pimples develop and thrive, and that nothing short of a vigorous, persistent blood purifying treatment will eradicate them from the system.

Burdock Blood Bitters banishes bad blood and with the bad blood banished the skin becomes free from pimples.

Try a few bottles and be convinced.
