LVER FOX BREEDERS ASSOC. TENTH ANNUAL MEETING

d At Alberton On Tuesday, July 21st—Large Attendance And Interesting Discussion On The Industry—Directors For 1926.

e tenth annual meeting of the r Fox Breeders' Association rince Edward Island was held Profit's Hall, Alberton, on sday, July 21st at one o'clock. attendance was very large, oc- ying the entire hall, and all members seemed very optim- c and enthusiastic about the ure of this, the pioneer record- association of the world, and o because of the fact that only re P. E. Island foxes can be corded in it.

An interesting feature of the thering was the presence of sev- l distinguished American fox n, and the fact that the whole rince was well represented.

The President, Mr E. R. Brow upied the chair and handled meeting in his usual admirable nner. After reading the re- t of 1924, which, by the way, the best in the history of the ciation, and submitting the ncial report the president call- on the members for a discus- Interesting remarks were e by Mr Girst, of New York, spoke of the necessity of the her keeping only the best dation stock, and also the nec- y of the close study of pedi- Mr. Girst has had a wide erience in ranching and also he selling of pelts and is a man considerable technical ability. arks were also made by W. The president reported there has been considerable respondence regarding the es- lishment of a branch of the Association in Norway, where a large number of foxes registered in the Association are domiciled. It was decided to grant the request of the breeders there to form a branch of the Silver Fox Breeders Asscciation in Norway for the registration of the offspring of the parent foxes, and an Inspector will be appointed immediately for the new territory.

The Annual Meeting for 1926 will be held in Charlottetown. The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: J. W. Waugh, Alberton; Archibald McKenzie, Kensington; W. A. Mutch, Hopeton; J. B. Roper, Charlottetown; B. Roy Holman, Charlottetown; W. C. S. McLure, Charlottetown; W. A. Miller, Charlottetown; E. R. Brow, Charlottetown and Munroe Bruce, Valleyfield.

From the large attendance and the enthusiasm shown at the meeting it is evident that the Silver Fox Breeders' Association of Prince Edward Island is still a very live factor. This is not to be wondered at when one considers its successful history as a pedigree recording body for over ten years. In its records are the great names that have built up the industry in the United Staes, Great Britain and Norway. It is quite safe to say that it will continue to be a mighty factor for all time to come, and that many will continue to register in it because of the fact that only pure Island foxes, that is these whose forebears, back to the remotest generations, are pure Island origin, are permitted to register. This fact appeals to a great many students of pedigree who are also discriminating buyers.

The fact that Dalton, Oulton, Gordon, Tuplin and the other pioneers secured their great ascendency through keeping the blood pure and not mixing the Island foxes with other strains is a big feature that will continue to interest the careful breeder, and causes him to want only foxes registered in the records of the Silver Fox Breeders' Association of Prince Edward Island, which demands, as mentioned before, none but the purest Island strains.

R. R. BOARD NOT COMING TO MARITIMES

Commissioner McKeown Says the Engaging of Freight Expert is the Best Policy.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 23—That he could not say definitely whether the present reduced freight rate on potato shipments from the eastern to the western provinces would prevail after the month of August, the time when this special six months freight rates clause will haxe expired was the announcement made today by H. A. McKeown, Chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada, who left for Ottawa this evening. He said that the Board of Commissioners would not visit the Maritime Provinces in a body in August as announced at the recent Maritime conference at Moncton, but that they had requested the public as organizations, firms, companies and individuals to place their views on the Maritime freight rates matter in writing before the Board of Commissioners prior to August 15. The views received by the Board would then be turned over to its experts for investigation and consideration, Hon Mr McKeown said.

He did not expect any action would be taken as regards the communications received until the fall. "There are so many questions to be settled regarding grievances which the Provinces of the Dominion might have against the railways." Hon. Mr. McKeown said, "that we, as a Board, will take them up one by one and give what appeor to us to be the most important and imminent our earliest consideration."

In the matter of engaging an expert to look into the matters of the railway problems of the Maritimes, the three Provinces to bear an equal share in the expense of the undertaking, Hon. Mr. McKeown said that he thought this perhaps the best policy the Maritime Provinces could pursue.

Canadian Exchange In New York Reaches High Mark

(Special to the Guardian)

NEW YORK, July 23—The Canadian Exchange in New York touched a new high today, reaching one sixteenth of one percent. The record high for any recent period was five-eighths of one per cent established in November, 1924. Bankers attributed the present high premium to three things—Huge exports from the Dominion (a recent estimate for the twelve months ending June 30th placed shipments above the billion dollar mark, an increase of $16,000,000 over the preceding fiscal year); tourist travel in Canada and the splendid condition of Canada's grain crop.

Chinese Manifesto To British Labor

(Special to the Guardian)

SHANGHAI, July 23.—The Chinese General Chamber of Commerce exploded a bomb shell this week when it decided to commence an active Anti-British and Anti-Japanese boycott commencing August 1st, with complete cessation of business relations with those two countries. The boycott is to apply to every phase of business and the Chinese members of the Chamber agree to heavy fines and confiscation of goods if any merchant is caught acting contrary to the decision.

MANY ARE OUT FOR SENATORSHIPS

Government Will Fill Nine Vacancies Before General Election.

TWO ONTARIO SEATS

Large Field of Aspirants in This Province for Coveted Honor.

OTTAWA, July 22.—Before the general election the Government will fill the present Senate vacancies, as the result of the contest will be too uncertain to take chances on another party making these desirable appointments. At present there are nine vacancies—two in Prince Edward Island, one in New Brunswick, two in Quebec, two in Ontario, and two in Alberta.

When these appointments are made the Conservative majority in the Senate will be reduced to less than 20.

The vacancies in Prince Edward Island were created by the deaths of Hon. Patrick Murphy and Hon. James Yeo.

Hon. John Sinclair, Minister without portfolio, desires one of the appointments. J. J. Hughes, M. P., King's district, would accept the other vacancy. The difficulty in appointing Messrs. Hughes and Sinclair is that it would leave Prince's district unrepresented.

The Government will have no difficulty in securing a successor in New Brunswick to the late Senator G. W. Fowler. In event of the defeat of the Liberal Government in the provincial elections, Premier Veniot will want the position, but as this is an English appointment his desire will not be realized. If Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State cannot secure a judgeship, he will demand a seat in the second Chamber. Hon. Walter E. Foster, former Premier, is said to have the promise of this appointment if Mr. Copp goes on the bench.

Hon. Jacques Bureau Selected.

One of the Quebec vacancies will go to Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs. Hon. Dr. Beland would accept the other appointment but it is reported arrangements are being made to give him a more remunerative appointment. Many there would like to see Sir Lomer Gouin in the Senate and thus conserve to Canada in dealing with national problems his great ability and long experience. About 30 out of the 65 Liberal members from Quebec desire Senatorships, but as there are only two vacancies there will be more disappointments than appointments.

It is Ontario where there is a real field for the race for the two Senate vacancies in that Province. The applicants are legion and although the vacancies are in Western Ontario, nearly every prominent Liberal from Alexandria to Windsor and Kenora is pressing for recognition. From Western Ontario the most prominent entries are W. G. Raymond, M.P., Brantford; Dr. Rankin, M.P., North Perth; W. M. German, M.P., Welland, and W. D. Euler, M.P., North Waterloo. At leas a dozen Liberals from Toronto have applied for appointment, and to these must be added, three from London, and numerous others from the smaller cities in the western peninsula. Ottawa has four applicants, and Peterboro, Kingston and Belleville all have aspirants.

In filling the Alberta vacancies there may be changes made in other appointments, Hon. Philippe Roy, Commissioner-General to Paris, would return to Canada if he secured a Senatorship. This would permit of the appointment of Hon. Dr. Beland to Paris. Mr. Roy represented Alberta in the Senate before his appointment to Paris. For the English vacancy in Alberta there are many applicants. It was expected that Hon. W. A. Buchanan would succeed the late Senator Deveber, but it is now probable Hon. Frank Oliver will go from the Railway Commission to the second Chamber, as he must on account of the age limit retire from the Railway Commission in less than three years. This would permit of the appointment of Hon. W. F. Turgeon, Saskatchewan, to the Railway Commission.

Clarence Darrow Ready To Come To Charlottetown

Dr. Leo Frank yesterday morning received the following telegram in response to his invitation to Wm. Jennings Bryan and Clarence Darrow to come to Charlottetown to debate the quesion of Evolution and the Bible:

"Dr. Leo Frank: I am sure Bryan would not debate but I would like to meet your people. (Sgd.) Clarence Darrow."

Up to a late hour last night there had been no response from Mr Bryan and Dr. Frank wired him again, acquainting him with the reply received from Mr. Darrow and asking for a reply which will probably come today.

From Mr. Darrow's reply it is quite evident that he required but little encouragement to induce him to make the visit. Mr. Bryan's reply will be eagerly awaited and the hope will be entertained that these two noted orators may yet be among our visitors during the present summer. Mr. Bryan visited the province some years ago when he addressed a mass meeting which crowded The Arena Rink and those who heard him then or who have heard of him—and who has not? would welcome an opportunity to hear him again.

A visit from two such giants, whose names are now in all the world's newspapers in connection with the recent evolution trial in Dayton, Tenn. would mean additional publicity for Prince Edward Island.

Cardinal Begin's Funeral

QUEBEC, July 23.—The funeral of the late head of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada, Cardinal Begin, will be held next Saturday morning, in the restored Quebec Basilica, his cathedral. While the Basilica is not ready to be used for ceremony, special arrangements have been made so that the body of the deceased cardinal may be received. A special corps of workmen started in this morning to prepare the church for the service.

The canopy over the high altar is already in place, and it will be used to cover a temporary altar. The scaffolding erected in other parts of the church will be torn down, and the whole church arranged so that seating accommodation may be found for as many as possible.

While definite arrangements for the service have not yet been made, it is crtain that either this Excellency Mgr. Pietro Di Mari of Ottawa, Apostolic delegate to Canada, or one of the four American cardinals, will celebrate the funeral mass. It is also probable that all the archbishops and bishops of Canada and the United States, forty in number, will attend. The funeral oration will be delivered by Monsignor Ross, Bishop of Gaspe.

CANADIAN CABINET MEETS ON MONDAY

It is Expected That Nearly all the Ministers Will be Present.

OTTAWA, July 23.—The meeting of Cabinet scheduled for next Monday will be largely attended. Already Ministers who have been absent from the Capital are returning, and word has been received that many more will be here on Monday.

The last Cabinet meeting, which took place nearly two weeks ago, was attended by but four Ministers, in addition to Premier MacKenzie King. At present, Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, Hon. Charles Murphy, Post Master General and Hon. Jas. Murdock, Minister of Labor, are in the city; while the Prime Minister is within call. Advice has been received that Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, who recently made a trip to Newfoundland, will be in the city for Monday's meeting, and Rt. Hon George Graham, will also be here. Most of the other Cabinet Ministers are expected to attend although it is possible that Hon. Charles Stewart Minister of the Interior, who has been in Alberta during the past few weeks, and Hon. E. M. McDonald, may be absent from next Monday's meeting.

Ruhr Evacuation

(Special to the Guardian)

PARIS, July 23.—It is officially announced that Essen will be completely evacuated by the French troops by July 31st. The withdrawal of the troops of occupation from the Ruhr has thus far been without incident, except at Bochum, where the people staged a demonstration necessitating the interference of the police, who used their sidearms; there were no casualties.

Tribute To "Ray"

Charlottetown has just emerged from one glorious week, "Old Home Week", they called it, but there was plenty there to attract others beside the Islanders abroad. Thousands of people attended from all parts of the province and Nova Scotia sent a large contingent. And the best part of it all is that the visitors were delighted. They got their money's worth. They had a bang-up time. And they will go again. It was a good advertisement for the Island, for the city of Charlottetown. The capital city of the "tight litle province" possesses a live wire, several of them in fact, for everybody there seems to be a booster. But to Mr. Tinney, the secretary of the Island Tourist Association, a large bouquet is coming. If there is anything in this tourist business he is going to find it—and from the success of the Charlottetown Old Home Week we think he has found it. He is putting Prince Edward Island on the tourist map all right. By tourist we do not mean particularly the American or the Upper Canadian, but all who desire a change of scene as it were. Hundreds of Nova Scotians are finding their way to Prince Edward Island this year and they are doing so simply because the attractions of that beautiful province have been brought to their notice very forcefully by the indefatigable Mr. Tinney and the public spirit of the citizens of the city of Charlottetown. Not long since the Sunday Leader devoted its rotogravure section as well as its magazine section to setting forth the attractions of the Island province. This was made possible by the enterprising business men of Charlottetown and Summerside—and Mr. Tinney. Over eight thousand copies of that edition were read in Nova Scotia alone. Many requests for special copies came from the United States and Upper Canadian cities. It prepared the way in a measure for the "Old Home Week," or firemen's carnival, and if the good people of Charlottetown put on the same sort of a show next season they will have a still greater patronage from the province of Nova Scotia.—Sunday Leader.

DARROW STORMED BY RELIGIOUS TENNESSEANS

Great Fundamentalist's Tribute To Sardonic Skeptic Was One Of Peculiar Incidents At Close of "Monkey Trial."

(Special to the Guardian)

DAYTON, Tenn., July 23—John Thomas Ccopes, a young school teacher, has been found guilty of teaching the theo y of evolution in violation of a Tennessee statute as everyone had expected and then a strange thing happened in the Rhea county court house where so many strange things have happened since this strange trial began.

The so-called fundamentalists of Tennessee, who had seemed so overwhelming in favor of the law, who had cheered the utterances of counsel defending faith in the Bible against the "heresies" of scientists stormed Clarence Darrow, the agnostic, to shake his hand.

Men and women rushed behind the bar the moment Judge Rauston adjourned court. They surged about Mr. Darrow, pushing each other to get at him. They brought up their children who also wanted to shake his hand. Members of the jury came up smiling, and offered their hands.

In a moment Mr Darrow was holding a reception, and for a little while William Jennings Bryan, the fundamentalist, seemed forgotten. Presently, after the crowd had shaken Mr. Darrow's hand, it went more leisurely to Mr. Bryan but for a half-hour the group about the Chicago lawyer was undiminished. He was congratulated for his nationalism, his utterances, his courage, and from nearly all came invitations to visit other Tennessee communities to speak. And from the jury came regrets they did not hear him.

R. L. Gentry, the juror who is a country school teacher and farmer, a little, middle-aged man with a long, drooping moustache, like that of the old Indian fighter, seemed to speak for all.

"We were sorry we did not get a chance to hear you", he said. "We all wanted to hear what you had to say, and we heard practically nothing."

Those who had seen Mr Darrow only "in action" in this half-hour of repose when he was receiving the greetings of countryfolk got another picture of the man whose demeanor in the court room had been so skeptical so pessimistic, so sardonic in his references to "Mr Bryan's religion". They say the stern, yellow face with the disillusioned eyes soften and wreathe into smiles while the eyes lighted up with pleasure. He was as delighted as a boy and seemed as shy, and when a small boy was brought up to shake hands with him, he put his arm about the lad's shoulders and held him close as if from the child he got strength to bear up under the adulations of grown ups.

But the congratulations did not come to Mr Darrow alone. Dudley Field Malone and Arthur Garfield Hayes, of counsel for the defense, also held little courts Mr. Malone has become popular with the Tennesseeans. They have liked his smiling manner, they have applauded almost every utterance he has made, and they will remember him a long time through the speech he made last week asking Mr. Bryan why the fundamentalists "were afraid" to permit the introduction of scientific evidence.

The conclusion of the trial was a "love feast." Everyone spoke well of everyone else Mr Bryan softened and spoke to the court of "the side which was right," eventually winning. So also in a different vein spoke Mr. Darrow. Newspaper correspondents thanke dthe court, and the town for their hospitality, Tennessee lawyers "welcomed" the lawyers from other states to help the "settlement of a great issue" and, finally, Judge Raulston with his "I pray to God I have decided these questions right," adjourned the trial.

The Coal Strike In England

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 23—Only nine days remain before the expiration of the present agreement on employment in the coal fields, and there is increasing anxiety as each day slips by without a settlement of the differences between the miners and mine owners concerning the new agreement. Miners are adament in their refusal to meet the owners unless the latter with raw proposals for a new agreement, and the owners are equally insistent that they will not withdraw their proposals if the word "withdraw" is to be interpreted as "abandon."

Soldiers' Monument At Wheatley River

A committee consisting of Capt. D. A. Macdonald, Mr T. D. Ling and Mr. William Crew was organized some time ago by the people of Wheatley River to arrange for the erection of a monument in honor of the men from that community who fell in the Great War. The committee have finished their work and this week the monument was put in position in a convenient and central locality adjoining the village and ready for unveiling which will take place during the second week in August.

The monument is a shaft of black granite, surmounting a pedestal of grey granite. The foundation and the curb were put in by Mr. Alex. Doiron. The curb, which is of cement extends in a square ten feet from the monument and surrounds a dais a foot high. The workmanship in this foundation and curb is very creditable to Mr. Doiron. The monument is one of the most beautiful and chaste of the many which now dot the province at many points and is a credit both to the builders and to the community which in this manner is commemorating its worthy and heroic dead.
