Monthly Meeting Board of Trade

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerside Board of Trade took place last night with President Begg in the chair and a fair attendance. Nothing of importance came before the meeting of which the chief feature was an interesting report by the Chairman of the Marine Committee, Mr. J. E. Campbell, dealing mostly with the Potato shipments this Fall.

Mr. Campbell stated seven steamers and two tern schooners had loaded at Summerside. 342,483 bushels of potatoes involving the sum of $800 paid out for local labor. Most of the steamers he said, flew foreign flags, but he was proud to say that one of them the finest to ever enter a P. E. Island port flew the English flag. This was the S. S. Boniface. Mr. Campbell spoke in strong terms of the false report of her running on the bar, which had appeared in the Halifax Chronicle, and commended the President of the Board upon his prompt denial which the Chronicle had published. As a shipping port today, Mr. Campbell said, Summerside is second to none in the Maritime Provinces.

An informal discussion then took place on shipping and transportation matters. It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the Board the third Tuesday in January next in the form of a banquet.

was evidenced by the smaller number of citizens awaiting news outside the palace than had been the case on recent evenings.

OTTAWA, Dec. 6—The Canadian Government today received the most reassuring report yet cabled as to the condition of the King. It stated that the infection had been localized and that His Majesty's condition was improving.

Supreme Court at Summerside

In the Supreme Court at Summerside yesterday the case of the King vs. John Winchester was concluded. His Lordship delivered his charge to the jury and the jury after being out only eleven minutes brought in a verdict of not guilty. The prisoner was discharged. His Lordship then passed sentence upon John McKenna, found guilty of an assault occasioning actual bodily harm, this being the only criminal conviction sentence was six months imprisonment in the common jail of Prince County.

In the case of Hugh McKenna, in which the jury disagreed the prisoner was allowed to go free upon entering into his own recognizance to appear at the Supreme Court for retrial when called upon.

In the case of the King vs. Galbraith and Arthur Smith, Mr. C. D. McCallum ... applied to the Court to have the prisoners discharged upon their own recognizances. This His Lordship refused stating that an application for bail for these prisoners might be entertained later at Chambers in Charlottetown. Court adjourned until 11 a. m. today when the appeal case of Bryan vs. Walsh will be heard.

Yule Tide Decorations

The MacKinnon Drug Company's Popular Store Reflects Christmas Spirit--Excellent Line of Goods Carried.

It seems to have become a rule with the MacKinnon Drug Company each year to excel itself in the beauty and tastefulness of the Christmas decorations of its store. This year the embellishments are marked by an especial note of originality; both design and execution being carried out in their entirety by members of the staff.

Perhaps the feature which most strikes one on entering the store is the design of pendants in vari-colored paper, tinsel and Christmas bells which hang from the ceiling. The central electrolier is draped with a large pendant, consisting of a circular corona of red crepe paper, with an over design delicately and tastefully wrought in green paper and tinsel. From it depends, in the centre a cluster of large and varicolored blown glass beads, while about the circumference, suspended on tinsel ropes, hang six colored balls of the same material, and four bells, which, matching the general colour scheme, are red on the outside and green in the interior.

This design is repeated in twelve smaller, identical pendants, suspended at various points of the ceiling. These also are formed of coronas in red and green crepe paper, and provided with decorations in blown colored glass hung from the periphery by tinsel ropes. In the centre of each is hung a large Christmas bell in red paper.

This red and green motif is repeated in the trimming of the mirror—which is also treated with blown glass work—of the show cases and of the large east window. This latter is provided with a valence of red crepe paper, ornamented with a tasteful cut work design, and side curtains in greeh paper edged with red.

The lining of this show window is also in the same materials and colours. And in it are tastefully displayed a wide selection of the choicest perfumes soaps and toilet accessories,—all beautifully boxed, for Christmas. Hudnuts, Yardley, Piver, Bourjois, Houbigant and other such manufacturers of the first rank are represented here.

A special display is the truly magnificent assortment of chocolates and confectionery, packed in lovely gift boxes. The products of such well known firms as Moirs, Neilsons and Ganongs are shown.

Among other offerings suitable for Christmas gifts are complete lines of case pipes (Briar and Meerschaum); Tharen's, Cigarette lighters, cigars by Benson and Hedges, Simons, Tuckett's and others, all in Christmas packages; pearl and amber toilet sets and Eastman Kodaks in all prices and sizes.

There is also a very large assortment of the famous Parker "Duofold" pens and pencils, shaving requisites, and all other articles carried by the up to date drug store.

ENJOYABLE TEA.—A most enjoyable tea and fancy sale was held yesterday afternoon in the School Room of the Central Christian Church. The many who attended had a very delightful supper, served in the excellent manner for which the ladies of the congregation are noted. The display of fancy work, too, was of more than usual interest, attractiveness and beauty.

Prince Street

trained and directed the pupils who took part. The "Trained Crows" done by the boys, was also most amusing. This was taken part in by the following:

Elton Worth, Thorley Burgoyne, Lawrence Toombs, John Simmonds, David Wisener, Ralph Constable, Maurice Brady, Lloyd Yeo, Douglas Saunders, Jimmy Williams.

The second part of the programme was taken by the presentation of an operetta "The Enchanted Island" by Mr. P. E. Fletcher.

The scene of this Operetta is laid in an Enchanted Island, and in the opening numbers are seen the Fairies of the Waves, Winds, and Flowers at their revels. They are interrupted by the entrance of Pixi, who introduces herself in a song as the "Spirit of Mischief," and then proceeds to tell of her adventures amongst mortals. She has carried a Sailor Boy, whom she found sleeping upon a ship beyond the mists, from the deck to the Island. This causes much dismay, as, should foot of mortal touch tthe shore all enchantment ceases. While they are expressing their concern, Jacky, the little sailor, approaches, and the Fairies become invisible. He cannot understand what has happened and sings longingly of his home, with sad reflections on the possibility of his becoming part of a cannibal banquet. Soft reassuring voices are heard, after which the Fairy Queens appear, and finally all the Fairies trooping in, join in a graceful dance before the bewildered boy. He is still however, anxious to go home. At one point he amazes the Fairies by munching a biscuit, but the travelled Pixie explains in a song the difference in this respect between Fairies and Mortals. Suddenly it is discovered that the enchanted mists have vanished, and that ships of various nations are approaching the shore. Amongst these Jacky joyfully recognizes his good ship "Nancy Jane." To console the frightened Fairies, Jack fixes a small Union Jack in the bank, assuring them that his country's flag will afford them a better protection than that hitherto given by the mists. A farewell song by the Fairies, a promise from Jacky to come again, and all ends happily on the Enchanted Island.

The cast of the operetta was as follows:

Zephyr, Fairy of the Winds, Marion Whitehead.
Flora, Fairy of the Woods and Flowers, Elsie Warren.
Nymph, Fairy of the Waves, Edna Burke.
Pixie, Fairy of Mischief, Frances Clawson.
Jackie, A Sailor Boy, Joan Brady.
Attendant Fairies on Zephyr, Flora and Nymph.

All the actor pupils—both the principals and their attendant fairies—took their respective roles splendidly. Frances Clawson, in particular was a very cute and mischevious little pixie while Joan Brady was a charming sailor Boy. The songs, lyrics and dances in this operetta were all well rendered, the dance of Flora and the Wood Numphs and the "Valse Lente" danced by all the fairies being particularly striking.

In conclusion it remains to be stated, that the very high standard of the whole performance is due, not only to the pupils who took part but to the care taken in its presentation and staging by the principal of the school, Mr. R. H. Rogers, and his assistant teachers. The lovely costumes which were worn in the operetta were all designed and prepared by the latter.

And in particular, the splendid work of Miss Lillian MacKenzie—under whose capable direction was the musical part of the programme, and who presided at the piano as accompanist—must be recognized. Her sound musical training showed itself in the great artistic merit of the songs chosen as chorus numbers, as also in the intelligent rendition of them which was given by the pupils.

Pass Resolution

The meeting passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, it has become apparent that larger markets for Maritime products can be obtained in other provinces of Canada, if adequate and energetic measures were undertaken by the Maritime Provinces, and

"Whereas it is believed that largely increased tourist traffic could be directed to the Maritime Provinces if more intensive advertising of the attractions of these provinces were presented to the people of the other provinces of Canada.

"And whereas, the interests of the Maritime Provinces are in such large measure identical in both trade and tourist matters.

"Therefore, be it resolved that this meeting of the Maritime Interprovincial Trade Committee authorize the appointment of a trade commissioner for Ontario with an office in the City of Toronto, as the initial step in giving effect to this resolution."

The committee which met here yesterday, under the presidency of Mr. J. D. McKenna, was appointed at the convention in Toronto in the fall when Maritime representatives at the invitation of the Toronto Maritime Provinces Association, assembled to go into trade and tourist possibilities between the Provinces-by-the-Sea and those of Central Canada.

At the meeting the Maritime representatives attending expressed their great appreciation of the presence of the visitors from Toronto, who announced that a committee of business men, outstanding in the public life of Canada, several of whom were not born in the Maritime Provinces, had consented to act as an Advisory Committee in the promulgation of trade and tourist business.

It was announced that the general scheme will be supervised by a committee of twelve members, two to be named by each of the three governments of the Maritime Provinces, and six to be appointed by the Toronto Maritime Provinces Association.

The permanent Maritime Interprovincial Trade Committee comprises, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, J. D. McKenna, Dr. G. J. Trueman, A. P. Paterson, and Angus MacLean representing New Brunswick; Hon. Walter M. Lea, Hon. J. P. MacIntyre, Mr. J. O. Hyndman, Mr. W. Chester S. MacLure, and Mr. W. S. Boulter, Prince Edward Island; Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Hon. J. J. Kinley, Messrs Frank Stanfield M. P. P., D. R. Turnbull, R. G. Lang, A. E. Nickerson, H. D. MacDougall, R. D. Graham, John A. Young and Dr. Cummings, Nova Scotia.

The chairman of the Trade Committee of the Toronto Maritimes Association is Mr. E. M. Saunders, and the Chairman of the Tourist Committee is the Secretary of the Association, Mr. A. C. Pyke.
