Educational Meeting At Montague

A public meeting in the interest of improvement in education was held in Yeo's Theatre, Montague, on Thursday evening, June 12. The chairman, Mr. Marshall Reynolds, "Laxer" of Montague, after stating the purpose of the meeting, called on Mr. L. W. Shaw, M.A., Director of Education, to open the forum discussion.

Mr. Shaw explained that these meetings, sponsored by the Teachers' Federation, were a joint effort by the Federation and the Department to arouse the public to the necessity of an immediate appraisal of educational needs. As evidence of the need for this he stated that many ratepayers now attend the annual school meetings that thirty permits to call special meetings were issued to school trustees last year.

In this Province, he said, most of the control of education is vested in local school districts. He warned that, unless the general public becomes imbued with a keen interest in education, the efforts of educators would fall. He deplored the fact that many of the rural schools are driving the teachers out of the profession. "Make your schools fit for the teachers, and you will also make them fit for your children," he urged all ratepayers to attend the next school meeting and plan for improvements in the school plant and equipment. He informed the meeting that the Government was prepared to give substantial financial assistance in this work.

He dealt at some length on the reasons for the present teacher shortage, and outlined the proposed set-up for the Regional Composite High Schools. In dealing with the curriculum, he said that "the moment we bring in a compulsory attendance law we are doing a wrong and a dangerous thing, unless we are prepared to provide an education program broad enough to take care of the interests, needs and aptitudes of all the children." The proposed Composite School aimed at making this provision.

crease the grants to teachers for years of service. (There is now a satisfactory minimum for beginning teachers). Increase teacher training to at least one full year. Require teachers to take Refresher courses at least every third year of teaching. Insist on higher qualifications for teachers. Place only the most highly qualified teachers in the elementary schools.

Mrs. Fred Gates, West Royalty, speaking on behalf of the Women's Institutes, observed that there should be a proper balance between the school and the home. She asked the parents to restore the teachers to their former honored place in the community. Among other suggestions she offered were the following: Send children to school clean and healthy; teach children at home the necessity for complete obedience and truthfulness; send children to school regularly and, on time; take an active interest in the children's home work; visit the schools regularly and talk over school problems and difficulties with the teachers rather than with other parents or before your own children; attend all school meetings and see that the school money is well spent; provide your schools with facilities for hot lunches, good playground equipment, and means for the proper teaching and appreciation of good music; join organizations working towards educational improvements, and through these organizations endeavour to have introduced legislation to improve educational standards. She urged the public to work towards these ends with the same zeal and enthusiasm which they displayed in wartime activities.

30 Years Behind Times

Mr. S. F. Reeves, Southport, representing the farmers, stated that rural schools are thirty years behind the times. People are willing to pay enormous sums of money for entertainment and luxuries, but when it comes to providing the necessary funds for improvement in education they are very reluctant. He contended that the economic principle returns are in proportion to expenditure is as true in the field of education as in any other. A recent survey in the United States, he said, backs up this claim. He suggested that the people double and if necessary treble their school taxes and, after setting aside an emergency fund to look after a possible future depression, spend the balance immediately on the schools. He advised the installation of modern toilet facilities, the use of oil heaters to replace coal or wood stoves, and the proper insulation of all the schools. He advocated the setting up of larger units of administration, to be served by central Composite High Schools. This would insure a more equal distribution of taxation, a better qualified board of trustees, and an opportunity for those who are to remain on the farms to study the fundamental principles of chemistry, botany, physiology, and mechanics, and thereby improve not only the quality but also the quantity of farm produce. This, he contended, was essential for a prosperous province.

Slipping Back In Education

Miss Estelle Bowness, past-president of the P.E.I.T.F., dealing with the problem of professional improvement of teachers, said that in every phase of life "we are keeping up with the times with the exception of the important field of education. We have slipped back," she said. "In the matter of training teachers and handling schools. The educational system is just as good as the teachers in our schools; the training they receive; good teachers are better teachers with more professional and academic training."

She contrasted the responsibilities of teachers of today with those of the past. She questioned the wisdom of staffing schools with permit teachers, and the substitution of correspondence courses for closed schools. Her suggestions for improving the situation were as follows: In-

NEW USE FOR HANDCUFFS

SPOKANE, Wash., June 15—(AP)—A worried young man asked Detective Captain Adolph Windmaler: "May I borrow a pair of handcuffs? I'm being married tonight."

The request was granted and the bridegroom explained when he returned the cuffs: "If my bride and I had not been handcuffed together those friends of ours surely would have separated us as they planned."

He wanted to pay the Bank!
A BONUS!

June 20th—John J. Veroba of Lampman, Sask., applied to the Bank of Montreal for a loan of $2,000 to purchase a threshing combine. His proposition was sound... and the loan was made.

John Veroba's new machine was delivered on June 25th. Ten days later, with his own crops still four weeks from harvesting, he set out for Sharon Springs, Kansas. With his new combine he worked for the farmers there and in the neighbouring communities for one month to the day.

In the meantime his own crops were ripening. Early in August he turned northward to Lampman, and on his arrival, August 11th, immediately remitted to us the full $2,000 he had borrowed. His work had given him back the entire purchase price of his combine!

The total interest charge was $12.60. So pleased was this customer to possess his own combine free of all debt, and to commence his own harvesting with a happy and easy mind, that he wished to pay the Bank of Montreal a bonus to mark his appreciation.

The Bank, of course, declined the bonus, but is gladly accepting the expression of John Veroba's thanks in the form of his permission to tell his story in this advertisement.

This case is typical of the assistance which the Bank of Montreal is extending to progressive people in every walk of life and demonstrates how it makes true its promise: "When you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favour."

If you need money, see your nearest B of M manager today. If your proposition is sound, there's money for you at the B of M.

NEW YORK, June 16—(AP)—Ferenc Nagy, self-exiled former premier of Hungary, arrived by plane Saturday night and said he was "confident" that the United Nations would take action in his country's troubles.

TO AID NIGHT FLYING

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—To prevent night flying collisions, the United States Navy is experimenting with rows and strips of lights installed on plane wings and tails. Pilots in formation often become confused from following the single pinpoint of light on the plane ahead.

One student in Texas, the Navy reported, tried to "join up" with the red wing light of another plane only to discover after the crash that it was the tail light of an oil truck.
