

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD 5

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Having completed a term as Councillor and with a full knowledge of the present Civic Government System, I have again nominated with the assurance that your best interests can be served better with the knowledge gained by me in the last two years.

HENRY LAPHORN. L-3480-2-7-21.

Electors Ward Five

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I take this opportunity to respectfully solicit your support in the Civic Election, February 9.

If elected I promise to support a programme of strict economy, the collection of Tax arrears, rigid law enforcement, and to conduct the City's affairs in a strictly business manner.

Yours Faithfully, B. R. HOLMAN. L-3471-2-7-21.

To the Electors of Ward 1

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am again a candidate for Ward 1 in the coming Civic Election.

For the past six years you have honored me with your support for which I am deeply grateful. On Wednesday next, Feb. 9th you will be called upon to elect your councillor and I again ask the same generous measure of support you accorded me in the past.

Please accept this as a personal interview. The time before election may not permit me to see each of you. With the hope that you will again favor me with your confidence,

I am, Yours faithfully, A. A. HENNESSEY

Electors of Ward One

January 31st, 1938

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I have nominated as Councillor for Ward One and I take this opportunity of respectfully soliciting your support.

Our City has been placed in a precarious financial situation resulting from the demands made upon it during the past eight lean years; our debt increasing the past year alone nearly one quarter of a million dollars. The demands for relief have been steadily increasing despite evidences of general recovery.

Thus it is clear that efforts should be vigorously made to reduce our outstanding debt, balance our budget each year and find a solution of our relief problem.

It is my intention, if elected, to follow the above general policy and to make every endeavor to have the City run in a modern businesslike manner; with improved conditions to help Tax returns and an extensive Provincial Government paying program to help our unemployed, this coming year offers an opportunity to return to normalcy and balance budgets thus it will not be necessary for us to continue our large outlay for Civic permanent improvements.

It is my opinion that a policy of rigid economy should be exercised by the incoming Council.

Yours sincerely, H. R. LARGE

ELECTORS WARD 3:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am again offering my services as Councillor for Ward Three, in the forthcoming election.

Having served you for the past four years, and been successful in completing permanent streets in this Ward, establishing Public Facilities in the Market House and installing stoker, which means a large saving yearly in coal, I hereby again solicit your support, and if elected will faithfully serve you, as in the past, giving particular attention to all Civic Matters, particularly outstanding taxes and the financial question.

In Memoriam

NATHANIEL CHARLES PEARSON

There passed away at his home in Chelton on Sunday, Jan. 23rd, after a brief illness an aged and highly respected citizen in the person of Nathaniel Charles Pearson the 61st year of his age. Owing to the results from a fall a year ago, the deceased had not been enjoying his former health, but was able to be about as usual and give promise for a few more years of life.

Early on Tuesday morning last he unfortunately fell in his home tearing the ligaments of his leg and fracturing the bone. He was carried to his bed. A doctor was called immediately. An increasing temperature soon developed pneumonia and in spite of all that skilled medical aid and kindly nursing could do, he passed peacefully away on Sunday morning about eight o'clock.

The deceased was a man of hardy constitution and up to little more than a year ago, thought little of exposures that many of our young men today would be glad to sidestep and clear. He was the son of the late Edward and Elizabeth Pearson. His Grandfather the late Capt. John Pearson, a member of the first Pioneer Settlers, was the first home in the then forest of Chelton. It was on this old pioneer homestead of his grandfather in the late 18th century that he was born. When only in his teens years the deceased went to Ellerslie, where he engaged as an apprentice in carriage shops of the late Wm. B. Hayse which was one of the largest carriage building concerns in the province at that time.

Here he applied himself with an energy and thoroughness that eventually earned for him the reputation of a Master Workman. After serving his apprenticeship he located in Cape Traverse where he opened up carriage and repair shop. It was in this shop now almost sixty years ago that repairs were made to the horse drawn coaches and carriages that were the passengers and mails to and from Cape Traverse to Charlottetown under the management of the late Capt. Arthur Irving. Thus that the deceased was both the one who has just passed was in some degree connected with that link which connects our present means of conveying passengers and mails with the more primitive means of those earlier days.

For a time the deceased also operated in conjunction with his sister the Rotary Carriage Works known as Lyman's Mill. But all the while he felt the lure of the land, and eventually closed up his shop and went back to the old home on the farm. He was a successful business of farming. Here he applied the same energy and resourcefulness as characterized him in his trade. Soon he began to expand his operations and in a few years passed on he found himself a large and prosperous farmer in the community.

He was fond of animals grew interested in dog raising. In his later years started a pure bred herd of Guernseys. He imported prize blood from the famous herds of the late Howard Corning of Yarmouth, N. S. This blood has done much to improve and raise the standard of dairy cattle in this community in which he lived. He was very fond of horses and many fine horses were raised on his farm to catch the keen eye of such buyers as W. S. Newcome and others. His love for the horse was expressed in a number of ways when he asked one of the members of his family to see to it that when it came his turn to be drawn by horse and not by motor.

During his long life, through industry, resourcefulness and thrift, he attained a comfortable estate in the community surrounded himself and family with the comforts and conveniences of farm life. To the public he was known as a man of high and sterling qualities, honest and upright, in dealing with his fellows always carrying a cheery smile on his face. In the community he was never less than ready to give a helping hand to any less fortunate than himself, there are those today who testify to the kindly favor he did which he himself never forgot.

He was a man of keen alert intellect which he retained until the last, pleasant and cheerful in manner, fond of reading, and a ready conversationalist and few things pleased him more than for friends to come to his home to visit and chat and receive the hospitality of his home and family where his true worth was best known for it was here that he lived to show the exemplary Christian life of kindness, unselfishness, and affection toward those around him. The memory of which should be a beacon light to the loved ones he has left behind.

In politics he was a Conservative and in his younger days took an active part in supporting those principles and policies in which he believed. When a comparatively young man he joined the Methodist later the United Church of Canada and until his declining years he took an active part in church work. He was an Honorary Member of the Orange Association in which during his life he had filled important offices in that order.

has lost another of the few remaining links that carry us back to the past; an aged and honored Christian neighbor has been suddenly called from earth to join the other dear old friends and loved ones who have gone before. He was loved and trusted and mingled with while on earth. Besides friends and relatives he leaves two sons, Louis, and Earle, an elder sister of the deceased, Mrs. Harry Wright of Middleton, to mourn the loss of an ever kind and affectionate father whose memory will be cherished by his always cheerful even though they may be for long mingle with sadness.

Two sisters also survive him, Mrs. Fred Hooper of Liberty Maine, and Mrs. Edward M. Mason, of Haverhill, Mass. the late Mrs. Louis D. Savage, of Haverhill, Mass. who spent the remainder of his life well spent in youth and in middle years. When the end drew near he remained calm and unmoved. Death had no fear for him as he looked toward the future, he was assured that there was no dark valley. That Master whom he had delighted to serve and to honor, would be his light and his strength and in His presence there can be no darkness. His passing was one of deep peace.

The funeral service which was very largely attended was held in the afternoon of Tuesday, December 28th, in the Christian Church, Charlottetown. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. O. Cooper, assisted by Rev. G. C. Webster and Rev. H. I. Denton. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The messages of comfort and sympathy and also the many acts of kindness shown by the neighbors and friends at the time of Mr. Biggar's illness and death were very much appreciated by his loved ones. The honorary pall-bearers were the deacons of the Christian Church namely: Messrs. Frank Hickox, Harry Williams, Herbert Platts, John Stewart, Edward Sellick and Mr. Donald McKinnon K. C. of

MR. JOSEPH DAVISON BIGGAR

On Sunday, December 26th, 1937, Mr. Joseph Davison Biggar, a very highly esteemed citizen of Charlottetown passed peacefully away in the Prince Edward Island Hospital at the advanced age of 78 years.

The deceased had been in his fairly good condition of health until some few days before the coming of the end when he was taken suddenly ill. All that medical skill and kind friends could do was done but all in vain. Instead of becoming stronger as his loved ones kept believing that he might, his strength gradually waned until on the above mentioned date his gentle spirit winged its Heavenlyward flight. Besides a sorrowing widow, Mr. Biggar leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving father three daughters and two sons. The daughters are, Mrs. M. Gillis, Charlottetown, Mrs. H. M. Parkman and Mrs. G. F. Hickox, Jamaica Plain, Mass. The sons are Samuel K. Biggar, New Glasgow, N. S. and Stanford Biggar, Charlottetown. All are feeling their great and unexpected loss very keenly. Two daughters, viz. Mrs. D. W. Matheson and Mrs. H. Buchanan also two sons James and Ernest predeceased their father several years ago.

Mr. Biggar was the son of Mr. James R. Biggar of Bradabane, one of the stalwarts of his day and generation, who always stood for the things that were best, and who for fifty years was an elder in the Presbyterian Church at Summerfield. In Mr. Biggar's father's family, there were, besides himself four sisters, viz. Mrs. Angus Matheson, Springfield, and Mrs. Samuel Drummond, of Freeville, who survive him. Mrs. Wallace Drummond and Mrs. Muriel Kennedy died some time ago.

Mr. Biggar was a man who was held in high esteem by all who had the privilege of knowing him. Following in the foot steps of his father he took a deep interest in all that pertained to the welfare of the school, of the community and especially of the church. For forty years he was a deacon in the Christian Church at Bradabane. He was known far and wide as a man of integrity and real worth.

In his later years after having retired from active service, he moved into Charlottetown, where he spent the remainder of his days enjoying the fruits of a life well spent in youth and in middle years. When the end drew near he remained calm and unmoved. Death had no fear for him as he looked toward the future, he was assured that there was no dark valley. That Master whom he had delighted to serve and to honor, would be his light and his strength and in His presence there can be no darkness. His passing was one of deep peace.

The Prince Edward Island Teachers' Federation

reflected in examination results. Premier Angus L. Macdonald told the Rowell Commission today. Of all rural students who try the standard examination for Grade 11, only about 25 per cent are successful, while about 60 per cent of candidates from urban school succeed, he said.

For lack of proper funds, 112 one-room schools in the province have more than 50 pupils each.

Nearly nine and a half million cases constituted the pack of canned vegetables in Canada in 1937, in comparison with 7,948,240 cases in 1936.

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

Headache is a source of great suffering and often leads to serious derangements of health. Headache is nearly always symptomatic of some diseased condition, rather than a disease itself, but in most cases comes from a disordered stomach, or poor circulation of the blood, and the cause must be removed before relief can be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters helps remove the cause of headache by acting on different organs of the body to regulate, strengthen and purify the system.

Mrs. ANNETT J. WILLIAMS, Lac Ste. Anne, Alta., writes: "I suffered for years with dizzy headaches, and sometimes they were so bad I could not get any sleep. My neighbour told me about Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking several bottles my headaches had disappeared. My husband was troubled with pimples on his face, causing him great discomfort when shaving, but after he had taken two bottles of B.B.B. he got rid of the pimples." Put up by The T.
