

Woman's Realm -:- Social and Personal -:- Fashions -:- Literature

A Fashion Hint

PRACTICAL SMART

A style you'll especially like because of smart intricate lines that makes it so individual. Flared fullness is concentrated at centre-front with slightly dipping hem.

Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. What is the correct color of ink to use for social correspondence? A. Black ink only.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Happenings of the Week

You are the person who has to decide whether you'll do it or toss it aside. You are the person who makes up your mind.

It has been announced by the Governor-General's Secretary that their Excellencies will go to Quebec City, arriving there on Wednesday, June 12.

It is announced as a probability that the King will attend the Ascot race meeting on June 18 while he is staying at Windsor.

Despite the Court's absence from Town, the coming London season promises to be in every way as brilliant as any of its predecessors.

Prospective Royal visitors from abroad are fairly numerous, and include that popular couple the King and Queen of the Belgians.

Since Prince George has given up an active career in the Navy to enter the service of the Foreign Office in Whitehall he will be a frequent deputy for the King and the Prince of Wales.

Miss Margaret McCabe of Central Bedeque has returned from a delightful three months visit to New York Philadelphia, Long Island and Boston.

As pearl necklaces have come back to life this season, a charming new boutonniere is now being made to accompany them.

Mr. Lawrence Enman, who arrived in Summerside, with his wife and children about a month ago from Moose Jaw, Sask.

Mrs. John McDonald and little son Junior, of Moncton are visiting Mr. McDonald's mother, Mrs. J. W. Callbeck, of Summerside.

On Saturday afternoon last a piano recital was given by Misses Erma Patterson and Jessie McLeod, pupils of Professor Thompson, at the latter's studio in Zion Church.

Mrs. O. L. Leigh Spencer of Calgary is the welcome guest of her parents Mr. Justice and Mrs. F. L. Hazard.

Mrs. J. Harold McCabe and bright young daughter, Miss Betty of Boston are at present visiting in New York, the guests of Mrs. McCabe's niece Miss Lena McLure at the Fanhellenic Hotel.

Miss Mona Wilson who has been in Ottawa in connection with Red Cross activities is expected home tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. E. Longworth left Thursday morning for Montreal where they will attend the McGill Convocation.

The members of the Golf Club are eagerly anticipating the official opening which is scheduled for next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner who have been spending the winter months with their daughter Mrs. Lloyd E. Wellner left Thursday for their home in Sackville.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Houston accompanied by Mrs. Hearst and Miss Ruth Hearst are among those in attendance at the District Rotary Conference in Halifax this week.

Mrs. J. J. Stewart, 26 Fitzroy St., is being welcomed home from Beverly, Mass. She is accompanied by her sister, Miss Janet Sutherland, R. N., of the Beverly Hospital who is recuperating after her recent severe illness and will remain here for the summer months.

Congratulations are being extended to Miss Constance I. McFarlane who won the Governor-General's gold medal the highest award to a student of the graduating class in the gift of Dalhousie University.

Mrs. J. J. Johnston is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Walter Nugent, in Saint John.

Many friends here will be interested in the engagement announced this week in Halifax by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Winfield of their daughter, Freda W., to Mr. Henry Gerald Stairs, son of Major and Mrs. H. B. Stairs, wedding to take place early in June.

Lord Aberdeen, former governor-general of Canada, now 82, had his voice recorded on a wax record at Queen's Hall, London, recently, when he sang "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and "Will Ye No Come Back to Me."

As pearl necklaces have come back to life this season, a charming new boutonniere is now being made to accompany them.

Mr. Lawrence Enman, who arrived in Summerside, with his wife and children about a month ago from Moose Jaw, Sask., on leave from the branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce there has been transferred to Charlottetown where he is being warmly welcomed.

Mrs. John McDonald and little son Junior, of Moncton are visiting Mr. McDonald's mother, Mrs. J. W. Callbeck, of Summerside.

For those who do not care to carry Continued on page 15

new flavor for soups

JUST sprinkle in some Kellogg's Rice Krispies next time you have soup. Adds the flavor of toasted rice. Delicious!

Rice Krispies is the new and different cereal. So crisp it crackles in milk or cream. Wonderful for breakfast, lunch or supper. Try a package. At grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

it's new! Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

Dorothy Dix Letter Box

Unutterable Folly of the Secret Marriage. Bad Taste of Making Up in Public—Is it Possible to Love Two People in the Same Way?

Dear Miss Dix—I am in love with a medical student who will not finish school for two more years and who will not be financially able to marry until he gets settled in practice.

Not so the secret wedding. That sets all the tongues in the community wagging, for no matter how careful you are, you will be sure to be discovered.

You say you are afraid that you will lose this young man's love if you do not agree to a secret marriage. Believe me, my dear, you are much more likely to lose it if you do.

These dangers confront you whether you marry him or not. A marriage certificate will not bridge over your separation.

Besides this, the very fact that he was married to you, that he was bound to come back to you whether he wanted to or not, would have the tendency to disillusion him about you.

There is less reason now than ever before for a girl to be guilty of the folly of a secret marriage, herself. So if you and your young man are so much in love that you cannot wait, get married openly and honorably.

Dear Miss Dix—What do you think of women who do their primping in public? The other night I saw a girl standing in the middle of a ballroom and, while talking to three men, take out her compact and start powdering her nose.

I am with you, Mr. Reader. I have never got over being shocked at the bad taste of the women who make up their faces in public, and thereby give away all the secrets of their toilet.

And it certainly does make me fighting mad to have a bobbed-haired sister comb her hair in a restaurant. Yet that happens continually. Nothing is more common than to see a woman calmly take out her comb and comb her hair in the theatre or at a public table.

It is all right for women to use cosmetics and to make themselves as beautiful as they can. I have nothing but good words for the woman who makes roses bloom on a sallow cheek, and who puts a permanent crimp in lank locks, and who calcimines a sallow complexion until it is like a lily.

The only thing that reconciles me to this public beautifying is the spectacle it affords of perfect and complete satisfaction when it is accomplished. Watch the next woman you see who draws out her compact and makes up her face. When it is done, she regards her handwork with the same look of satisfaction that some great artist must wear when he achieves his masterpiece.

Dear Miss Dix—If you have loved and lost one who was extremely dear to you, is it possible ever to love some one else in the same way and to the same extent?

I don't think we ever love any two people in the same way, because we love one person for one quality and another person for another quality.

You may love one man because he is gentle and tender and understanding, and another man because he is bold and domineering and a caveman. You may love John because you have to mother him and look out for him, and Bob because he protects you and takes care of you. And you can love one as much as the other.

That is why it is so foolish to be jealous of the love for the dead, or to make a fetish of it to which one sacrifices the happiness of the living.

asked, with a supercilious smile, "Why on earth are you always chattering to yourself?" "Sure, for two very good reasons, "What are they?"

"Well, bedad, one is that I loike to listen to a sensible man, and the other is that I loik to talk to a sensible man."

A Morning Smile

AN IRISH STORY The New Irish pupil at a big boarding school excited much curiosity by his habit of talking to himself. One day a senior boy stopped him and

Milady Beautiful

By Lois Leeds

BEAUTY IN MIDDLE AGE Lost youth to some women is a tragedy. They try vainly to keep Father Time at bay by wearing clothing that is too youthful, or by acting the role of 20 instead of 50.

Avoid Wrinkles and Gray Hair Eye wrinkles, which are usually the first to appear, should not be accepted tamely, however, but should be checked either by overcoming eye-strain or worry or whatever is their cause.

At bedtime, after removing all make-up with cold cream and washing the face, dry and pat a little muscle oil on the wrinkles. Leave this on overnight. Be sure to have eight or nine hours of undisturbed sleep every night in a quiet, dark, well-ventilated room.

Few women admire white hair on their own heads, but they admit the beauty of a silvery or gray coiffure on others. If premature graying hair is a source of annoyance, treatments to check this condition should be instituted as soon as the first white hairs appear.

Habits to Avoid Milady's figure and the way she carries herself give a good clue to her real age. Defects in posture should be corrected in youth; when middle age arrives, it will be too late.

One's health, one's diet, the balance between activity and relaxation, mental state and health in general, all affect the condition of the whole body, including its external covering, the skin.

Massage is a passive form of exercise that stimulates the flow of blood. Sallow, wrinkled, and flabby skins indicate poor circulation, so these conditions are helped by the right sort of facial massage taken at least once a week.

A special massage oil is made of the following: One ounce of sweet almonds, 2 ounces olive oil, 1-2 ounce cologne water or alcohol, 5 drops tincture of benzoin, 15 drops sandalwood oil. Mix the cologne water with the oils gradually. Add the perfume and benzoin drop by drop. Shake well.

A mild skin tonic to be patted on after the massage may be made of 2 ounces orange flower water, 2 drams glycerin, 4 drams cologne water, 1 dram boric acid, 1 dram tincture of lavender, 6 ounces rose-water. Shake well. Apply with a clean piece of absorbent cotton.

Discretion in Choosing Colors One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

One must not forget that the beauty of the mature woman is different from that of the young girl, and that it requires a different background to enhance its charms. One of the most marked and regretted changes that come with middle age is a darkened complexion.

Buyer's and Seller's by Agnes Kent

Thankful Morning Thoughts

Do you ever lie abed for those few extra luxurious moments and do a little thankful thinking—you know those moments when you think you would give an arm or an eye for a half day more of unbroken rest? Ah! well, we are better off than our grandmothers; even if, as they say, we have neither their strength nor their will.

What set me thinking along these lines was the low, sweet tinkle of my new alarm clock and the almost simultaneous click of the mechanism of the drafts of our furnace that adjust the temperature of our house for the day. When grandmother was a girl the best of alarm clocks was a terrestrial affair in the early morning crashing one back to wakefulness with a disturbing shock; and then the fires had to be lighted in chilly rooms.

But day after day the many servants of our generation have found new comforts for us to enjoy—no only comforts but luxuries in every department of life, and as each one finds a new thing, be it food or pleasure, or lovely new fabric, or a cheaper motor car, or a new lotion for the face and hands, he cries out the news that all may hear.

Every day's newspaper tells us of some way in which the road of daily life have been made smoother and easier for us to travel.

For The Cook

DATE LOAF

One cup shortening (1/2 cup lard), 1 cup sugar. Cream together and then add 1 cup sour milk, to which add 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 pound dates stoned and cut up, 1/2 pound broken walnuts, 2 eggs. Beat all together and then add enough Graham flour to make a stiff mixture. Bake about one hour in a moderate oven. I usually put some of the mixture into baking powder tins. It is so nice for afternoon tea.

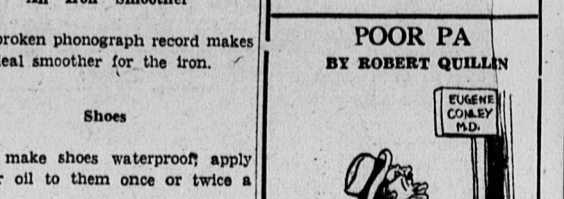

Daily Arguments

AUNT HET BY CLAUDE GALLAN

"Ella May says she doesn't like the smell of a kerosene stove, but I don't see how it could make her kitchen any worse."

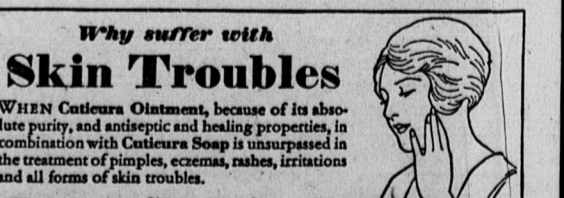

POOR PA BY ROBERT QUILLIN

"I thought our daughter-in-law was really sick, but Ma says it's just one of the attacks she has when she can't buy 'some-thin' she wants."

Why suffer with Skin Troubles

WHEN Cuticura Ointment, because of its absolute purity, and antiseptic and healing properties, in combination with Cuticura Soap is unsurpassed in the treatment of pimples, eczema, rashes, irritations and all forms of skin troubles.

Cuticura for PURITY Ointment 25c. and 50c. Soap 25c. Talcum 25c. Sample each free. Address Canadian Distributors: J. T. Wain Company, Limited, Montreal.

METROPOLITAN STORES LTD

Another of our many opening Specials Ladies Rayon Nightgowns. Lace trimmed $1.00 Watch for our grand opening "Ad" Tuesday