

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1910.

THE CLOSE OF THE PARLIAMENTARY SESSION.

The Parliamentary session just closed at Ottawa will pass into history as one of the most momentous since the union of the Provinces...

Hitherto Canada had done nothing in the matter of sea defence, nothing for herself, nothing for the Empire of which we form a part...

This is not the place to discuss the plan on which Parliament has decided to proceed, as to which there are differences of opinion...

Another important decision reached during the session was to proceed at once with the construction of the railway to connect the interior of the prairie country with Hudson Bay...

contemplated at the outset, together with the large new expenditures which the creation of a navy and the new railway project just referred to will involve...

The Laurier Government has been exceedingly bold in its measures for developing transportation and in making provisions for the national defence by sea and land...

With the session Earl Grey's term of office approaches its close, and Parliament has fittingly expressed in its address to him the high appreciation which is felt throughout the country...

The great cost of the Transcontinental Railway, far above what was contemplated at the outset, together with the large new expenditures...

rier in his statement made in Parliament that no contractors with the Government had been asked to contribute or had contributed...

Referring to an article in yesterday's Guardian as to dangers and losses from fire, our Ottawa telegram in the same issue stated that Canada's fire losses for April amounted to the large total of $1,177,237...

As mentioned some days since in this paper, it was expected that at or about the time of the prorogation of Parliament official announcement would be made of the appointment of a new Lieutenant Governor...

A while ago the ministerial press was a good deal exercised over the troubles in the Opposition camp. Now the Opposition press claims that there is dissension in the Cabinet...

HEINZE SCORES A POINT IN HIS TRIAL.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Judge Hough today plainly told United States District Attorney Wise that he failed in a two days effort to connect F. Augustus Heinze with the so-called pool in United States stock in 1907...

ANOTHER GRUESOME STORY.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Harry Levenson, under indictment for selling young girls into shame, told that there are at least 3 (stockades) in New York in each of which from 5 to 10 girls are kept ready for instant delivery wherever wanted.

PATON'S A sale at $15 for men's suits that are altogether different from regular fifteen-dollar suits. Nothing unusual about the price, to be sure. There are thousands of men's suits in all parts of the city priced $15, but the unusual part of this sale is the class of suits to be found here now at $15. They never, when being made were intended to bear $15 tags. PHONE NINE SIX SILK SALE DAY MAY SIXTH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TEN. A plain statement—backed up by the goods—is in the writer's opinion a better selling agent than all the exaggerated ideas that could be crowded into a page by even the most highly paid word contortionist. The facts in this case are—339 yards of BEAD NEW SILK, 27 inches wide, suitable for evening or summer dresses, came to us by express yesterday, go on sale this morning at 9 a. m. at 45c a yard. Colors—Saxe blue, grey, rose, Nile green, golden brown, honey, champagne, pale blue and amethyst. We don't mention any other date but May 6th as we don't expect to have a yard by 6 p. m.—neither do we mention the regular price of this silk but leave you to decide the worth. Paton's. "Bring the little ones to our cream parlors if you want pure ice cream. E. J. Desroches, Sunnyside 5-6411.

THE PREACHER WHO EDITED A NEWSPAPER

The elder or deacon who thinks he can preach better than the pastor, and the man who feels that he can conduct a newspaper better than the editor are still extant. And it has happened that a preacher has become an editor and a right good editor, too, as witness the late Rev Dr Elda of the St. John Telegraph, and Rev J. A. Macdonald of the Toronto Globe, the latter now in fierce controversy with the redoubtable Minister of Justice. But these cases are rare. How it would be if a real born editor were to invade the pulpit, can only be imagined. The pews are spared such an infliction. Be that as it may, the Rev James McLeod, Presbyterian minister of Pasadena, California, recently undertook to edit for one day the Pasadena Star, and this is the last thing he wrote at the end of the day, a sadder and wiser man: "My time is now almost up as I on this last line, my hand is almost paralyzed; my brain is befuddled, and I am free to confess that I am right glad to vacate this holy spot. Such rush and riot and disarray! Such a jumble and potpourri! It strikes me as the daily effort to bring order out of chaos, and to do it lightning quick, I am reminded of the memorable words: "The earth was without form and void, and darkness was on the face of the waters."

"Never shall I criticise newspapermen more, I shall pray for them. They shall have my heart's forebearance henceforth and forever, the hardest worked, shortest lived, brain-workers on this watery old world of ours."

THE FIELDING TESTIMONIAL.

The Opposition papers, most of which at the outset expressed a qualified approval of the presentation to Hon. W. S. Fielding in recognition of his high character and great public services, are more recently resurrecting some very pointed remarks made in time past by Sir Richard Cartwright and Sir Wilfrid Laurier when they were in Opposition, in regard to a testimonial gift to the late Sir Hector Langevin. It had then been claimed that the names of the donors should be given to the public, and that contributions from contractors or from others having dealings with, or expecting favors from the Government were highly improper. The answer to this is furnished by Sir Wilfrid Lau-
