Queen Square Cadets to be Inspected today

The annual inspection of the Queen Square Cadet Corps will be held this afternoon immediately after the inspection of West Kent Cadet Corps at 4.00 p.m.

The exercises will be judged by Captain J. Morris, General Staff Officer in charge of Cadet Training for Military District No. 6, with headquarters at Halifax, N.S. His Honour Lieut.-Governor Le-Page will take the salute.

The added impetus given to military training since the outbreak of war has served to increase the interest among our citizens for cadet work and weather permitting, a large crowd of interested spectators is expected to be in attendance.

The Queen Square Corps, under the instruction of James W. F. McCallum and A. P. Doucette has trained hard for this year's inspection and despite the rainy weather of the last two weeks, which prevented any cadet drill whatsoever, are confident of upholding the very enviable record established by this school in the past.

The many friends of the corps are cordially invited to attend the exercises.

The following is the order of the inspection exercises.

Lambert Simnel Derby favorite

NEWMARKET, June 17—(AP)—This tiny town, cradle of thoroughbred racing, prepared today to handle one of its biggest crowds when 21 three-year-olds match strides in the 161st running of the Derby tomorrow.

The mile and half classic, run at Epsom Downs in pre-war days, is scheduled to start, barring Axis action, at 2 p.m. (9 a.m. A.D.T.). Time of the start has been advanced over other years in order to permit the crowd to get home before the nightly blackout.

The favorite, though not wide openly so, is the Duke of Westminster's Lambert Simnel at 9 to 2. The Duke's colt ganied his position by reason of his recent victory in the two thousand guineas, mile trial for Derby entries.

Th second choice and strongly back at 11 to 2 is Sun Castle, winner of the Melbourn Stakes and owned by Lord Portal, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Supply.

Bombers take Eight straight

Contrary to the report that appeared in this paper yesterday the Queen St. Service Station Bombers defeated the Sporting Club Vics in a Juvenile game Monday night on the Victoria Park diamond by the score of 20-18. The win over the second place Vics enabled the Bombers to extend their current undefeated streak to eight consecutive games, and almost insured the Bombers of taking the first section. They are four games ahead of the Vics and one victory in their remaining three games will give them the first section in the Juvenile Softball League.

The game Monday night was a typical Vics-Bombers game. It was close all the way and only when there were three men out in the last half of the ninth inning were the Bombers assured of victory. The Bombers led all through the game but the Vics pressed hard. The Vics were behind four runs going into the last of the ninth. They managed to squeeze in two runs while two men were out. A liner over the short-stop was caught by Joey LeClair to end the rally and also end the game. There were no individual stars in the game except the both pitcsers, Cooby Sherry for the Bombers and Skinny Cudmore for the Vics.

Lineups:

Bombers: L. Murphy, c; M. Sherry, p; W. Casford, 1st; H. Murnaghan 2nd; E. Trainor, 3rd; J. LeClair, ss; B. Whalen lf; E. McKinon and F. LeClair, cf; H Paquet, rf

Vics: B. White c; S. Cudmore, p; L. Prowse 1st; J. Mcnnis 2nd; E. Shepherd, 3rd; F. O'Brien, ss; H. Ryan lf; H. Stanley, cf; R. MacDonald, rf.

Interpreting The War

By Kirke L. Simpson
Associated Press Staff Writer

Just a year ago yesterday (Tuesday) France collapsed, and Britain decided to fight on undismayed—a decision which now seems to be well vindicated.

It was voiced to Parliament and to the world the following day, June 18, 1940, by Prime Minister Churchill:—

"I have thought it right to give the country some indication of the solid, practical grounds upon which we are basing our resolve to continue the war," he said. "I can assure Parliament and the country that our professional advisers unitedly advise that we should do it, and that there are good reasonable hopes of final victory."

There now seems no reasonable doubt that French surrender a year ago was based very largely on the expectation of the Petain regime that Britain also must yield and seek a negotiated peace. If only to save London and all England from German air bombing and even invasion, defeat-crushed French leaders foresaw that result.

That the Axis mates in Berlin and Rome shared that expectation goes without saying. Yet 12 months later Britain still stands. Her world-girdling frontiers of Empire are unbreached. The fighting will of her people is unbroken, and her means both of defence and attack are vastly greater than a year ago and steadily increasing.

On this June 18, despite intervening defeats and discouragements and 12 months of air attacks such as no other nation has ever known, Britain is on the offensive rather than purely the defensive. Her armies and her fleets of air and sea in Egypt, North Africa and Syria are striking out, not merely waiting to be attacked. Her assault bombers at home are dealing heavy blows across the Channel and over Germany itself.

That is a far cry from the plight in which Britain stood that black June of 1940. Her peril is grave, but imponderable forces are at work across the Atlantic and even in increasing strain on relations between Russia and Germany that could help her through the critical six months ahead.

Just why there has been a substantial and prolonged lull in Nazi air attack on Britain it is difficult to determine. That it is the prelude to a new and more terrible storm somewhere cannot be doubted. That is working definitely against the Axis as America fashions her "arsenal of democracy."

Implicit in the Russo-German crisis, featured by vast armies reported massed against each other from the Baltic to the Black Sea, is the possibility that Hitler with a captured or overawed continent under his heel must seek greater stocks of food, of oil, of vital war materials than all his victories have yet won. Many informed observers read that answer to the Moscow-Berlin riddle.

By every Hitlerian precedent, it is not for a prolonged siege the Fuehrer is preparing but for some tremendous new stroke of blitzkrieg war, be it against British life lines in the east or against Britain herself. That is the obvious expectation in Britain. It explains British offensive moves by land in the east and by air in the west on this first anniversary of the fall of

Louis - Conn Bout Tonight Will Answer Many Questions

By Sid Feder
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, June 17—(AP)—Joe Louis puts his world heavyweight championship on the line for the 18th time tomorrow night, and for the first time in three years there's some question as to whether his guns are going to go off.

He tangles with Billy Conn, a handsome curly-haired Irish kid from Pittsburgh, for 15 rounds or less in the Polo Grounds at 11 p.m. A.D.T. and so large has "Pretty Boy's" slim figure loomed on the heavyweight horizon in the last six months that 40,000 are expected to pour into the big Harlem ball park.

They will contribute to a gross gate which promoter Mike Jacobs expects will hit the $400,000 mark and go beyond. And they will be sitting in to see the answer to two questions:—

Has Louis gone back; has he lost his dynamite?

Are Conn's terrific speed and dazzling left hand enough to stand up for the "derby route" against the fearful flailing power of the Bomber?

No matter how you look at it, that is exactly how the fight shapes up. It's the old argument of the good little man and the good big one. At 27, riding high during the most active reign any heavyweight ruler has ever enjoyed, Louis is no longer the dark destroyer of that night three years ago when he put Shhmeling into a hospital in 2 1-2 minutes. He has lost the drive and "spark" which invariably leaves a fighter when he's no longer hungry. He is slower. He doesn't "get off" his punches with the speed of a 16-inch gun cutting loose any more. But he can still make birdies sing for anybody he hits often enough.

SOFTBALL TONIGHT

The Hi-Y Grads will meet the Signallers in a Senior Softball League game at Victoria Park this evening at 6.45. This should be a very interesting game as both squads boast some formidable ball players on their lineups. It is expected that a large number of fans will be on hand to witness this exciting game.

WILD PITCH COSTLY

PHILADELPHIA, June 17—(AP)—A wild pitch by Phil Marchildon permitting Gerald Walker to score from third base in the eighth inning shattered a 2-2 tie and gave Cleveland an uphill 3-2 American League victory over the Athletics tonight.

Yankees' rush Interrupted By Chicago 8-7

NEW YORK, June 17—(AP)—The pell-mell rush of the Yankees was interrupted today by Chicago White Sox with an 8-7 victory after New York had won eight straight games.

It was a wild see-saw struggle with each team using three pitchers and the ordinarily light-hitting White Sox getting 11 of the game's 20 hits. Nineteen of the blows were singles and the only extra base knock was a two-run homer by Charley Keller to tie the score in the eighth inning.

This spoiled the farewell appearance of Johnny Rigney, the Sox' sterling righthander, who expects to be inducted into the army Friday.

At Boston, after setting off the wildest barrage of their home season, an eight run-rally in the seventh inning, to take the opener, 14-6, the Red Sox were forced to split their Bunker Hill Day doubleheader before a crowd of 23,000 when Detroit Tigers came from behind in the ninth to capture the second game, 8-5.

With Rudy York blasting out his 14th homer of the season with the bases loaded in the second inning, the Tigers built up a 6-5 lead that they protected until Boston found Luther Thomas and Harold Newhouser in the seventh.

Cards thump Phillies 11-3

NEW YORK, June 17—(AP)—Cardinals thumped Philadelphia Phillies 11-3 at St. Louis today in a continuation of their drive toward the National League pennant but for all practical purposes the game could have ended after the first inning.

Before a Cardinal was retired four runs had been scored, enough to win.

At Chicago, a three-run homer by Jim Wasdell in the first half of the 10th inning was more than Cubs could match, although Hank Leiber hit for the circuit with one on, and the Dodgers won a 7-6 victory.

For nine innings the game was a pitching duel between Whitlow Wyatt and Bill Lee with honors about even.

At Cincinnati, young Art Johnson, sensational young southpaw up from Hartford, Conn., lasted just long enough to get one man out as Reds reached him for four runs on four hits in the first inning and went on to defeat Boston Braves 5-3.

It was just as well that the Reds made hay when they did as Johnny Hutchings, released a week ago in a deal that brought Lloyd Waner to the Reds, turned on his old teammates with three-hit ball the rest of the way.

At Pittsburgh, the wildness of Rip Sewell helped New York Giants to race away to a five-run lead in the first three innings and cost Pirates a 6-3 defeat.
