"Don't Put Off"

It is surprising how many habitually put off a plain duty that should be done today.

If such can be convinced that this procrastinating habit is a direct loss of money, a cure is at once made.

Every season for some cause or other numbers of our customers put off from week to week the pickling of small cucumbers, small white silver onions, the pickling of green tomatoes, the making of chow-chow. They know that home-made are wholesome compared with the imported trash, they know the whole family will not touch the imported stock, if the home-made is available, but still they put it off, off, off, and at last they awake to the fact that the season is past, or frost has injured the crop, and the price has doubled, or they are not obtainable at any price.

We have now choice pickling cucumbers, small silver onions, green tomatoes, for chow-chow, pickling spice, choice pickling vinegar, very reasonable prices. The present low prices will not be any less—may be very much higher. Have you any thing to gain by waiting?

Just now sugar corn is in large demand. As the season for this delicious vegetable is short, use it largely.

Celery—this nerve building vegetable is not used to the extent it should. In fact, most vegetables have some medical properties and should be used most liberally.

MORE New Monarch Broad cloths—another great shipment fills in the gaps made by the great selling of this splendid cloth. Monarch is the acme of Broadclothvalue at 1.75. Moore & McLeod. 9—2dtf

There's only one Monarch broadcloth, and it is sold exclusively in this store. If the original, and the best is good enough for you, you'll specify Monarch at 1.75. Moore & McLeod. 9—2dtf

There is no Broadcloth at the price "just as good as Monarch." When you hear "just as good" remember that its safer to have the standard of value. Monarch at 1.75 is the best value broadcloth on the market. Moore & McLeod. 9—2dtf

Our dress goods buyers are always on the watch to beat their own records—they've been trying for years to find a better cloth than Monarch for the money, every substitute on the market has been compared and Monarch is still queen of suiting broadcloths at 1 75. When anything better is made you'll find it here. Moore & McLeod. 9—2dtf

Monarch, the original, standard 1.75 broadcloth is the cloth that hangs perfectly, that drapes with absoute grace, and that wears until the wearer is satisfied. It comes in all the new shades, it is 54 to 56 inches wide, and it costs 1.75 per yard. Moore & McLeod. 9...2dtf

DEADLIEST OF POISONS IN REMAINS OF MRS. CRIPPEN

LONDON, Sept. 7—At the opening yesterday of the trial of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, who is charged with the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the prosecution announced that large quantities of poison had been found in the woman's body and that there were evidences that she had been subjected to an operation.

Ethel Clara Le Neve, the doctor's typist, who accompanied him in his flight to Canada after the disappearance of his wife and who has been held on the same charge, was also brought to the bar yesterday, but the crown stated that it had been decided to confine the allegations against the girl being an accessory after the fact. This relieves Miss Le Neve of any foreknowledge of the crime and is in line with the belief of her family and friends that she did not share Crippen's confidence up to the time that his wife dropped out of sight and was said by him to have died in California.

Interest in the Crippen case, which was intense during the search for the doctor, has by no means worn out, as was shown by the crowd which gathered in the vicinity of the Bow Street police court when the trial was opened yesterday.

Dr. Travers Humphrey, in reviewing the case for the crown, definitely stated that the physicians who made the post mortem examination of the mutilated parts unearthed in the cellar of the Crippen home, had discovered the presence of large quantities of hyoscin—a colorless liquid poison—and also detected evidences that an operation had been performed.

Speaking of the relations between Crippen and his wife, Mr. Humphreys said that the affection apparently was on the surface, according to Crippen's own statement as the result of Belle's outbursts of temper. The prosecutor spoke of Mrs. Crippen as Belle, the name used by Crippen when referring to his wife. The two, the prosecutor continued, had occupied separate rooms for four years. For the last three years Miss Le Neve had been Crippen's mistress, which might account for the wife's anger.

In January Miss Le Neve was feeling her position in regard to Crippen acutely and particularly so at that time, expressed considerable jealousy of Mrs. Crippen.

In a written statement made to Inspector Dew when the investigation first opened, Crippen said that Belle was living in the protection of another man when he married her in Jersey City. The doctor also spoke of Bruce Miller's alleged acquaintance with his wife while he was in America, and frequent threats which Belle had made to quit him and go with another man who occupied a better position in life.

Crippen's statement concluded with a story of the quarrel on the night of January 31st after Paul Martinetti and Mrs. Martinetti, who had spent the evening with the Crippens, had left the house. During the quarrel the doctor said that his wife threatened to leave him on the following day. On returning from business on February 1st, Crippen said he found that his wife had gone. He took steps to prevent a scandal and fabricated the story of her trip to California and her death there.

Counsel added that if it were possible to get Bruce Miller over here from Chicago he would be invited to attend the court, in order that the prisoner's statements might be put to a test.

Speaking of the post-mortem, the prosecutor said that Dr. Wilcox had found more than half a grain of hyoscin—one of the deadliest of poisons, and from the fact that such a quantity had been discovered after the parts had been buried for months the physician was able to say that several grains must have been administered at the time of death.

On January 19, said Mr. Humphreys, Crippen purchased five grains of hydro-bromide of hyoscin, a poison of such character that the person to whom it was administered would become unconscious almost instantly, though life might remain several hours.

Counsel did not suggest the want of money as the motive for the crime, but did say that the disappearance of Belle was a fortunate thing for Crippen from a monetary standpoint.

On January 2nd, the accused had pawned jewellery, for which he received $400, and on another day pawned other jewels, receiving $575. All of the jewellery pawned had been recognized as the property of Mrs. Crippen.

In conclusion the prosecutor said he questioned whether Miss Le Neve could have credited the extraordinary story of Mrs. Crippen's disappearance revealed to her by her husband.

THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—The formal opening of the 21st International Eucharistic Congress and the first ever held in the New World, took place here last evening at eight o'clock in St. James Cathedral amid extraordinary pomp and display probably never before seen in any Catholic centre on this continent.

Archbishop Bruchesi made many sacrifices to obtain this signal honor for the Canadian church and for his diocese, and his triumph last evening was sufficiently magnificent to repay this brilliant prelate and prince of the church for all he has done.

The legate in his opening address declared that in future these congresses would probably alternate between the Old and the New Worlds. Another important feature was the telegram to the King and His Majesty's reply which was as follows:—

"Balmoral, Sept. 6, 1910.

"His Eminence Cardinal
Vannutelli, Montreal:

"I sincerely thank your eminence, and all who are present at the International Eucharistic Congress in Montreal, for the expressions of loyalty and good wishes contained in the telegram which I have received today with much pleasure and satisfaction.

"(Signed,) GEORGE R.I."

KINGS COUNTY JAIL IS EMPTY.

HAMPTON, Kings Co., Sept. 7. — The first session of the Kings circuit court since the passage of the new judicatory act opened yesterday morning at the court house before Judge Barry. The panels of grand and petit juries were well represented, and after the former were sworn, Judge Barrey addressed them in the customary charge.

The grand jury preached Judge Barry with an address through their foreman, F. M. Sproul, in which it was stated that no person is at present in the county jail either on a criminal or civil process.

SCIENTISTS FIND PEST OF THE SOIL.

SHEFFIELD, Eng., Sept. 7. — At yesterday's meeting of the British Association, Dr Russell and Dr Hutchinson; who have long been experimenting in soil fertility, announced the discovery of the micro organism which destroys the bacteria essential to the fertility of the soil. A subsequent speaker declared that it was the most important agricultural discovery made in fifty years.

REPUBLICANS STILL HOLD VERMONT.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Sept. 7.—The Republicans carried Vermont in the state election yesterday, electing the entire state ticket, both members of congress and a legislature which will probably re-elect United States Senator Carroll S. Page for a second term.

The "Star" road to Satisfaction

Anybody can wash linen, or iron it, or starch it. There is no secret about it. But some, by taking pains, do it better than others do. Perhaps use better methods; better headwork; more "gumption." We think we do. Our work shows it. We take pains to have it better than most laundries believe it necessary. And it's the "Star" satisfaction which has given us a big business and still makes it grow. Try our painstaking ways.
