Beaver Flour

makes more bread to the barrel than any other flour on the market—bread that takes up water readily, "stands up" well in the oven, looks well, tastes well and is light and nutritious.

Being a carefully prepared blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat, Beaver Flour is also an ideal pastry flour, making the most delicious cakes, pies and biscuits.

Keeping two flours—one for bread and one for pastry—involves unnecessary expense and bother. Beaver Flour is best for both.

EAR TROUBLES FROM BATHING.

Sometimes a great deal of pain and trouble will arise from allowing water to enter the ear while bathing. Naturally, acute ear trouble from this cause is more likely to come from sea-bathing than from any other way, but a plain bath in the home bath-tub may be followed by ill consequences if the bather is ill constantly under water, or, if there are any waves, the water may strike the head with considerable impact, and floating particles be carried into the ear with great force.

In any case where pain and deafness seem to be the result of bathing, it is most desirable that a diagnosis should be made quickly and treatment started promptly, says The Youth's Companion. When this is done the trouble is quite likely to be brief and slight, but neglect of treatment often results in inflammation of the middle ear, with all its odious accompaniments.

Sometimes the mischief comes from a lot of water entering the ear where there is already caked wax. There may not be enough of this wax to produce unpleasant symptoms ordinarily, but the water causes it to swell and press against the walls, obstructs sound and gives a sensation as if there was a bubble or a foreign body inside the ear. There may not be pain in the time, but if something is not done at once, the swollen wax pressing against the internal skin will produce a sore place, and as pressure anywhere else would do, so after the skin is broken it is an easy step to infection.

With the pain there will generally begin a thin, watery discharge, gradually growing more profuse and becoming purulent. In such a case as this the walls of the canal leading to the internal ear may swell so much that it is almost impossible either to examine or to treat the case.

Sometimes the trouble is caused by infective material carried into the ear by the water, and once in, germs could ask no better place in which to grow and multiply than the interior of the ear. The treatment in either of these cases must first be a removal from the ear of the wax or the foreign matter carried in, and which is causing the trouble. There is still another type of case, where the breath, after being held for a long time in the lungs, is forcibly expelled, with the result that the air may be driven into the Eustachian tubes and middle ear-space, carrying with it secretion from the throat which starts a catarrhal trouble in the ear. In these cases there will be ringing and buzzing noises. A wad of cotton—not absorbent cotton—in the ear while bathing is a safeguard against all these uncomfortable sequences, or if a cap is worn, it may be pulled well down over the ear.

CHRONIC ULCERS

Mrs. J. A. Elworth, 902 Selkirk Ave., Winnipeg, says:—"Four years ago ulcers broke out on my left ankle and spread until from the top of my foot to my knee was one extended sore. One ulcer would be almost healed when a second would appear in a new place and in a remarkably short time a deep ulcer would be eaten into the flesh. The flesh on my leg turned blue and looked shocking indeed. I started using ointment after ointment, but received little or no benefit. The ulcers would heal for a time and then break out afresh. I was laid up in bed for a long time, absolutely unable to walk. My limb was so painful that I had no rest night after night.

I consulted five different doctors! Some advised my going into hospital; others said there was no cure for me. After using their ointments and preparations until I was positive they could not cure, I almost gave up in despair. "It was then that I got it!" Within a day it had given me some ease, and from that time I went on improving! The sores were so bad that it took some time to heal them, but Zam-Buk healed them all. The last was healed over a year ago and I have never had a moment's trouble since, from any form of ulceration.

Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, piles, festering sores, scalp sores, children's rashes, cuts, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases. Druggists and stores everywhere 50c box, or post free, Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

FUR NAMES.

The names given the various qualities of furs are more in the nature of trade names that have become recognized in the trade and, according to Vogue, are presumed to be known to the layman as not being in fact what they would seem to imply.

For example, what is called "Russian sable" is in many instances American sable, what is called "bear" is quite frequently dyed goat, and it should be borne in mind that "fox" is often dyed hare; "ermine," "sable" or "skunk," dyed marmot; "sable," dyed mink, "mink" or "Red River" and "Hudson seal," pulled and dyed musquash, "electric," pulled and dyed nutria or sheared and dyed rabbit; "beaver" and "otter," pulled or natural nutria; "beaver," sheared and dyed opossum; "seal," pulled and dyed otter; "sable" or "French sable," dyed rabbit; "ermine," white rabbit; "chinchilla," white rabbit dyed; "skunk," dyed wallaby; "fox," white hare, and "silver fox," fox or sable with white hairs inserted to give it the silver appearance.

In some instances this is, of course, not at all as it should be, whereas there might be some excuse for calling Angora goat "Persian goat," since this animal originated in the valleys of Angora in Asia.
