

Crockett & Storey Ltd. Open New Furniture Store Today

Opening today of the new premises of Crockett & Storey Ltd. on Kent Street makes a distinct addition to the business life of the city and also marks a big forward stride in the life of the company that came into being a little over two years ago.

It was in May 1946 that Mr. J. P. Crockett, then conducting a furniture store on Queen Street took Lt.-Col. F. J. Storey, a veteran of the second World War into partnership. Immediately plans were laid to enlarge with the site of the store being moved to the old Carver building on Queen Street.

MR. J. P. CROCKETT

Forced to vacate due to building operations the management took another big step forward when they leased the Kennedy property on Kent Street.

The firm was not out of the woods by any means, being forced to carry on in temporary quarters while their new site was being rebuilt. But today the time and effort that has been spent has proved worthwhile.

Crockett & Storey today boast one of the finest furniture establishments in the Province. The new building is a credit to all connected with its erection and carrying an outstanding line of home furnishings as they do, it may not be too long before the firm will become one of the best known in the entire Province.

Mr. J. P. Crockett, senior member of the firm is one of the island's prominent business men and a man who knows furniture thoroughly. His young partner, Lt.-Col. Storey, by strict attention to detail has also come along in the furniture game in a remarkable manner and the combination of youth and experience is already paying off big dividends.
