CLEANLINESS IMPORTANT FACTOR TO GOOD HEALTH.

The day is fast approaching when private houses will rival hospitals in cleanliness and sanitary furnishings. People are beginning to love cleanliness and to abhor dust and dirt as breeders of diseases and discomfort.

This love of cleanliness has brought about a change in ideas of finishing and furnishing houses. People are demanding that they shall be easily cleaned, and are learning that there must be simple things and simple conditions.

The modern housewife has for her working creed that of William Morris: "Have nothing you do not know to be useful and think to be beautiful."

That creed means less drudgery and greater enjoyment of life. It means that cosy corners and Oriental dens are no longer the ideals. Stuffiness and stale air are giving way to clear clean space, for people like to breathe deep these days.

This state of affairs helps toward good housekeeping, for it eliminates much unnecessary work.

The attic and the bonfire are two allies of the courageous housewife. In the first she stores things that are "under suspicion" until she feels that her judgment is final; to the other she assigns things which are of no use to anyone. Every house is full of such things.

They have been put away at odd times, having lost their first usefulness, but kept in the vague hope that they "might be of use some day." It has been necessary to handle them and clean them time and again, or else they have lurked in the dark corner of some kitchen cupboard, covered with dust and dirt.

When carpets become worn and must be renewed, it is a good time to change to a bare floor and a few rugs. The finishing of the floor is a very simple matter. It may be painted, stained, oiled or waxed. In either case it should be cleaned thoroughly, all stains removed and given a coat of "filler."

If the floor was not made for a carpet, there will probably be cracks which need filling. Putty, colored like the wood, is very satisfactory for this. If the boards are knotty they should be painted; otherwise a transparent finish may be used.

Stains made by paint or varnish are easily removed with ammonia, but it should be put on with a brush. The whole floor may be cleaned in this way.

The ammonia darkens the wood somewhat, merely oiling with crude oil, olive oil linseed or kerosene gives a good finish, provided a very small quantity is used, and that it is thoroughly rubbed in and no superfluous oil left on the floor.

Now that spring is here the heavy rugs and draperies can be taken out and receive a thorough beating and cleaning. Soiled spots can be removed by turpentine, gasoline, alcohol, chloroform or ether. When the odor has disappeared the articles may be covered with clean newspapers and rolled or folded for packing. They should then be wrapped several times with newspapers.

The odor of printer's ink is not agreeable to moths, and one can afford to be generous with papers. Be careful that they are whole and that the openings of one wrapping are covered by the next paper.

Be sure that no moths are in the goods when packed. Before packing furs clean them by wiping with a soft cloth dipped in alcohol or cologne.

Changing pictures from one room to another gives a pleasing variety and keeps the wall paper from becoming faded in spots. Many persons like to pack away the greater part of their bric-a-brac, for the heated months, bringing out only a few pieces at a time and enjoying each piece.

Those who know say that a mantelpiece should be used either to hold necessities or to display treasures. Obviously in the first instance it is allowable to crowd the shelf; but in the latter case not more than three or four pieces are proper.

The ideal bedroom has received much attention lately. Preference is given to walls tinted in water colors or painted in oils; picture molding and pictures are absent; the floor is bare, the rugs light and easily handled; matting and the beautiful rag carpet rugs, shown in large stores, are favorites.

Draperies are simple and washable. None but absolutely necessary furniture is provided.

Windows have either Venetian blinds, giving an agreeable light and admitting the air while excluding the sun, or Holland shades are placed, one on either sash, instead of a single one on the casing.

They are never exposed to wind or weather, and interfere in no way with ventilation.

There is a Difference

Scott's Emulsion is the original Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and has been the world's standard for 35 years.

There are thousands of so-called Emulsions, but they are cheap, worthless imitations and never half as good as the standard. They are like thin milk.

Scott's Emulsion

is like thick, rich cream. It is a concentrated food-medicine of the most beneficial sort. You can make it thin with milk or water, but don't buy the thin, worthless imitations.

Palpitation of the Heart.

One of the first danger signals that announce something wrong with the heart is the irregular or violent throb. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all gone" sinking feeling; or, again, there may be a most violent beating, with flushings of the skin, and visable pulsations of the arteries.

There may also be experienced a smothering sensation, gasping for breath, and feeling as though about to die.

In all such cases the action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in quieting the heart and restoring it to its normal beat, is, beyond all question marvellous, as our thousands of testimonials will show.

Mrs. Martha Mason, Marlbank, Ont., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I have been troubled with weakness and palpitation of the heart, would have severe choking spells and could scarcely lie down at all I tried many remedies but got none to answer my case like your pills did. I can recommend them highly to all with heart or nerve trouble."

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
