Drew Begins Weekly Press Conferences

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP) — George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, today launched a weekly series of press conferences and the opener was more than an hour's discussion ranging from constitutional amendments to the sartorial splendor of political leaders.

Mr. Drew told reporters, gathered in the Press Gallery lounge, that he wanted immediate Dominion-Provincial action to permanently determine the method by which Canada should obtain amendments to the British North America Act.

He claimed that this could be done before March 31, the day on which Newfoundland is scheduled to become the 10th Province of Canada.

That was why, he said, he opposed the joint Parliamentary petition to the Crown for B. N. A. Act amendments necessary to confirm the union, without prior consultation with the Provinces.

His efforts to that end were defeated by House votes earlier this week. Prime Minister St. Laurent has claimed that if Mr. Drew's efforts had succeeded it would have delayed union beyond the March 31 deadline on which the terms of union were based and thus nullified all the long negotiations leading to agreement on the terms. Mr. Drew declined to say what his attitude would have been if one or more of the Provinces had opposed the union legislation.

But he said he had no doubt that by "consultation" a satisfactory result would have been achieved.

Mr. Drew exchanged lengthy arguments on this point with Press Gallery constitutional "experts" but parried all efforts to pin him down to a detailed explanation of what he had meant by "consultation" and "satisfactory result."

He told the correspondents, as he has already told the House of Commons, that he fears the use of Gander Airport as an international cross-roads of the air will be prejudiced when Newfoundland becomes a Province of Canada.

Nothing should be done, he argued, to prevent the use of Gander, as at present, as an international airport where foreign lines may pick up and set down passengers on the North Atlantic flights.

He had reports that the Government of Canada proposed to restrict the use of the air port for passenger traffic to Trans-Canada Air Lines after Newfoundland joins Canada.

Mr. Drew said he had already gone on record as willing to see appeals to the judicial committee Privy Council abolished and said there should be a "constitutional tribunal" set up in Canada to deal with matters now taken on appeal from the Supreme Court of Canada to the Privy Council in London.

"Look, Dad, here's how it works"

THAT whole new world which comes into view for every youth starting his first job is a fascinating one for a young man who enters the service of the Bank.

Suddenly he discovers that banking is a business which does many things for many people.

Take the collection service for example. He learns that a Collection Bill is not simply a dry-as-dust document, but is actually part of an economical and efficient way by which the Bank speeds up payment between buyers and sellers in a host of commercial transactions.

Young men who start a banking career learn quickly that banking is useful in keeping money at work, and that good banking rests on good personal service. You'll find this point of view makes banking at The Bank of Nova Scotia a pleasure.

appeals to the Privy Council now is before Parliament.

He declined to discuss the probable date of the general election and said reports that Ivan Sabourin, his party's leader in Quebec would be asked to resign were news to him. Mr. Sabourin's future had not been discussed by him, Mr. Drew said.

He replied with a "no comment" when asked about reports that three Quebec members now serving under "independent" party labels would join the official opposition.

The members are Georges Heon (Argenteuil), Frederic Dorion (Charlevoix-Saguenay) and P. E. Gagnon (Chicoutimi). Finally Mr. Drew was asked his reaction to being chosen along with Prime Minister St. Laurent, as one of the 10 best-dressed men in Canada. The choice was made by the Retail Men's Wear Association of Canada.

He said he did not know the basis on which the selection was made, but it struck him as very fortunate that both the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition had been chosen.

Setting a precedent for Opposition leaders Mr. Drew has promised a regular Friday morning press conference. No member of the Government holds regular press conferences.

KEEP SPARES ON HAND! BRIGHTER-LASTING

A thirteenth of the earth's crust is aluminum. It is found in mountains and gems, in vegetables and clay, in meat and water — practically everywhere.

Long ago the Romans knew it as a salt. They called it "alumen" and used it as a medicine or for dyeing cloth.

Until the middle 1800's, the metal aluminum was rarer and more costly than gold. Napoleon III had his own personal tableware made of it.

Modern science found a way to make it cheaper. That is why, today, everybody can buy useful and lasting articles made of aluminum.

In Canada we have none of the high-grade aluminum ore called "bauxite". Canadians bring it in by shipload from British Guiana — a voyage of 3000 miles.

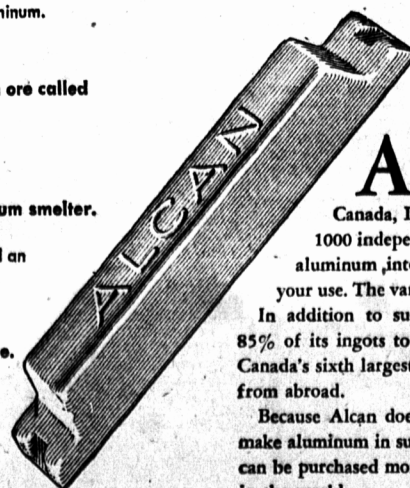

Northeastern Canada has the world's largest aluminum smelter. Alcan built it there, at Arvida. This site was chosen because it is close to both a port for ocean ships bringing bauxite and an abundant source of hydro-electric power.

Until Alcan harnessed this water power, it ran to waste. Smelting aluminum needs vast supplies of power. The electricity required to produce one ton of aluminum would light your house for fifteen years.

More than 15,000 people operate this Canadian industry. They earn more than thirty-five million dollars a year. These earnings flow across Canada.

Alcan (Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd.)

makes aluminum ingots. More than 1000 independent manufacturers across Canada shape aluminum into light, strong, non-rusting articles for your use. The variety grows daily.

In addition to supplying these firms, Alcan sells about 85% of its ingots to other countries. This aluminum is now Canada's sixth largest export, a source of much needed money from abroad.

Because Alcan does market so much abroad, it is able to make aluminum in such large quantities that, in ingot form, it can be purchased more cheaply in Canada than anywhere else in the world.
