Special to The Guardian. The general sentiment of the community was against risking the possibility of American retaliation, but all the risks were eliminated, Jamaica would be willing to give Canadian goods a preference.

TELEGRAMS WERE FORGED AND PRINTED

Two Men Arrested and Committed for Trial for Thus Trying to Influence British Elections

Special to The Guardian. LONDON, Feb. 2.—An echo of the recent political campaign was heard when Fredk. Horner, a former member of the Commons and a newspaper man named Lambeth were committed for trial for having forged telegrams sent to the Daily Mail. The telegrams were despatched from Falmouth. They recited a sensational story of a hostile demonstration against Lloyd George. The latter publicly impugned the accuracy of the report and an inquiry established that the story had been sent by Horner.

P. for Carleton, issued a writ for criminal libel today against the writer of an article appearing in the Woodstock Press of Monday, January 17, charging him with being associated in business with the Willard Kitchen Construction Company, and because of this interest selling his constituents and diverting the trans-continental line from the Valley route to the present one. A copy of the Press was sent to Mr. Carvell at Ottawa and he immediately instructed Hon. W. P. Jones of Woodstock, to demand a retraction and apology in the next issue of the newspaper, failing which he would at once issue a writ for criminal libel.

MISBEHAVIOR OF LEAGUE PLAYERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—More National League players were ordered from the baseball field last year and afterwards suspended than in several years past. Whether it was rowdiness or more stringent application of the rules by umpires, one hundred and nineteen men were banished from the field and subsequently eighteen of them were suspended by Presidents Heydler and Pullman. 1908 the arbitrators ordered 34 players to the club houses and in 1907, 42. The late Harry Pullman suspended sixteen players in 1908, and seventeen in 1907. The Pittsburgh team had the best behaved set of men. Only seven of its players were banished and none suspended. According to figures compiled by a local statistician the National League players paid $285 into the treasury of the League for misbehavior.

PARIS GLAD FLOOD IS ABATING

Special to The Guardian. PARIS, Feb. 2.—The flood situation continues to improve rapidly. With the exception of the Javel quarter and a few isolated spots on the left bank the waters have all most wholly receded from the streets of Paris. The retreating waters have expressed yawning gaps in the pavements while the wreckage indicates how far the river ran from its normal course.

LATEST MINE HORROR IS IN KENTUCKY

Special to The Guardian. DRAKESBORO, Ky., Feb. 2.—Notwithstanding most heroic efforts it may be many hours before the Browder mine yields up the bodies of the men whose lives were snuffed out in the explosion yesterday. Thirty-three bodies have been recovered so far. Of one hundred men in the mine when the disaster took place, more than one third have perished. Except for 25 miners working near the shaft in the east entry and who, many of them managed to escape, or were brought to the surface within a few minutes after the explosion, the relief workers have not found any more.

KEITH AND PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE

Theatre New York, Week of February 7th, 1910

So emphatic was the public clamor for seats during the first week of the season at the Fifth Avenue Theatre in "Joshua Whitecomb," that the management is still wondering at its lack of insight in not contracting for three weeks of the fine old comedian instead of two. It looks like capacity for every performance during the second week of Mr. Thompson's stay. A fitting tribute to the clean in dramatic art. Mr. Thompson at seventy-seven is the youngest old man in the world, and is already preparing for an elaborate production of "The Old Homestead" next season. He loves vaudeville, but his next starring tour is undertaken to meet the requests of temperance societies, preachers, settlement workers and numerous other devotees of the prevailing uplift movement. All sorts of entertainers are down for appearance on the bill with Mr. Thompson, and happy indeed is the vaudeville performer whose name appears on the same programme with beloved Uncle Josh. Pat Rooney, the clever son of a smarter sire, and Marion Bent, will present their newest offering "At the Stand" and Pat will introduce nearly a score of original dancing steps to the joy of his audiences and the discomfiture of his numerous imitators. Miss Bent will do her full share towards making the sketch entirely enjoyable. Laughs, laughs, laughs, will be the order when Howard Trussell and Company are seen in "A Corner in Hair," while the Neapolitans, a trio of high class singers, will fully render numerous favorite selections from familiar operas. The second half of the bill calls for Jones and Dooley, as the burlesque bell-boys in "Hotel Reckless," a rattling good combination of waggery, singing and dancing; Phil Staats, the champion 300 pound monologist and pianologist, in about half an hour of witty talking and playing; Zeno, Jordan and Zeno, acrobats extraordinary, who hurl defiance at all laws of gravitation; the Six Samoos, Japanese gymnasts, and the new Keith and Proctor motion pictures.

A PROMINENT BUSINESS CHANGE

Important Change in One of the Largest Insurance Agencies in the Maritime Provinces.

On the first of February the business carried on by Hyndman & Co. of this City became known as the "Hyndman & Company Limited" having been incorporated by letters patent. This is one of the oldest if not the oldest Agency in the Province, having been established by F. W. Hyndman, the President of the new Company, in 1876. The other Directors of the Company are J. O. Hyndman, Junior partner of Hyndman & Co., and T. E. McNutt, who has held the positions of Accountant and Soliciting Agent, with the old firm, for the past ten years. Hyndman & Co. have transacted in addition to a general insurance business in this Province, a large Marine business in the other Provinces of Canada, orders even coming to them from New York and other points in the United States. The firm are the authorized Agents in this Province for Lloyds of London, England, the pulse of the Mercantile Marine of the World; their appointment under the great seal of the Corporation being on exhibition in their offices, 61 Queen Street. It is said that this firm represents the largest aggregate of Insurance Capital of any Agency in Canada. One prominent feature of this Agency is that the Companies they represent stand by them; (not one year representing one set of Companies and next year another set) which shows confidence in the firm's Underwriting ability. Among the many excellent Companies they represent is the North British Mercantile Insurance Co. of Edinburgh, Scotland, which has been the largest in the Agency in fact the N. B. & M. has transacted insurance on the Island now for over fifty years. The following is a list of the numerous concerns represented by Hyndman & Co. Limited: North British & Mercantile Fire Ins. PARTIES THINK COAL POSSIBLE

Some days ago a party from King's County handed over to Lieutenant Governor McKinnon, Charlotte, several likely looking samples of lump coal taken from the premises of a person in that county. The samples have been sent to Ottawa for analysis and it is expected that in a few days word will be received as to the result of the Government inspection. Despite the divergent reports lately given in the press of this city on supposed discoveries of coal in different localities in King's County it seems hard to convince parties who have made discoveries that there is not coal in the province. That their hopes will be realized is the earnest wish of all provincialists.

RECTOR REFUSES TO TAKE HOLIDAY.

HALIFAX, Feb. 1.—On Saturday evening a delegation from the corporation of Christ Church, Dartmouth, waited upon Rev. S. J. Woodroffe, Rector of Christ Church, and asked him to leave the pulpit and take a round trip to Mexico for the benefit of his health. So overcome was the rector with the suddenness of the request and the kindness of the parishioners that he asked time to consider the question. This morning the popular Rector decided not to accede to the kindness of the parishioners which he highly appreciated. The Rector, who is very conscientious in carrying on the excellent work since being called to the Rectorship and especially at this time of the year when the Lenten services are planned, deemed it advisable not to take the trip.

RADIUM BANK IN LONDON IS BUSY

LONDON, Feb. 1.—London has now a "radium bank" of its own. The institution now is temporarily housed in Moorgate street, but permanent quarters are to be taken in the neighborhood of Cavendish square. The bank is "capitalized" with $250,000 worth of radium, which it is prepared to "let out" at a rate of $200,000 milligrammes at a rate of $200 per one day's use, and for each subsequent day at one-half per cent on the value of the amount used. Since for an ordinary operation fifty milligrammes at least would be sufficient, it would cost about $4,000 if purchased outright, it is held that the terms of hire are comparatively cheap. "We have been besieged already by customers," explained the manager, "chiefly medical men, of course, for whose use the bank was particularly organized. Apart from getting the required radium, the whole thing is supremely simple. There is no need of spacious strong boxes. As $500,000 worth of radium takes up no more space than a duchess' tiara, and as we start with but $250,000 worth, the question of space is not a pressing one. But the getting at the stock in trade is the difficulty. "Hither to the main source of supply has been the pitchblende from the Joachim Thal mine, in Bohemia. This yields one part in three millions, but practically is monopolized by Austria. The discovery of radio-active uraninite, now being worked by an English company, in the bed of a stream near Guarda, in Portugal—where so-called "miraculous cures" used to happen, not unconnected with radium's power—has added to the supply, but not as a factor for cheapness. So far as England itself is concerned there are two Cornish mines that have yielded a little. Although radium exists in air, sea water and almost everywhere, there is hardly a pure source in the world. Undoubtedly one of our first steps will be to set about finding new sources of supply. Here, before only the largest hospitals have been enabled to make use of radium, and the Radium Bank aims to overcome that condition by assisting all medical men in every way possible to its utilization. "The bank" was organized privately, among those who have given particular assistance to the plan being Sir Alfred Turner, Lord Montague of Beaulieu, Sir William Holland, Sir David Salomons and General Pole-Carew. The methods followed by similar institutions in Paris, Vienna and Berlin will be employed.

ONTARIO HOUSE WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Feb. 1.—The residence of Henry Hall, Highgate, was completely blown from its foundation Sunday night by an explosion. George Hall, the son had gone to the cellar for some apples and lighting a match a fearful explosion followed. The young man's eyelashes and hair were burned to crisp and his face frightfully burned. As there is no gas in the house, the cause of the explosion is a mystery.

DOG OWN'S 5,000 PAYS NO TAXES

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—There is a taxpayer on the city rolls who has a tail and marks like a dog. Yesterday his taxes were sworn off for him, because his holdings consist of $5,000 in city bonds, which are exempt from taxation. There is a very good reason for the tail and also for the bark. The owner of the $5,000 worth of city bonds is a dog. He did not appear in person to bark his taxes off. Instead a very perturbed man appeared at the Tax Department and went through the formalities. "What assets have you?" asked President Lawson Purdy. "Five thousand dollars' worth of city bonds, held in trust for a dog during his lifetime," said the man. "Then the dog is the real owner; that's a good newspaper story," said Mr. Purdy. Thereupon the man became greatly excited and begged Mr. Purdy not to reveal his name. Mr. Purdy consented. "What's the name of the residuary legatee?" asked some one. "He wishes to remain anonymous." "There are several reasons for believing that the dog's name is Mr. Towser.

MASSIVE CASKET ATTRACTS ATTENTION

The casket contained the remains of Mrs. Charlotte Foleycker of Halifax, who died in Lipsitz, Germany, on Jan. 13, at the age of 62, while visiting relatives there. The body was brought to Hoboken, N. J., by the steamer President Grant, where it was taken in charge by the husband of the deceased, Mr. A. CHESTER GREGORY GOES TO OTTAWA.

The Ottawa Free Press of Friday had this: Chester Gregory, the youngster from the Maritime Provinces, who has been with Renfrew up till a couple of days ago, is in Ottawa, and will be tried on the local team. The Ottawas only have one extra man since Kerr went to the hospital, and should be carrying at least one more. Gregory is a good man around the centre, and goes in well on the goal. Renfrew let him out simply because they were carrying too many men. Gregory will be worked out next Monday, and may be in uniform tomorrow night. A Toronto paper on Friday had the following:—Renfrew had enough seniors out to practice to almost make two teams. They were Lind-croft, Miller, Gregory, Fraser, Larry Gilmore, with Lester Patrick, Jordan, and Rowe taking a night off to recuperate, and Hogan on the way from Quebec. Fraser and Gregory have been released, and the forward line will be picked from Whit-croft, Miller, Hogan, and Jordan.

KINDNESS

Written for S. S. S. BY REV. J. C. MACMILLAN, D.D. Parish Priest, Carleton Place, P.E.I. What a world this would be if all hearts were truly kind. What a glorious place if all men acted under the impulse of pure charity. That God intended it to be so there cannot be any doubt. He gave us the gift of speech, that we might utter words of kindness and thus add to the world's comfort by lightening the burdens of our fellow-men. How frequently we may help a fellow-traveller along life's roadway, if we would only whisper a kind word at the right moment; and yet, too often this talent is hidden away unused. Too often we draw around our sympathies a wall of adamant, and lock up our better impulses like a miser's hoard of gold, thus leaving unspoken the word that would cheer and help. We cannot be very far from God, if we are truly kind. We forget that in this we are all ministers of Him who want about doing good. Why leave to the preachers alone the work of uplifting, consoling and encouraging, when we all bear in our souls the image of Him who who was kindness itself? I pray that all through life I may be cheerful, whatever may befall, and always find a kind word for my fellow-man and speak the same in season.
