Refused German Money

BERLIN, November 15.—Because Herbert Coffey, of New York, who is a student in Berlin, had only 100 marks and two watches in his possession, instead of the million-dollar bills supposed to be the small change of all Americans, a gentleman burglar who invaded Coffey's room at dawn today was at first indignant, then annoyed, and finally apologetic.

When Coffey turned on the light to investigate the noises which awakened him, he was looking down a large, empty revolver, behind which stood a smiling gentleman in evening clothes, who nonchalantly offered the young American a cigarette from Coffey's own prized cigarette case.

"Just your large bills, please," said the marauder in broken English.

Coffey produced tens and twenties of German manufacture, which the burglar scorned, demanding notes with silk threads and pictures of former United States presidents. On Coffey's statement that he had none, the gunman showed nervousness with his Mauser and mistook in the student's word. He asked Coffey to step into the wardrobe while he made a search.

Coffey's faith in human nature was revealed when he demanded that the burglar unlock the door before departing. A solemn hand-shaking sealed the promise and Coffey disappeared into the closet while his possessions were examined.

With an apology for his early visit and a few hints on the correct pronunciation of "Auf Wiedersehen!" the gentleman burglar departed in his automobile.

Students' Christian Movement At The Y. M. C. A.

Saturday night about two hundred Students gathered at the "Y" to hear an address by Mr. Isaac of India, who took for his subject "Student Life in India."

Mr. Isaac who possesses an excellent control of the English language dwelt very clearly and forcibly with his subject which made a deep impression on all those present.

After the address all adjourned to the Gymnasium and witnessed the basketball game between the Rovers vs. Anchors.

Junior Sing Song At Y. M. C. A.

Sunday morning at ten o'clock about twenty five boys gathered at the "Y" for the weekly Sunday morning service of song and an address.

After the singing of a number of hymns in which all joined heartily Mr. Isaac, a native "Y" Secretary of India gave them a very instructive address on conditions of the young boys and girls in India, describing very graphically the conditions which exist in his country as far as education is concerned; at the time he showed the boys the great opportunity we in this country have over the boys of foreign lands.

CANADIAN GOODRICH CO. LTD.

In pursuance of its policy of developing in Canada a thoroughly Canadian industry, self-contained and distinctive, the Goodrich Rubber Company has decided to operate all its branches in this country under the name "Canadian Goodrich Company Limited." This is the final step in Canadianizing a great manufacturing concern which had its beginning in this Dominion, as a branch organization of the new name will embrace both manufacturing and selling departments of the Goodrich business.

Miners Given The Fullest Latitude In N. S. Probe

SYDNEY, Nov. 15.—The royal commission under the chairmanship of Sir Andrew Rae Duncan, investigating the coal industry of Nova Scotia continued its evidence taking sessions here today, and when adjournment was taken at four o'clock the afternoon had completed the hearing of twenty witnesses called by the United Mine Workers Executive of District 26 since the sittings commenced Wednesday forenoon. So far the witnesses examined have all been drawn from the various colliery districts in the southern Cape Breton field and their testimony relates to wages, working and housing conditions in that area. Witnesses from the northern Cape Breton collieries of Florence and Sydney Mines will be heard early next week. There are still a number of witnesses from the southern field to testify.

The policy adopted by the commission in getting the evidence of the miners is to let each man tell his own story in his own way, subject to questions, either from the commission, the corporation officials or members of the United Mine Workers executive. Cross-examination of witnesses by corporation legal counsel is not permitted. To date, President R. M. Wolvin, Vice President McLaugh and General Supt. of Mines A. S. MacNeil, have conducted the interrogation for the corporation and U. M. W. district President J. W. McLeod, and District Secretary A. A. McKay for the Miners. In the main the questions submitted to witnesses from both sides are asked with a view to clarifying testimony on certain points.

The commission's ban on press reports of the evidence is still in effect.

when a girl was born in the home. That she was not wanted could be judged from the fact that the last census reported the disappearance of 300 girl babies. In the family they were counted only as burdens and few of them were given an education; about two out of every thousand were able to read their own language. From the age of six or seven years girls of the middle and high class families were kept away from the world and lived miserably in their seclusion. In the lowest kind of work in the high class homes they must marry before they attain the age of ten, and sometimes they were even married, when they were four years old, to boys of ten or twelve. The boy remained with his parents and the girl with hers. If she became a widow the girl was subjected to severe treatment. The "Dancing women" of India led lives of infamy.

It was sometimes said that India was still in the primitive years of her life; this, said Mr. Isaac, was because of the injustice to her women. Where Christ was known the women were liberated.

In the old history of India, the woman took a place equal to that of man. One Mohammedan erected a beautiful and costly monument to his wife, and where his daughter was buried, who was a disciple of Christ and who asked that no stone be erected in her memory, was found in the Hall on Wednesday evening, said Mr. Isaac, was Christ and His missionaries were giving the women an education and bringing them into their proper place.

The speaker said that he once lived next door to a Brahman who had a little beautiful daughter who was married to a boy. The marriage was made the occasion for a month's feasting, and then the boy went back home to his family. The boy died and the girl was accepted by all her lovely personal belongings and called accursed. She was despised and rejected and kept in seclusion. It was her husband to call at Mr. Isaac's home and she told him of the cruel treatment she was receiving. As she stated that it was her wish to become a Christian, Mr. Isaac gave her a Bible, which she one day took home with her. When her parents discovered it they were very angry, and she was beaten and branded. A few months later she committed suicide. All the efforts of the missionaries to convert girls were despised by the people.

Mr. Isaac explained that, under the caste system, when a man became a Christian he had to leave his home and family.

But a change was coming and the women were gradually being given education in Christianity. The whole country now knew about Christ. Again he told of the efforts of the common people's great leader, Mr. Gandhi, to procure religious instruction, and how he had fasted and prayed for twenty-one days for his great desire.

At a recent conference in India two resolutions were passed that no one should be prevented from presenting his faith to others, and that no one should be punished for accepting any religion he desired.

The people of India, said Mr. Isaac, were awakening, and though the missionaries had had a hard time they were looking forward to a wonderful awakening in that great land.

At the Sunday evening mass meeting in the Y. M. C. A., held after the church services, Mr. Isaac delivered a most eloquent address. He told first of the magicians of India, and their poverty despite their great cleverness. And so he said, it is all through that land on one hand extreme poverty and on the other overflowing riches. The people take what comes to them as sent by God, and seek not to change circumstances. Famine is accepted as coming from God

Are You Perfectly Fair?

In CONSIDERATION of the fact that you live in Prince Edward Island and make your living here besides enjoying everything the community has to offer . . . is it perfectly fair to spend your money elsewhere when similar products or service at equally advantageous prices can be secured here?

Have you ever given thought to the added element of pleasure that comes from dealing with those whose interests are identical with yours in the building up of a fine community here? Do you fully realize what your purchases mean to those who are contributing to this community and its needs?

Mr. Merchant are you playing fair with your customers?

Jap Navy In Readiness

LONDON, November 15.—Anticipating a coup by Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian general" in Peking, says the Evening News' Tokyo correspondent, the Japanese Cabinet was called in extraordinary session today to consider the protection of Japanese lives and property in the Chinese capital.

It is reported, the correspondent adds, that the navy is prepared for any emergency, with fast cruisers ready to move at a moment's notice.

There are contradictory reports regarding Feng's attitude, but the general belief is that he has definitely broken with Chang Tso-lin, while his most powerful lieutenant, General Yueh Wei-chun, governor of Honan, is reported to have thrown in his lot with the allied Yankai forces.

Difficult Situation Arises In Holland

THE HAGUE, Nov. 15.—A difficult Cabinet crisis was averted today by the resignation of four Catholic Ministers from Premier Collijn's Cabinet, following the adoption by the second chamber of an amendment to the budget calling for the withdrawal of the Dutch Legation at the Vatican. The amendment was moved by a Protestant member.

The press of the Netherlands is generally agreed that the question of Dutch representation at the Vatican has not been decided on the merits of the case, but purely on political considerations and a name for testing the solidarity of the coalition on which the present Government is based.

To Privy Council

Of these 92 there were 10 from the Canadian Supreme Court, seven from Ontario Supreme Court, two from New Brunswick, three from Quebec, two from Saskatchewan, and one each provincial supreme courts.
