Sandy Somerville Canuck Ace Shows The Way To United States — Enjoys Unique Distinction.

By Allan Gould Associated Press superior steadiness at the critical stages, plus his ability to produce his best shots down the home stretch of each round over the rolling Maryland country, clinched the decision.

The silent Canadian is the first invader to win the American crown since Harold H. Hilton, British star was the victor in 1911. Somerville does not hold the Canadian amateur championship this year, although he has held this title four times and is generally rated the best amateur in the Dominion. Unquestionably the two best golfers in the field came together in the title fight. The match was so close from the start that neither player was ever more than 20 up.

Fortunes shifted frequently and with dramatic suddenness. Somerville 2 down and nine to go, won because he was able to recapture his control and shoot the last eight holes in even par.

Autumn Wedding At Summerside

The marriage of Emma Virginia Bradshaw, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville L. Bradshaw of Summerside to Mr. Robert Tinson Holman, only son of J. Leroy and Mrs. Holman and grandson of the late Robert T. Holman, took place this morning at 10:30 at the Central Christian Church, Summerside, the Rev. W. H. Harding officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and yellow marigolds. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus. Mrs. Thane A. Campbell, sister of the bride, looked charming as matron of honor and Thane A. Campbell attended as groomsmen. The bride wore a lovely gown of blue chiffon velvet trimmed with ermine and turban to match and carried a bouquet of white lilies. The matron of honor wore a gown of salmon pink with turquoise blue turban and gloves. The wedding march was played by Mrs. G. Elliott Full and during the signing of the register Mrs. Arthur Roper sang.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. R. T. Holman Sr., poured coffee and Miss Ruth Mutart, Miss Harriet Bradshaw, Miss Constance McArthur, Miss Evelyn Sinclair and Miss Keltie Holman assisted in serving. The dining room was beautifully decorated with pink chrysanthemums.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold necklace set with garnets and earrings to match. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Holman left by car for Halifax where they sail on the Lady Hawkins for Bermuda.

Mrs. Holman is a graduate in Arts from Acadia University and Mr. Holman is a graduate of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Quebec. He is now associated with the firm of R. T. Holman's, Charlottetown. Upon their return from Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Holman will reside on Brighton Road, Charlottetown. The Guardian joins in happiest felicitations. S.

Railway Minister Reviews Success Of Empire Parley

Five-Sixth Of Provisions Of Conference Are To Advantage Of Canadian Agricultural Producers, Says Dr. Manion.

EXETER, Ont., Sept. 18.—Upon the foundations of the Imperial Conference will be erected a great edifice of trade and commerce which will stand as a monument to the statesmen of the British Empire, Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways told a gathering of electors of South Huron when he fired the opening guns of the federal-by-election campaign.

Because "the Bennett Government has not changed its mind on policy, and there is no possibility of a general election within a couple of years," he continued, "this election provides a plebiscite by which you may approve what Bennett did, what Great Britain did and what the sister Dominions did. And I appeal to you to stand by the leadership which has placed Canada in the forefront of the nations of the world."

Reviews Results

Dr. Manion reviewed the results of the conference, explained the problems which had confronted the Empire statesmen, and lauded the leadership which had created the gathering of British statesmen, before a gathering which packed the Opera House.

The by-election, he said, offered the electors of South Huron an opportunity to put the stamp of approval upon agreements made by Premier Bennett which had never been extended farmers before. As one who had scanned the agreements made by the conference, he could say five-sixths of their provisions were "to the advantage of the agricultural portion of Canada's population." For this reason he was exceptionally glad to know that Louis Rader, the Government candidate, was a farmer.

"We see abnormal conditions everywhere," he said. "Russia is in the hands of the Communists; Japan and China are nearly at war. All the world is in a state of serious perturbation."

"But Canada will come out ahead of other nations, partly because we are a law-abiding people, because we are conservative, and, I submit, partly because of good government by a man of tremendous physical and personal strength and of exceptional ability."

There were no terms, declared Dr. Manion, which could be too laudatory or praiseworthy for Premier Bennett. He had exhibited an almost superhuman ability to do tremendous amounts of work. And today, he submitted, Premier Bennett was a "world figure."

"Similarly we came into office knowing the Canadian National Railways had undertaken commitments of $250,000,000 a year," he said. "We knew of this foolish, over-enthusiastic administration. We did not interfere in its conduct. We did not interfere with its political. But we did stop this ridiculous, wild expenditure."

Stopped Extrava

The railway had built hotels from coast to coast. It had built an unnecessary fifty million terminal at Montreal. It had built branch railway lines and bought others. It had gone crazy in a flurry of exorbitant unnecessary spending. And Mr. Bennett's Government stopped it.

Two years ago at the Imperial Conference Premier Bennett had

Back From Fred'ton Races

Colonel D. A. MacKinnon, D. K. MacLeod, Garfield Poole and E. F. Acorn returned by motor from Fredericton Saturday night, having left there Saturday morning. It rained very hard Friday night and Saturday's races were called off as a consequence. The Island horses were shipped home yesterday and will arrive here tonight. Golden, 2:12; Mr. Henley, 2:19 and Johnny Miles, 2:24 did not get a start at Fredericton.

the courage to say that more than the ties of sentiment were needed to hold the Empire together. He was criticized. Yet, right or wrong, the Ottawa Conference resulted, and Great Britain deserted its century-old free trade policy. So, he said, the conference at Ottawa gathered amid a cry of failure from many nations. Yet today, "we see a victory, not only for Canada but for the Empire."

"But," declared Dr. Manion, "remember that time is necessary before we will see the results of these agreements which were made at the conference. All these treaties must be ratified by the Parliaments of the nations of the Empire. And that cannot be done in a day or a week."

Great Britain was the great importer of basic commodities, he explained. The unfair competition of Russian agriculture was forced by Canadian producers.

Serious Problem

Cheap labor, state controlled production and low standards of living sought to cut the price under Canada's ability to produce.

"This was one of the problems which we had to face during the conference," continued Dr. Manion. "Russia is ready to undercut any price any other nation in the world can quote. And we succeeded in inserting an article which applies to Russia and which stops that unfair competition. And I have every belief that the British will live up to that clause and the unfair competition of Russia will not wreck the industries of Canada."

"An agreement has been brought about which could not be improved. Britain is satisfied. We are satisfied."

To bring about equitable conditions in the operation of the agreements, Canada undertook to establish a tariff board. Before this board British manufacturers could make representations regarding Canada's tariffs. But Canada had considered her industrialists before making any agreements. These agreements were the result of the brilliance, insight, courage and patriotism of the Prime Minister of Canada, declared Dr. Manion.

"So there seems to be a different feeling in the past few weeks," said Dr. Manion. "As a physician I see the effect of the mind on the human body. It is true of the body politic. I can see the effect today of the mental attitude which the people of Canada have assumed since the Imperial Conference, and before long those effects will have made themselves apparent to all of you."

RIFLE SHOOT SATURDAY

Notwithstanding the gale of thirty miles an hour raging Saturday afternoon the under mentioned riflemen met at the range and carried out the shoot as advertised. In place of the regular 200, 500 and 600 yards, it was decided to shoot fifteen shots each at 200 and 300 yards, as there was the possibility owing to the heavy wind that the larger targets at the long range would blow down. The scoring was of high order as indicated below. Out of a possible 150 the winner, Sgt. Gormley, only dropped seven points in thirty shots. The trophies being shot for yearly at this time of the year were presented to the winning teams at the bungalow after the conclusion of the match. The thanks of the riflemen were extended to Caretaker W. L. Smith and his efficient markers for their excellent work during a disagreeable afternoon which made the marking of the targets extremely difficult.

No Discrimination

Further, no areas that are now producing oysters in saleable quantities are being leased, so that nothing is being taken from the public.

On the other hand, areas that have ceased to be productive or that never were productive, are being made to add to the wealth of the community, and consequently the wealth of the Province and of the country at large.

It is not too much to expect that in a development of this kind there would be no objections, but the opportunity is being given for all interested to get into the business for themselves. There are areas enough around the Coast of Prince Edward Island that can be made productive and that are now lying fallow and barren to meet the needs of all interested. Methods are being developed by which by little else than labor, muddy bottoms under water otherwise suitable for oysters can be made entirely suitable, hence there is no justifiable reason for the fear of monopoly.

As I understand this, agitation is being developed from one section, and one that is not as vitally interested as the areas most immediately affected. Surely then if both Governments take a decided stand it will not allow this agitation to go on. On the other hand if we destroy or stop the oyster development as it is now started it will lead to chaos and disruption in the great prospects of the development of oyster areas.

It is easy to go uphill if your interest points in that direction.

No Legal Question

When these decisions handed down from the Privy Council and with the competent legislation covering every detail and vesting the authority by an Act of Parliament under the Fisheries Act with the Department of Fisheries, I cannot see where there is any legal question with regard to the leasing of fishing areas for oyster development.

The idea of legislation on this question is entirely one for development of a great industry, and the advantages accruing from this legislation cannot even be estimated for the future in this Province. If proper consideration is given, Prince Edward Island has in her oyster industry, in my humble opinion, a great and growing resource.

Oyster farming under proper conditions is as feasible as upland or general agriculture farming; as a usual thing it is much more profitable on account of less overhead in the development.

Prior to the settlement that took place wide stretching Prairies were the habitat of buffaloes etc., which provided food for the Indians and earlier settlers; later as settlements began they were for the use of ranchers, many of whom developed large stocks of cattle, sheep and horses. This was a most profitable business for the ranchers. As time went on their use of the Public Domain was regulated, but later came people who were prepared to develop these ranches and make them into farms. The advantage to the country as a whole and to the communities themselves to have farming so developed is quite obvious to all and it is not necessary to stress a point of this kind; hence the ranchers had to go. From that standpoint the case of the oyster area is quite similar, but it goes further than that.
