COL. GREEN'S WEALTH RAPIDLY GOING

GLEN COVE, L. I. —Colorado Edward H. R. Green and his bride are spending their honeymoon on board his big yacht, the United States at anchor off his place in Hempstead Harbor. The boys and girls of Sea Cliff and Glen Cove fear that he is rapidly dissipating the fortune of $50,000,000 left to him by his mother, Mrs. Hetty Green. But they do not care much, as they are getting most of the money so squandered by picking if off the bottom of the Sound.

Every day, nearly, Colonel Green gets careless, orders a steam launch lowered from t he United States, and sometimes accompanied by his bride, runs over to the beach where the boys and girls are at play in the water. They eagerly await his arrival, for they know that coins are to be thrown into the water and the harvest will be worth while.

Wrapping a coin in a piece of wet paper, so it will be more visible under water, Colonel Green carelessly casts it overboard. Then the fun begins. A score of children go under water at the same time and always one comes up with the prize.

On some days, when Colonel Green is feeling particularly thriftless, a good diver will gather enough coins off the bottom to total fifty or seventy-five cents. One day recently, Mary Hyland and Catherine Murphy, who are partners in the Green munificence divided $1.20. That was considered very good for girls.

The Colonel and his bride have been on their honeymoon forty-three days, while their home in Manhattan is being prepared for them.

BLISTERS COVERED DAUGHTER'S HANDS

Could Hardly Stand Burning, Could Not Sleep. Healed by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"When the cold weather started my daughter's hands would get covered with little blisters. They itched so that she scratched and rubbed her hands till the blood would come. Then she could hardly stand the burning. She could not sleep.

"It lasted for seven years. Then I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I afterward bought more, and her hands were healed." (Signed) Mrs. Robert Vaincourt, Franklin Centre, Que.

TOUCHING TRIBUTES TO LATE SERGT. MCLELLAN

Mrs. (Dr) A. A. McLellan of Summerside received the following letters in reference to the death of her son, who was a general favorite with his comrades:

France, July 19th, 1917.

Dear Mrs. McLellan,—

In the loss of your dear son I have lost a friend that I shall not soon forget. He was one of the most popular and most highly thought of members of this battery and I can assure you his loss is felt most keenly by us all. We are a sad lot at present and it will take some time to recover from the shock of having lost one of our very best Sergeants and four of our best men— all from the explosion of a chance shell!

I shall not go into particulars, for I know they have been sent to you.

Your brave son has left behind him in this battery feelings of the deepest respect and affection.

Please accept my heartfelt sympathy and believe me,

Yours sincerely, H. W. PEAKE, Lieut.

France, 20, 7, 1917.

Dear Mrs. McLellan,—

No doubt many days have now passed since you heard of the death of your son Everard. Although I have never met you personally I feel that I must write you. Many a time I have heard Everard speak of you, especially when he talked about the many pleasant hours he had spent around his home. He often regretted that he had been unable to go home before he sailed. There was such a terrible rush of work at the last especially for a Sergt. in charge of a section, so that it was almost impossible for him to get away.

I remember how eagerly he looked forward for every letter from home. He was very proud of one he received from his little brother— part of which he read to me. Although he was a very reserved chap he often talked to me of the happy days he had passed and the pleasant memories he had of his home life.

It is a number of years now since I lost my mother and I often used to envy him when he received your letters bringing him encouragement and strength.

Since coming overseas we met with many temptations but I want to tell you that you may feel proud of the life which your son lead. Surrounded with those temptations his life was clean and manly. He was always anxious to attend church and used to take the R. C. parade to the services. He was to church shortly before the day that was his last. You should derive great comfort from the fact that he lived a good Christian life.

Words cannot express to you the way we miss "Wiggles" as we affectionately called him. Everyday we seem to expect and await his return. We feel that soon we should see his pleasant smile again. A great bond of friendship had sprung up between us, who were the Sgts. of the Right Half of the Battery. We greatly miss him from our little group. While we feel keenly our great loss, our hearts go out to you, his mother, who have to bear the greatest burden of all.

I know that Sgt. McKenzie has given you the full particulars as he was with Everard to the last so I shall not touch upon that part again. The great fact is that Everard died a hero bravely doing his duty.

After all in what better way could his life have ended? He sacrificed a most promising career when the call of duty came and, with thousands of others, made the Supreme Sacrifice so that Liberty, Justice also Right eousness might be upheld on earth. In no higher cause could he have given his all than in the present great struggle of Right against Wrong.

If I am spared to return to P. E. I. after the war I hope to be able to visit you and tell you more about our dear friend and your loving son. When the Priest was conducting the solemn service at the grave we all realized as never before that "One is our Master even Christ and all we are God's children."

Five of our dear comrades are sleeping peacefully there side by side, in one of the prettiest military cemeteries in France. They rest deservedly for they have sacrificed their lives for their Homes, their Canada, and their God.

Now I pray that the great God of Love who guides our lives may give you strength to bear up in this dark hour of sorrow. Do not fret over your boy he is far better off than if he were alive today. I would point you ahead to the day "when God shall wipe away all tears from our eyes and there shall be no more going out."

I am,

Yours with loving sympathy.

SIDNEY BONNELL, Sgt., Acting Sgt. Major, 8th. C. S. B., France.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

Rev. R. J. Macdonald of Brae Lot 9 was waited on by the parishoners of Lot 11 after Mass on Sunday last and presented with a substanital purse and the following address, to which the Rev. gentleman feelingly replied and thanked them most cordially for their well known generosity it being the third occasion during the past eight years that he was the recipient of such a gift.

Reverend and Dear Father,

We the parishioners of St. Bridget's church, Lot 11, have learned with regret that it is the intention of His Lordship, Bishop O'Leary to remove you from our midst and we feel it would be very ungrateful on our part were we to allow this opportunity to pass without expressing in some small degree our appreciation of your services.

During the past eight years which you have spent with us, you have endeared yourself to us in many ways. We have at all times found you ever ready to administer to our spiritual welfare and your excellent advice in our temporal affairs has always been most beneficial to us.

Under your estimable supervision and guidance the parish has materially advanced and this beautiful little church where we have today assembled is sufficient evidence of your industry and the deep interest you have always taken in the advancement of this parish. And well we know your place among us will be hard to fill but we are fully aware our loss is St. Columbia's gain.

Our sincere good wishes accompany you to your new field of labour and we earnestly pray that our dear Lord may bless you with many years of health and happiness.

In the future should your thoughts carry you back to Lot 11, we trust we are not presuming on your good nature to ask you to think kindly of us and occasionally remember us in your prayers as we shall ever remember you.

In conclusion we beg you to accept the accompanying gift not for its intrinsic value but as a slight token of the high esteem in which you are held.

Signed on behalf of The Parishoners of St. Bridget's Church, Lot 11.
