ROOSEVELT MEETS WITH A SECOND DEFEAT IN NATIONAL CONVENTION

A Forerunner of a Boom For Hadley For President

(Canadian Press)

CHICAGO, June 19—The Roosevelt forces met a second defeat in the Republican National convention today in a session which had for its outstanding feature a demonstration of nearly an hour's duration in honor of Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri.

All the Roosevelt delegates joined in the demonstration while some of the Taft States lent a voice.

The ovation to the Missouri executive was quickly interpreted by many of the delegates as a possible forerunner of a boom for Hadley for President.

One enthusiastic Pennsylvanian rose immediately to the stage and called for three cheers for Hadley, the next President of the United States.

Governor Hadley led the fight on the convention floor today to oust 92 contested Taft delegates and to seat 92 Roosevelt men in their places.

The convention finally refused to entertain the proposition by a vote of 560 to 510.

This was transferred to the committee on the credentials appointed just before the convention adjourned until tomorrow afternoon.

HANGMAN STRIKES.

TORONTO, June 18—Canada is threatened with a singular strike which if it eventuates is likely to have very serious consequences, especially with the county of Lambton. Arthur Ellis, the official hangman is dissatisfied with the financial status of his unenviable job. The Borden government cut off his annual retaining fee of $700, and while Ellis looks on this as a hardship, his grievance is against Sheriff Flintoff of Lambton, who engaged Ellis to hang the Indian, Stephen Kyoshk, on June 6th. Ellis made the trip to Sarnia, but as Kyoshk was granted a reprieve till November, the sheriff refused to pay him his usual $50 but told him he could consider himself engaged for November, Ellis who was put to considerable expense, has taken legal advice in the matter of his unpaid claim and he has been informed that he can sue for the amount.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

FREDERICTON, June 18—At the closing session of the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island conference held last evening, the report of the vote on church union, as taken recently in the Methodist churches of the conference and tabulated during the session of the conference, was made. It showed that Methodists voted almost 10 to 1 in favor of the proposed union with the Presbyterian and Congregational churches. Following is a summary of the vote in the conference:

Members of official boards—Yes, 1,107; No. 192.

Members 18 years and over—Yes, 7,003; No. 1,160.

Members under 18 years—Yes, 498; No, 81.

Adherents—Yes, 2,679; No. 427.

Totals—Yes, 11,487; No. 1,860.

Some 9,000 qualified voters refrained from casting any ballot on this question.

The conference stationing committee did not make any change in arrangement with reference to the Centenary and Fairville pastor, and Rev. Mr. Ross is given charge of Centenary for the coming year. When Rev. Dr. Flanders goes back to Upper Canada remain to be seen.

ANANIAS CLUB GROWS.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16—The old fashioned subject of telling the truth was chosen by Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown, chancellor of the New York University, in his address to the graduating class of Haverford College yesterday. Telling the truth is a great and neglected profession, according to Dr. Brown, although he saw hope for the race from the fact that there are more people telling the truth now than at any other time during the world's history.

Still, the membership roll of the Ananias Club has never become short, he said, at least so long as ex-President Roosevelt continued to assign all his opponents to that body.

The superlative degree used constantly in speaking, he declared, is not truth at all, but belongs to a nefarious opposite.

Truth is not often found in the real estate business, is another axiom that he quoted.

At the conclusion of his talk he welcomed the graduates into a world in which there was still room to exercise the practice of telling the truth, a field of endeavor that is not yet overcrowded.

INGS-GILLIS NUPTIALS

One of the prettiest June weddings this season took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Orwell, yesterday afternoon at 4.30, when Miss Adella Jane, eldest daughter of Levi R. Ings, Orwell Cove, was united in marriage to Alex. D. Gillis of Grand View. The sun burst forth in full splendor as the bride reached the church and the adage "Happy is the bride the sun shines on" was truly prophesied by the bride's happy look and charming appearance in a rich and becoming creation of white striped satin, with veil and orange blossoms.

A magnificent bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley added a finishing touch to the handsome bridal gown. The cut flowers, foliage and potted plants which decorated the church made a picturesque setting for the occasion as the bride walked up the aisle on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was attended by Miss Hazel Poole of Charlottetown, gowned in pale blue marquisette, wearing a becoming hat to match. Her bouquet was pink roses and the whole costume looked exceedingly smart.

The two little flower girls, Misses Florence and Marion Ings, sisters of the bride, in dainty white gowns and pink and blue poke bonnets carried baskets of flowers and looked exceedingly cunning.

The groomsman was Hugh Gillis, cousin of the groom, while the ushers were Malcolm McLeod and Peter McQueen. The solemn marriage service was performed by Rev. D. B. McLeod, the responses being audible over the entire church. Mendelsshon's Wedding March was excellently rendered by Mrs. Levi Ings, whose gown was of purple satin with hat to match. After the ceremony the happy young couple lingered at the Church to receive congratulations before proceeding in their span of white horses to the bride's home. Here a reception was tendered them at which upwards of one hundred guests were present and a very happy time was spent.

The groom's gift to the bride was a cheque for a substantial sum—to the bridesmaid a chain with pendant set with pearls and to the flower girls a pearl pin each.

Mrs. Ings made an ideal hostess and her plans were so pleasantly arranged that nothing marred the pleasure and after an evening of social talk and amusement Mr. and Mrs. Gillis drove to their future home in Grand View.

Exceptionally handome gifts were showered on the young couple and it is the wish of a wide circle of friends that their wedded life "May have just enough shadow to temper the glare of the sun." The Guardian offers congratulations.

THE POWERS DELEGATES AWAITING THE RUSSIANS GOVERNMENT'S ASSENT

Has Not Yet Assented to International Loan to China

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, June 19—Russia, which is the only power still to be heard from in connection with the ratification of the Chinese loan of $800,000,000 which was virtually agreed to here yesterday by the delegates of the groups of bankers representing the six powers, has not yet been announced its adhension to the terms.

An answer was to have arrived here at noon today and the delay is causing considerable disquietude among the international banking group which was already congratulating itself upon the success of the negotiations.

The attitude of the United States throughout has been based on a maintenance of the policy, inaugurated by the late John Hay, of the open door and an endeavor to preserve the complete integrity of China.

Negotiations have been difficult because both Russia and Japan sought recognition of special political interests. Russia in particular insisted that the loan should in no way endanger its rights in Manchuria, Mongolia and West China.

FARMERS BANK.

TORONTO, June 18—That Hon. W. S. Fielding, when minister of finance, asked assurance from W. R. Traverse, that the provisional directors of the Farmers' bank had not put in money raised on subscribers' notes, before issuing a certificate to the bank to do business was shown by a letter put in at police court this morning at the preliminary examination of Dr. Beattle Nesbitt on four charges of falsifying the returns of the financial condition of the bank made to the government. This letter was written to Traverse while in Ottawa, securing the charter, and the reply, which, according to the sworn statement of Travers, was made under the direction of Mr. Guthrie, an Ottawa attorney, evaded the issue by stating "that the provisional directors" had not raised money on subscribers' notes. The hearing was finally adjourned until eleven o'clock tomorrow morning.

GALLANT CHARGE.

LONDON, Eng., June 18— Lord Haldane received a telegram from the French Minister for war expressing his keen regret at the death of the Englishman, William Redman, who was killed while fighting at the head of Shereefian cavalry at Fez.

M. Millerand deplores the loss of such a fine soldier, and in conclusion says: "I assure you that our Army is as much grieved as by the loss of one of the best of its own brothers inarms."

Khalifa Willi, as Redman was called by the tribesmen, had spent years in Morocco, and knew the language and the habits almost as well as if he had been born there. He threw in his lot with the successful rebels in 1908, and became second-in-command of Mulai Hafid's troops. He was a splendid shot, and could perform all the wonderful tricks of Moorish horsemen. Then he accepted a military post under the French, and on a notable occasion succeeded in extricating one of their columns from the hands of rebels tribesmen outside Fez some time ago.

For some time the tribesmen have been gathering round Fez threatening the French line of communication and attempting to cut off detached bodies of troops. On June 1, however, General Lyautey sent out a strong force which dislodged the Moorish rebels from the heights and captured their camp with a large supply of provisions.

In the course of the fighting a body of Moorish cavalry on the French side, captured by Redman, made a gallant charge, sweeping the enemy before them. A chance bullet, however, struck the English leader and he fell dead. A special service in his memory was held at the hospital on Sunday.

HALIFAX, June 19—The south sea sealing schooner Hilda R. reached port from Montevideo yesterday, reporting the record catch of 2,430 fine skins, valued approximately at $50,000.

The vessel was much delayed on the voyage up by alternately meeting stormy weather and being becalmed.

Since leaving Halifax ten months ago the Hilda R. has more than sailed round the world, her total sailing mileage being over 40,000. The trip tho quite successful, was marked by much severe weather, Captain Ryan declaring it to be the stormiest he ever met in his twenty-three years' sealing experience. The ship and crew of twenty-three men arrived home from their long sailing without mishap.

DON'T FORGET THE DATE!

On June 28th, The Colonial Stock Company will offer the big English production "A Soldier of the King." This unquestionably should prove one of the most successful plays this popular organization has ever offered.

"A Soldier of the King," in dramatic construction varies greatly from any other military play yet written, dealing as it does principally with the technicalities of military discipline. The playwright has written two scenes portraying a phase of Army life of which the general public is kept in ignorance that of The Inquiry and The Drumming-out of the hero "Lieut. Harry Forrest."

An added attraction will be a Musical Number from the popular opera "The Count of Luxenburg" by Miss Louise LaMont and Frank Oliver assisted by the entire, company, entitled, "Will you Dance."

Don't forget the 4th Regiment Band and a large number of that favorite Regiment will add a touch of color to the great play "A Soldier of the King."

MOCHA COFFEE.

CHICAGO, June 18—Coffee branded Mocha, that is less than 200 years old, is not genuine, according to twenty coffee experts, who testified in Judge Landis' court today. They said the last shipment from Mocha, Arabia, was made about two centuries ago. The question of what was Mocha arose during the trial of the Thompson and Taylor Spice Co., on a federal charge of misbranding coffee. It was alleged the coffee was raised in Abyssinia. The company was fined $1 and costs.

DROWNING ACCIDENT AT EAST POINT

(Special by Phone.)

SOURIS, June 19—A sailor by the name of Townshend was drowned on the fishing bank south-east of East Point about noon on Monday from the schooner Springwood, Capt. McMullan, Lockport, which arrived in Souris last night. Mr. Townshend was fishing at some distance from the vessel and it is thought he broke or lost an oar as he put up a signal of distress which was seen from the shore. Two men started to his aid with an extra pair of oars but before they reached him the dory which was anchored pitched poled and the man was thrown overboard. The men recovered the body which was floating on account of the wind which had blown under his oil coat. Mr. Townshend was a married man of about 65 years and leaves a widow and family to mourn. Word is now being awaited as to whether remains will be interred here or sent home to Lockport, N. S.

LATER

Schooner Sptingwood, Lockport, N. S., Capt MacMillan, arrived in Souris Tuesday June 18 at 8 p. m., to land the remains of one of its crew, William Townshend who was drowned while returning to his vessel after a day's fishing on Monday during the strong south-east breeze. He broke an oar and came to an anchor and waived his sowester to the nearest dory to him the occupants of which had also bropen an oar. The man hailed managed to get to the schooner and reported the accident to the captain who despatched two men in a dory with some extra oars to tow him aboard while rowing towards him they noticed that he was hauling up his anchor when they looked again they saw his dory bottom up and made all haste to his rescue but when they found him a little to leeward of the upturned dory to all appearances life was extint. They took him on board and did everything in their power in the way of respiration, but all to no avail. His body is now in the Souris Presbyterian Church awaiting orders from his people regarding whether they wish the remains forwarded to his home or left here for interment.

THAT LIDSTONE CASE.

BOSTON, June 17—The jury in the case of the $25,000 alienation suit brought by Mrs. Enna E. Lidstone of Brookline against Mrs. Ilione Woodbury Meyers of Wellesley, which has been on trial at Deadham for the past week, reported a disagreement today.

The case was given to the jury on Friday with instructions to return a sealed verdict today. The jury discussed the case for over six hours. It is reported that the case will be re-tried at the next sitting of the court.

The trial attracted a great deal of attention, chiefly because of the testimony of Mrs. Lidstone, who accused Mrs. Meyers a wealthy Wellesley woman of stealing the affections of George W. Lidstone, her husband.

On the stand Mrs. Lidstone said her married life had been happy until her husband became chauffeur for Mr. Myers. She said her husband began to stay away from home nights and seemed to loose his affection for her. She said that Mrs. Myers, when her husband was ill in bed on one occasion, called up frequently on the telephone to inquire about his condition.

According to her own testimony, the wife became suspicious, and two years ago went to the Myers home at Wellesley, where she watched the house for eleven hours, from 8 at night until 7 the next morning.

I saw my husband and Mrs. Meyers playing cards one evening, declared Mrs. Lidstone. Listening to their conversation, I heard them talk rather endearingly. I heard her call my husband Honey.

Frank R. Rall of Boston said he had seen Mrs. Meyers and Lidstone kissing and doing lots of giggling.

(Lidstone is a native of P. E. Island.)

SLAPPED SMOKERS FACES

KANSAS, CITY, Mo., June 18—Following a day, night and morning of rioting, during which women slapped the faces of smokers, and men in a hurry to catch trains pitched those delaying the cars into the street, a truce of one day has been agreed to in the cigar dealers' fight against the Metropolitan Street Car Company's order.

The company is defying a new ordinance that permits smoking on cars Conductors and motormen have received orders to let a car stand so long as any one in it is smoking. The Metropolitan recently closed a week of voting by patrons on the matter, and while thousands of ballots remain to be counted, it is conceded it will be a two to one majority against smoking.

While the batt,e waged fiercest, gangs of boys and men, supplied with free weeds, boarded cars on Eighth street to the Union depot tunnel. This tied up the entire scar system of the city. It awas not uncommon for 40 or 50 cars to be standing still while one smoker pulled comulacently on his cigar. After an hour's tie up of every car in the city, the order was given to lock all gates and shunt the coaches to dead tracks.

The smokers soon found themselves walking a mile back to the business section, where they boarded other cars and lit cigars or cigarettes.
