I beg leave to submit to you this my second annual report as President of this Institute.

Since the last annual meeting which was held in November, we have held a regular meeting each month, with an average attendance of ten members, and an enrollment of twenty members.

We also had several committee meetings and two special committee meetings.

During the month of February $25.00 was paid to Lyndale School district to help defray the expenses of the pump for the school.

In April, four single seats were placed in Uigg school at a cost of $3.00.

At our October meeting, Grand View district was paid $20.00.

Following our Annual meeting last November, a concert which was greatly enjoyed by all present, was given by city talent in Uigg Orange Hall, and the sum of $20.50 was realized.

In May another concert was given in the same hall, this time by our local talent. From that we cleared $51.75.

At a lecture for other sources apart from our Institute work, held in Uigg Orange Hall in February, candy was sold by the members of the Institute the proceeds amounting to $5.00.

In September, dinner was served to the people attending the teachers Convention. Although the weather was rather unfavourable, $22.00 were raised.

The Secy-Treas. will give a detailed report of the finances.

At our August meeting we were pleased to have with us Miss MacKenna, Ex-Supervisor of Women's Institutes and her Assistant Miss MacKenzie.

We are receiving donations from friends amounting to $6.00, which are kindly appreciated.

At most of our meetings we have had entertainments in the form of readings, solos, music etc., by our members and visitors. I wish to thank all who so kindly helped in this way.

I also wish to thank all who helped to prepare a six months programme in advance from time to time.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the executive for their help and to our Secy-Treas.—Mrs. Hume, my personal thanks goes out for the faithful and efficient manner in which she has performed her duties.

To the ladies who acted as hostesses I thank you, and to each and every member for the help you have given me in the performance of my duties during my term of office.

Canadian National Hotel and Terminal at Halifax

Illustration of the new hotel and station being erected at Halifax, N.S., by the Canadian National Railways. This is taken from the architect's drawing and indicates that the group when completed will form a fitting Atlantic gateway to the Dominion.

With the completion of the architectural drawings of the new station and hotel project it is now possible to visualize the structures to be erected at Halifax, N.S. A study of these drawings indicates that the city will have one of the finest groups on the continent and one that will be a fitting Atlantic gateway to the Dominion.

The site is bounded on the North by South and Fawson Streets, on the West by Barrington Street, and on the East by the harbor with the tracks entering from the South as a present.

The landscaped plans call for the demolition of all the buildings on the block between Hollis and Barrington Streets, and on this block will be laid out a small park through which will a wide double pathway flanked by trees and centered on the axis of the hotel entrance, giving a wide open vista to the dignified buildings.

The new station will be set back about 20 feet North of the present one and occupying the same relative position. The hotel adjoins with a connecting arcade and has its entrance front parallel with Hollis Street. The portion of the site between the harbor front of the hotel and Marginal Road will be laid out in a formal type of garden architecture.

The building as designed at present will accommodate 150 bedrooms, each with separate bathroom. The building is designed to take additional storeys, which will give an ultimate capacity of 300 rooms with bathrooms.

On the ground floor the entrance lobby from Hollis Street to the foyer will be 110 feet by 40 feet and this wide entrance will also give access from the station. Three passenger elevators will provide convenient access to the upper floors.

The dining room will be on the central axis of the foyer. It will be 80 feet by 40 feet and its windows will overlook the harbor. To the right is the grill room, 35 feet by 72 feet, also overlooking the harbor. The lounge room to the left will be 50 feet by 45 feet, and at this section provision has been made for ladies' retiring room and space for concessions.

On the first floor is situated the bathroom 40 feet by 30 feet, overlooking the harbor. Access to the balcony is from a commodious foyer. To the left of the bathroom are situated ladies' and gentlemen's retiring rooms, and to the right three private dining rooms. The building will be constructed of reinforced concrete and will be thoroughly fireproof throughout. The exterior walls will be faced with stone up to the level of the second floor. Above this the treatment will be in selected brick with stone trimming.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use for only 75 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

The station building which is about 180 feet long and 100 feet wide has been designed on the same style as the hotel and forms part of the same architectural group.

The dignified entrance portico will face on the new Terminal place. Through this portico one enters a spacious lobby with natural resources exhibits on one side and entrance to the second floor offices on the other. This lobby leads directly to the concourse, a comfortable and well lighted hall, 45 feet wide by 140 feet long. On one side of the concourse are the entrances to the tracks and baggage facilities, and on the other side the general waiting room and arcade entrance to the Emigration Buildings and the harbor is from the East end of the concourse.

The ticket offices, telegraph, telephones, news stands, baggage check rooms and other passenger facilities have all been conveniently planned so that confusion will be eliminated and the comfort of the passengers assured.

The general waiting room is 50 feet wide by 75 feet long and will have a dignified and pleasing architectural treatment in keeping with the interior architecture of the hotel. With its five large windows, it will command a beautiful outlook across the hotel grounds and gardens. The women's and men's waiting rooms and toilets are situated at one end of the general waiting room, the women's room at the corner having the same pleasant outlook as the main waiting room. At the other end of the waiting room is the lunch room. Access from the station to the hotel is from the concourse through an attractive arcade which has on one side a large display room for natural resources; also a barber shop with street and hotel entrances.

The extensive baggage, express and mail facilities are arranged along the west side of the tracks and parallel to them, and special consideration has been given to the layout of the approaches, to obviate congestion in traffic. The second floor of this building will be occupied by the various departmental offices, as it is the intention to house the present scattered offices here in one group.

Advantage is being taken of the difference in levels of the site to utilize the station basement as a garage for the accommodation of tourist cars. Part of the basement will also be used as the laundry for the hotel.

All the buildings will be of reinforced concrete construction and entirely fireproof throughout. The entire scheme has been designed by John S. Archibald, architect, Montreal, and John Schofield, Canadian National Railways architect, Canadian National Railways Publicity Department. Montreal, December 12, 1927.
