THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The service of morning worship was conducted by the Rev. I. Judson Levy B.D., whose sermon was "Jesus Came Preaching." Saint Mark tells us "that now after that John was put in prison Jesus came into Galilee preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God." So the Master began his ministry preaching and teaching. He was in possession of truth so vital that once it had won its way into the hearts of mankind, all problems would be solved. Of all who have taught in the world none was ever so perfectly in accord with his message as he himself. Great were his words, greater infinitely, what he was, the very focal point of God's revelation to man, in himself the voice and message of God. He came preaching the gospel of the Kingdom, that God is, and that God is a person who communicates with man and expects man to be in communion with Him. There are two ways to knowledge, the way of reason and the way of faith, revealed to us in one word of Jesus as he says "Father," expressing the love that goes all the way to bring man out of sin and into relation with God.

The choir sang the motet "Lord We Trust Alone In Thee." (Handel).

The Church School met for Bible Study Session at 2.30 P.M.

Evening worship was conducted at 7 P.M. by Mr. Levy, with sermon "The Health of the Soul." The evening music included the chorale "God Be In My Head" (Walford-Davis) and the anthem "One Sweetly Solemn Thought".

Mrs. G. Elliott Full, organist and director of choir, was in charge of the music of the day.

RETURN TO MANILA

McArthur is at Manila
He is calling on the Japs
But he was not expected
By the dirty, yellow rats.

In Japan, it is the custom,
When they have company,
To sit them down on cushions,
And serve them cups of tea.

So they got their little tables out,
And did their very best,
To place the cushions in their place
For unexpected guests.

But McArthur brought his with him,
And they are not filled with down,
But the Japs, they do not like them
And they fear their dreadful sound.

But they will serve the purpose
For revenge of comrades dear,
And the cruel tortures suffered
When held as prisoners there.

Through weary months, and years of waiting
Within these prison walls,
As night and day they listened
To hear McArthur call.

For he told them, when he left
That he would return some day,
And for every comrade murdered
Two fold the Japs would pay.

Oh, the joy, and gladness
When they knew that he was there,
And heard the soldiers shout, "Pal,
We are taking over here."

And with tears, and prayers of thanks to them
That they were free again,
And the loss of friends and comrades,
Will not be in vain.

March on, you gallant soldiers
Your goal is now in sight,
Tnough hard will be the battle
And fierce will be the fight.

But right shall always triumph
As on your way you go,
To rout the Japs from every land
Right on to Tokyo.

—Mrs. Edgar Gillespie

Allied Club Meeting In Charlottetown

The first public appearance of the Allied Club in Charlottetown yesterday was attended by Bishop James Boyle, Lieutenant Governor B. W. LePage, Premier J. Walter Jones, the Rev. Canon E. M. Malone and others, while the Air Force was represented by Wing Commander Ellis, D.F.C., Chief Instructor, Wing Commander Howells, from Air Force Headquarters in Ottawa, F/L Cameron, Chief Ground Instructor, F/L Scrase, F/O Hill, F/O Farquharson, F/O Jiles, and numerous members of the Allied Club.

The meeting was opened by the chairman, LAC. Leemhorst, who first expressed his appreciation for the thoughtful guidance and kind assistance of the honorary president, F/L Cameron, before introducing the president, Cpl. Ganshof van der Meersch. The president officially expressed the gratefulness of the Allied Club for the kind cooperation met everywhere, from civilians and Air Force and his satisfaction with the success of the first meeting of the Allied Club in Charlottetown. He then told how the Canadian Army had taken an effective part in the liberation of his country, Belgium, and announced his intention to describe in large lines the pre-and post-war political situation of Belgium.

LAC. Ogden, the next speaker, spoke about the position of the Argentine. He pointed out that the aim of the present Argentinian government is to prevent all foreign intervention, and to curtail the importance of foreign enterprises in the Argentine. At the moment, he said, the country is predominantly agrarian which is the cause of a conflict between the interest of the United States and Britain. The first wants to extend its influence by organizing the industrial development of the country, while England wants the country to remain as it is because factories might raise the, at present, low cost of labour which would raise the price of the Argentinian products. The Argentinians themselves want nothing but the determination of their own future, and do not want to enter the war although the majority of the population is pro-Allied. Although it is often said that the Germans have a dominating influence in the Argentine, actually the German interests and importance are relatively small, and the Germans are unpopular. In the entire country there is no German newspaper that can repair its windows as fast as they are broken.

Escaped From Norway

Then LAC. Skrede spoke about his native country Norway, which is often thought of as a cold country with a lot of sardines. During the German invasion the three million Norwegian people with their small army had no chance against the German war machine. He stressed the magnificent stand of King Hakon who was personally leading his troops during their fighting retreat until he couldn't go any further, and left for England with the promise that he would return. LAC. Skrede told how the Nazis wanted to make Norwegian resistance impossible by oppressing the young people, and how that created a desire to escape to England and fight for Norway from there. As an example he described his own escape which took him via Russia, Singapore, South Africa, and the United States to the Norwegian training centre in Canada. This is financed by the earnings of the Norwegian Merchant Marine which during the beginning of the war brought more than sixty per cent of the American gasoline to England. He said the Norwegians who have been trained in Canada will eventually tell in their own country how much Canada has done for Norway, and that Norway will never forget.

The chairman LAC. Leemhorst was the last speaker. He gave a concise picture of the Netherlands in peacetime, illustrating how the people found it hard to believe that the Germans could really commit the monstrous crime of attacking their small, peaceful neighbour. For four hundred years the Dutch have fought for their freedom against successive invaders, and it would never enter their minds to accept a tyranny of any kind. The resistance in Holland against the Germans has been widely spread and the Queen and her government have directed the forces of the Dutch Empire to aid in the war of liberation of their country. The Dutch feel that the freedom of small nations in general has been of immense value to the civilization of all the world. Their independence has been the foundation for the greatness of many great men who have given to the world new and living thoughts, experiences and beliefs.

The evening was concluded by refreshments and documentary films about the Netherlands West Indies and Norway, illustrating that throughout the war the flag of free nations has been kept flying in honour. It was altogether a very instructive, and interesting meeting.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

At the morning service in Trinity United Church the veterans of the Boer War attended in remembrance of their comrades of that conflict of nearly half a century ago and placed a wreath as a memorial on the Communion Table of the Church. They were accompanied by veterans of the Great War of 1914-1918, as well as by veterans of the present struggle in which we are now engaged.

The minister continued his series of sermons on The Steps to the Cross, speaking about the Temptation of Jesus and its reality and meaning for us today.

Miss Margaret Sterns sang very acceptably the selection "There is a Green Hill Far Away", and the hymn-anthem "And Didst Thou Love the Race" was rendered by the choir.

In the evening the minister spoke on Forming Good Habits.

The evening anthem was "O Saviour of the World".

SUMMARY

There was a definite check this week to the activity and upward trend to prices seen in the cattle market in recent weeks. Trading slowed down considerably and some recent gains were erased on medium and common killing cattle. This was most noticeable at Winnipeg and Calgary. Top grades, however, were able to maintain their previous price levels, despite the slower movement. Calves and lambs were firm sellers, with gains noted on lambs in Alberta, from where an appreciable number has been shipped recently to Pacific Coast states. The hog market was featured by an increase of 75c to $1.50 in prices paid for sows. Otherwise, there was little change in this division.

Eastern Cattle Markets

Arrivals of cattle at eastern markets continued heavy for the season but were fairly well disposed of, even though trading maintained a slow pace. Toronto disposed of close to 6,000 head and left only about 200 stockers unsold. Weighty steers were quoted at $12 to $13 for choice and butcher steers up to $11.50, with a few feeders going between $8 and $10. The trade on bulls was very slow and 25c lower in spots at Montreal. Otherwise, the market was not disturbed and good steers were mostly on the basis of $12.25, with one choice load $12.50, and good cows $8.50 to $9.25 and $9.75. Blocked roads hampered trading in the Maritimes and receipts were very short. The top quoted on steers was $11 f. o. b. country points, and on cows $7 to $7.25.

Western Cattle Markets

Trading at Winnipeg was a rather uncertain affair. Buyers were bearing down on medium and low grade cattle and pared 15c to 25c off previous week's prices, on all except cows. A top load of steers was taken at $12.50, with the practical top resting at $12.25 and the general run making $10 to $11.50. A short supply of store cattle placed good stockers and feeders at $8 to $9.25. Calgary was active on top grades but dropped 25c on common to medium steers. The best of the steer offering was priced at $11.25 to $11.85 and an odd $12. Edmonton closed with the lower classes under pressure, after paying $11.75 to $12 for top steers, and others down to $11. Good steers at Prince Albert were $10.75 to $11 or better, Moose Jaw up to $11.75, and Saskatoon $11 to $11.75 and $12.

Exports to United States

Export shipments during the week consisted of 513 dairy cattle as against 496 in the same week last year. This makes the total to date this year 2,749 head as against 2,510 in the same period last year. Sheep and lamb exports to the United States were 7,366 head for the week, the bulk of which moved from southern Alberta to the State of Washington. Exports to date this year from all Canada totalled 22,384 sheep and lambs.

Calves Continue Firm

There was a continued good sale for calves on all markets. Toronto paid $15.50 to $16.50 for choice veals, Montreal up to $16, Winnipeg up to $15, Calgary $10.50 to $11.50, Edmonton $11 to $12, Prince Albert $11.50, Moose Jaw $11, and Saskatoon $12 to $13.

Higher Prices for Sows

Trading in the hog market uncovered a sharp advance in prices paid for sows. These were anywhere from 75c to $1.50 above the previous week. Other grades were little changed. Toronto paid $17.50 for B1 hogs; Montreal $17.60, with an odd sale a shade higher; Winnipeg $16.40 to $16.50; Calgary $16.10 to $16.30; Edmonton $15.95; Prince Albert and Moose Jaw $16.10; Saskatoon $16 to $16.10; and Vancouver $16.60 to $17.10.

The above prices do not include the Dominion Government premiums of $3 per head on Grade A hogs and $2 on Grade B1.

YOU CAN SALT YOUR HANDS WITH BEAUTY

Here is a suggestion about beautiful hands.

After you have washed your hands and dried them thoroughly, take about a tablespoon of salt and rub it into the hands well. This takes out the extra moisture. Follow with hand cream or lotion. Remember too, that carefully manicured nails, soft skin, flexibility and graceful motions are essential to charming hands. Exercise them, keep them out of hot water, massage them with cream, pulling towards the end of each finger with two fingers of the other hand in order to encourage that tapered look, wear gloves when you go out to garden or golf and then try to forget them!

Young men and women and extremely self-conscious persons are always acutely aware of their hands and do not know what to do with them. Therefore they cross their arms over their stomach, place them on their hips and try in all sorts of ways to rid themselves of these impediments. Let the hands take care of themselves easily and unconsciously if you can.

Looking Ahead At Ottawa

(By the Ottawa Staff of The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Feb. 25 — (CP) —The Dominion Progressive Conservative Association is expected at its annual meeting here this week to put the finishing touches to the party's general election plans. The party has been preparing for an election for more than a year and its campaign machinery now is about ready to roll.

Candidates have been nominated in a large number of the federal constituencies and efforts are being made to line up others, including service personnel.

All business meetings will be held in camera, but John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, will address a public dinner rally Friday. He is expected to tell of his recent trip to the fighting fronts in Europe and Italy.

Garfield Case, who won the recent Grey North by-election, is scheduled to address one of the meetings. His scheduled appearance led to speculation that the party will use the government's manpower policy as its chief campaign weapon.

In the Grey North campaign, the manpower question was made a major issue by the party. Mr. Bracken went into the constituency after returning from overseas and told campaign meetings that Canadian reinforcements still appeared to be inadequate.

This was denied by Defence Minister McNaughton, government candidate in the by-election, who said that the reinforcements now were ahead of schedule.

Air: It will be a few months before any of the new trans-border air routes authorized in the recent New York aviation agreement will start to operate. The Toronto-Chicago run will probably be the first of the routes allocated to Canada to start to work.

No new airports are needed on that route. There is a lack of planes as Trans-Canada Air Lines, like other air companies, cannot yet obtain planes for civilian services. When the planes start coming, however, it won't take T.C.A. long to put the extra equipment needed on existing routes and be ready to assign a few to new routes.

R.C.A.F.: With the big Commonwealth Air Training Plan winding up March 31, air circles are speculating that a statement on the nature and size of the peacetime permanent R.C.A.F. may be made before that date.

It was announced Nov. 17 that composition of the permanent post-war R.C.A.F.—depending on Canada's participation in post-war world security—would not be decided "for at least a year."

However, it is understood the new acting Air Minister, Col. Colin Gibson, is considering making some sort of a statement on which discharged air veterans could base their post-war plans.

Canada's Short-Wave Station Is Opened

MONTREAL, Feb. 25 — (CP) — Canada today entered the "world radio arena", to use the words of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, with the official inaugural emission of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's new international service over its powerful, short-wave transmitters at Sackville, N.B.

Canada officially went on the air to the world at 3 p.m. E.D.T., with the announcement from CHTA, —the station's call letters, that, "this is Canada calling."

In an hour-long program that followed, and directed principally to Canadian forces overseas, greetings were extended in English by Mr. King and in French by Justice Minister St. Laurent. From London, there was a brief message by chairman Howard B. Chase of the CBC Board of Governors. The program also was carried over the CBC trans-Canada network.

There was something of interest from almost every part of Canada for listeners overseas. From Toronto, the CBC chorus and orchestra presented a new marching song, "On Our Way," particularly for the Canadian Army overseas. Winnipeg contributed "The Red River Barn Dance," there was some rural rythm from Charlottetown, music from the Pacific coast, French-Canadian folk-songs from Montreal and swing and jive from Toronto.

Station CHTA has been in experimental operation for two months feeding a new high-gain directional antenna of a type never before used on this continent. Reports from Europe agree. CBC spokesmen said, that signals from the new Canadian transmitters are the strongest being received from North America. Studios headquarters are located in Montreal.

TROUBLE-MAKERS

Adelaide in Australia has a matrimonial conciliation commissoner, and he says as reported by the Brandon Sun:

Most strife is caused by mothers - in - law, particularly when young couples are compelled to live in the same house.

Women are more forgiving than men.

Trouble often comes with the first baby, when parents are unable to go out together,—different friends, jealousy, strife.

Easiest cases are those in which a third party is not involved.

Strongest condemnation is for office wife" who steals husband's affection.

Neglect of household duties is most frequent cause of quarrels.

Most puzzling is infatuation of man for woman less worthy than his wife.
