Rousing Meeting At Webster's Cor.

Conservative Candidates Enthusiastically Received. Largely Attended Gathering.

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the Conservative Questionnaire candidates, Messrs. W. Chester S. McLaure and John H. Myers, at Webster's Corner last evening, when the political issues were discussed from a standpoint which elicited repeated applause.

The meeting, which was capably presided over by Mr. A. R. MacDonald of Webster's Corner, was one of the best held during the campaign. There was in evidence a feeling of optimism and confidence which was highly significant of the trend of Conservative feeling throughout Canada at the present time.

Rousing cheers for the candidates and for Premier Bennett were given at the close of the meeting, which closed with the National Anthem.

MR. J. H. MYERS

Not in his twenty-six years in politics had he experienced such difficult times for any government as have occurred during the past five years, said Mr. Myers, the first speaker, in his opening remarks.

"We have brought a good deal of money to Prince Edward Island not only for public works, but for relief as well," he continued. "We have endeavored to serve you faithfully and we feel that we are entitled to ask for your support at this time. One thing of which we feel convinced is that as a statesman, the Rt. Hon. J. B. Bennett has no peer in Canada." (Applause.)

"We are accused of having restricted Canada's trade," Mr. Myers continued. "According to the figures of the League of Nations, the trade of Canada declined less than the average trade of the world or than any other trading country in the world, and in the past four years Canada has come up from 6th largest trading nation to fifth place. Since 1932, when the Empire Agreements were negotiated, our exports trade increased from $222,000,000 to $342,000,000."

Mr. Myers freely confessed his belief that tariffs throughout the world are 50 per cent higher than they ought to be, but pointed out that this situation was not caused

FOOD SHORTAGE IN BERLIN

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BERLIN, Sept. 30.—A scarcity of fats, meat and fruit threatened to unbalance Germany's economic apparatus.

Household providers scurried from one grocery store to another trying in vain to buy quarter pounds of any kind of fat, and officials were equally busy trying to find ways to insure future supplies and to protect their carefully built up self-sufficiency system by buying only the absolute minimum from abroad.

Police patrolled the streets and near stores to prevent the "smuggling" of foodstuffs and to enforce strict rationing of increasingly scarce supplies. Housewives bought only a half pound of meat and so forth, they could, fearing shortages in those lines indicated a scarcity of other foods.

One dairy shop visited by a reporter today was selling milk by the pint only and limited quantities of bread.

"We sold out of supplies today and I don't know what food I can get tomorrow," the owner said.

Japanese In New Move To Extend Influence In China

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TOKYO, Sept. 30.—New Japanese efforts to extend her influence in China were predicted tonight following announcements by the naval ministry that Japan had sent a squadron of destroyers to the waters off Swatow, South China.

The purpose, the statement said, was to equalize Japan's position in the Far East with that of the United States and Great Britain.

The warships were sent to South China at the request of Foreign Minister Koki Hirota. Earlier despatches from Hong-kong said tension was higher at Swatow, with a large force of Japanese marines guarding the consulate there. The Consul made an official protest against consular

NOMINATION DAY IN 76 RIDINGS

293 Candidates Named To Contest 76 Seats In Federal Elections.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—The 293 candidates for the 76 seats in Canada's Parliament will be the greatest of its kind. There will be an average of close to four candidates for every seat.

The day of straight Conservative-Liberal duelling for Federal seats was a shadowy memory as the new and untied parties—the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, Social Credit and Reconstruction—looked to the future.

With regard to Canada-U.S. trade, Mr. Myers stressed the difficulty of both countries as so much alike. This was the reason for the imposition of the Fordney-McCumber tariff of 1913.

During that time Mr. King had made no effective protest against these duties.

Britain Takes Precautionary Measures

League Experts Work Out New Peace Plan - Reported Less Favorable To Italy.

(Copyright 1935 By The News Agency) LONDON, Sept. 30.—(C. P. Havana)—The government has taken precautionary measures in British colonies adjoining Eritrea and Italian Somaliland to meet the war menace, it was learned here today.

The measures were described as "defensive and non-aggressive."

Dino Grandi, Italian Ambassador to London, had a long conference today at the Foreign Office which was interpreted by some observers as a last-minute effort for an Anglo-Italian compromise.

The official defence service said Britain had been reinforcing important colonial border posts in north-east Africa for some time. These movements were intended to assure the closing of the boundaries to possible deserters or to hostile tribes in the event of war.

CANADA MUST ENJOY MUTUAL ADVANTAGES

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 30.—Any trade agreement negotiated between Canada and the United States would be beneficial, upon the understanding that we must receive a substantial advantage for the advantages we give them, Premier Bennett declared here today.

Opening his Ontario campaign with an afternoon address here, Mr. Bennett left afterwards for a night meeting in Hamilton. Pledges made on behalf of the party in 1929 had been largely fulfilled, the Premier said. He had promised to end unemployment then and still felt bound by the pledge and added "we have ended unemployment as it existed in 1930 but that is not good enough because each year 200,000 men and women are added to the employable lists in Canada."

He recalled his own House of Commons speeches of 1928 when he warned of the impending economic collapse. His opponent, he said, had had no allowance for the fact there had been a world-wide depression when they accused the present government of responsibility for unsatisfactory conditions.

Every Liberal but one had voted against the Empire Trade Agreements in the House of Commons "because we had negotiated them by a Liberal candidate today is a vote against these agreements. If they have brought you a measure of happiness and prosperity in these dark days, then the only way to show your gratitude is to vote Conservative."

In spite of the depression Canada's credit had been maintained unshaken in the markets of the world, "while our opponents sat on the sidelines and criticized, never offering a helping hand," he said.

The government had endeavored, by building up internal trade, to give the maximum volume of business to Canadian railways, he said. But they had been hard hit, because of the depression and changes in methods of transporting goods and passenger traffic. In this connection the Prime Minister repeated his promise that his government never attempt the amalgamation of Canadian railways without a referendum.

Mr. Bennett closed with expression of a desire to associate himself with Col. J. L. Ralston in the belief that as veteran affairs should be kept out of politics. Only the veteran would suffer if such matters were made the subject of party debate.

RECONSTRUCTION CANDIDATE

YARMOUTH, N. S., Sept. 29.—J. Donald Burton, Yarmouth hotel proprietor, was selected by a Reconstruction party convention here today to contest the constituency of Shelburne-Yarmouth-Clare in the Dominion elections. He will oppose R. W. E. Landry, C. G. F. candidate, and V. J. Fother, K. C. Liberal.

THREATENED MOBILIZATION CITED AS PROOF

League Experts Work Out New Peace Plan - Reported Less Favorable To Italy.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, Sept. 30.—The announcement of Emperor Haile Selassie that mobilization was imminent in Ethiopia was seized upon in Rome as proof that Ethiopia is the "aggressor" in the conflict with Italy. Threat of mobilization was termed a menace to Italy.

Developments yesterday elsewhere:

LONDON: Unconfirmed reports said Britain had sought to learn what France would do in the case of an unprovoked attack on the British Navy in the Mediterranean. Official circles would not comment.

PARIS: Informed quarters said "specific questions" have been asked by Britain regarding France's action "in specific cases that might arise" in connection with application of sanctions. Steps were taken to strengthen French naval forces in the Mediterranean.

GENEVA: League experts were working on new recommendations to settle the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel with reports indicating that Italy would be less favorable to a plan than that of the five-power committee. Many "practical difficulties" were foreseen should the decision be made to apply sanctions against Italy.

ADDIS ABABA: The King of Kings made preparations for mobilization, awaiting only a signal from his envoys at Geneva to announce it.

VALETTA: Four Italians were ordered deported from Malta and a fifth was forbidden to return to the island.

(By Joseph E. Sharkey, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

GENEVA, Sept. 30.—League of Nations peace-makers went to work today on a new series of recommendations for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict. Aside from drafting a history of the dispute, the experts jotted down the headlines of a peace plan, which, after unanimous adoption by the Council, would be submitted to Italy and Ethiopia.

Today's information indicated the new plan will be even less favorable to Italy than the project of the "big five" committee which Premier Mussolini turned down, at least in the sense that it will be less specific and less calculated to weaken the sovereignty of Ethiopia.

Something may be inserted, it also was intimated, to recommend the two countries to cease their concentration of military forces.

In addition, the plan may embody the suggestion of Sir Samuel Hoare, British Foreign Secretary, for a world conference aimed at securing more equitable distribution of the world's raw materials.

League officials pointed out the project—requested by Emperor Haile Selassie—of sending a squadron of aerial observers to the East African frontiers seemed increasingly difficult.

They said there were no landing facilities except those controlled by Italy. Ethiopian tribesmen might rear the airplanes as League military assistance to Ethiopia, and that the League air patrol would be sent to the area.

Prolonged Voting Protested By German Memelanders

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MEMEL, Sept. 30.—German Memelanders, angered by the prolonged voting of the territory's diet election, sent a telegram of protest tonight to the Geneva delegations of Great Britain, France and Belgium, signifying powers to the Memel convention.

Despite this new dispute, the territory concluded its second day of voting on German or Lithuanian candidates for 20 seats with only minor hiccups reported.

Rumors, wholly without confirmation, were spread that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler would make a surprise appearance at Tilsit, just across the Prussian frontier, to urge for an important political speech. (Havas reported Hitler was in Landsberg, near Koelnigsberg, tonight.)

Cruise Ship Held Fast On Reef Off Jamaica Coast

Passengers Of Liner Rotterdam Observe Perfect Discipline As Rescue Work Is Carried Out. Cause Of Grounding Unknown.

(C. P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire) KINGSTON, Jamaica, Sept. 30.—Gripped by a coral-fanged reef, the Holland-American cruise liner Rotterdam tonight transferred her 450 passengers and 250 men of her crew to the rescue ship Ariguani, which put out from Kingston early today.

The liner's hull was holed as she pounded on the reef about 60 miles from here but her remaining crew of 276 men were not believed to be in any immediate danger. Whether or not they would abandon the vessel tonight was not reported.

Arriving alongside this afternoon, the Ariguani began taking off passengers at 4:30 E.S.T. and completed the transfer about eight o'clock.

She immediately turned and headed back for Kingston, her skipper expecting to arrive before midnight.

"Taking the shipwreck as 'more or less of an experience,' the passengers changed boats with perfect discipline and without mishap.

Answers Wireless Call

The Ariguani put out into the Caribbean in response to a wireless call from the 21,000-ton liner several hours after she nosed into the reef at 2 a.m. today, as she and a West Indies cruise ship were heading in for this port at the time.

Cause of the grounding was not known. It was not attributed to the hurricane that raked the Caribbean over the week-end with a loss of 37 lives, for the Rotterdam was coming up behind its tail when she ran ashore. Messages during the day from Captain J. Van Dulken, the Rotterdam's veteran seaman, reported all was well aboard the big ship. The passengers were described as "very quiet."

The sea had smoothed down into comparative calm after the week-end's storm that inflicted $1,250,000 damage to Jamaica's banana crop and wrecked 40 houses on the island of Cayman Brac, one of her dependencies. A swell was still running, though, and messages from the Ariguani reported the Rotterdam was pounding "lightly" on the reef.

Well Up On Reef

Leaks opened in the liner's bottom, and she was making water in four compartments. Word received here said almost her full length lay along the jagged reef.

The Ariguani had accommodations for only 120 passengers but deck space enough to make all comfortable.

In Kingston, preparations were being made to house the rescued passengers. A closed hotel was being opened up again to care for some, and others were to be distributed among other hotels and private homes.

They were on their way back to New York when the Rotterdam struck, near the spot where last year the steamship Newbrough ran aground in heavy seas. The Newbrough's crew was taken off in the teeth of a gale by the cable ship Norseman.

The Rotterdam was moving at only seven knots an hour when she
