The building, which was the world's greatest masonry, but has since been one and one by one the trade monuments have been wiped out, one of the greatest of which is the building shortly to be demolished. Georgetown, basking peacefully in the rare beauty with which nature has endowed her, perhaps sorrowfully recalls the life of yesterday.

THE COLLEGE TIMES—Entertaining readers as well as P.V.C. students, the December issue of The College Times, which has just made its appearance, is interesting to note from the contents that for fifteen years, the Times has been published "by the students for the students," and that one of the objects is to advise newcomers and encourage them to take part in the social and athletic activities of the college. While appealing for more co-operation between the student body and the faculty it extenuates the student's interest in the college and places on students the onus of pulling together in the direction of a happier college life.
