INFLUENCE.
Once upon a time, hundreds of years ago, we are told, there lived a king who built a city, and because he was determined never to be forgotten he ordered that every brick used should be stamped with his name. He wanted the name of the builder of that city to be handed down to posterity, and so he chose that way of leaving his mark upon something that would last for generations.

Most people have the same wish, expressed in different ways, according to their temperaments at some time or other in their lives. Great artists hand down great pictures, great authors great books, great musicians, great music—though their greatness is not achieved because of their desire to leave a lasting memento, but by their expression of the best that they know of what is noble and true and most worthy of admiration.

We are not all able to do something that will last for generations, but we cannot help leaving something behind us, and that is the influence we leave, generally quite unconsciously, upon the people with whom we come in contact. It is like the stone thrown into the pond, where it fell the circles widen and widen, until they seem to take in the whole world.

Women are exercising an ever-widening circle of influence to-day. They are leaving their mark, indelibly, upon the pages of history, as that old king left his upon the bricks of the city. Let them be sure that the mark is for the good, and not the ill, of their country and their fellow-men.

It is very much easier always to preach than to practise, but we may preach as much as we wish, if we do not practise it is all in vain. It is easy to grow slack, much easier than to be always on the alert—but somebody working under us, or with us, sees our slackness. That slackness spreads—simply due to our influence. So in the business world and in every walk of life.

Of course, we cannot go around with long faces, asking ourselves continually, "How is this, or that, going to influence other people?" All we have to do is just to live our own lives in the right way. Have a right motive for your own acts—and you do not need to trouble what influence you are having upon anyone else.

We know the marks that are being left by noble, unselfish women, to-day. In France and England their work and sacrifice is continually held up to us for an example, and in this country there are many quietly, and ostentatiously doing the same thing, their influence a glorious, ever-widening circle, reaching to the infinite. If they are asked they simply say, "I am only doing my bit."

"God bless the women," many a speaker has said in reference to their work. "God bless the women," say the boys in the trenches. Can there exist one woman who would give them cause to say anything else?

Ah! yes. Whether we preach or not is immaterial, but if we want to leave a fair mark upon the world, that some day we may proudly own, we must practise.

THE MORNING DAILY GUARDIAN can be obtained at Lafferty's Tonsorial Parlors, Summerside.

PARK CORNER.—In order to raise funds, the Park Corner and Burlington Soldiers' Comfort Society, held a parlor social at the home of William H. Campbell on Thursday last. The night was unfavorable but a large crowd gathered. After a splendidly performed programme was carried out, the chief number of which was instrumental music by Messrs Campbell and Ready, the company repaired to the dining room where the "luncheon" was amply supplied. Park Corner is noted all over Prince Edward Island for its cookery, but never did it excel itself as it did on that night. Never has the writer enjoyed such a supper. After supper games were played, and at a late hour, the company dispersed all feeling very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell for the pleasant evening. The neat sum of $15 was realized.

KNITTED TRIMMING IS USED.

Employed as a Novelty on Woolen Coats and Also on Some New Blouses of Georgette Crepe.

Apparently women have all grown so used to knitting that they just cannot stop doing it. At least, one is justified in such an inference from the number of knitted accessories of the forms of knitted trimming one sees. To begin with, the vogue of the knitted wool sweater is by no means finished. Women stop in their work of making socks and mufflers now and then to knit a sweater for themselves of some gray yarn.

Perhaps the newest thing is the woolen coat with trimmings of knitted yarn. Some of these coats are very smart. They are expensive, too, for, of course, the knitted work is hand work, and they are also a novelty.

Some of the new blouses of Georgette crepe are embroidered in wool of various colors—quite effective, too.

Another novelty is the Georgette blouse with collar and cuffs of knitted worsted. The collar is of the standup and turn-over variety and it is held neatly snug with a band of black velvet ribbon. The cuffs are elastic, of course, and cling closely to the wrists. A blouse of flesh-colored Georgette has collar and cuffs of bright blue and yellow.

PUT RIBBON ON DEAD MAN

Sergt. Ernest M. Rochester, son of Rev. Dr. William Rochester, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, who was killed in action on November 26, was awarded the Military Medal the day previous to his death. The ribbon was pinned on the sergeant's breast just before his burial in a cemetery behind the lines.

A story told by Lieut. H. H. Stevens, of the 107th Canadian Pioneers, tells of the gallantry of a Canadian gunner and from the description given, Sergt. Rochester is believed to be the man. Lieut. Stevens says: "The guns were right out in the open and shells almost touching, line after line of them, and all going at it as hard as they could. I saw a man serving his eighteen-pounder with balance of his gun crew lying alongside dead. He still kept his gun in action, and was cheered by other gun crews, who, however, could not send men to help him out. He just shoved the shells in, sighted the gun, and fired a continuous stream on the Hun."

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Take a glass of Salts if your back hurts or Bladder troubles you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which exerts its influence, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation. Thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take, and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

If King George were to abandon his throne and abdicate titles he would be known as plain Mr. Windsor, which is the family name of the British sovereign.

Cows to which the phonograph was played while they were being milked are said to have given several quarts of milk a day more than they ever did before.
