SUMMERSIDE, April 19—The case of the King vs. Meddie Cassey charged with shop breaking, was resumed on Saturday morning at the Court House, Summerside, before Judge Inman. During the hearing of the evidence for the Crown on Friday, Mr. Heath Strong, K. C., Counsel for the prisoner, had taken objection to Mr. Miller's evidence of his conversation with the prisoner, as he did not consider the confession a voluntary one and could not be received. Judge Inman stated that he had considered the question during the night and he did not think that he could admit this conversation which Mr. Miller had with the prisoner. His Honor reviewed the evidence of Mr. Miller given at Friday's Court, that he had followed the accused into a hotel and without telling him he was a police officer, had asked him to go with him for questioning. Judge Inman stated that police officers should not cross examine prisoners after arrest. He did not consider that this prisoner was treated as openly as he should have been when he was questioned by the inspector. The Judge stated there was some conflict of evidence as to what had occurred in the Sheriff's office between the prisoner and Mr. Miller as to what warning had been given to the prisoner, and he had come to the conclusion he would give the prisoner the benefit of the doubt and not admit this evidence. He thought that warnings given by police officers should be a shield for the prisoner rather than a sword for the prosecution by which they would obtain evidence to convict. He could find no authority for a warning to a prisoner that he was going to be subjected to an examination.

Emanuel J. Cormier, Alice Gallant, clerks in the store of Gallant and Gaudet, gave evidence, also Wilfred Gaudet, one of the managers of Gallant and Gaudet, but no new light was thrown on the matter, their evidence being much the same as that of the witnesses for the Crown of the previous day as to goods lost and condition of building. This closed the case for the Crown.

In the afternoon the prisoner took the stand in his own behalf and stated that he had been working at Freetown on the railway and left there on the 13th April and went to Miscouche on the evening train. He looked for some work among the farmers near there and one of them told him that it was no use looking for work at that season of the year and he went back to the station and stayed there all night. He found a parcel next morning on the main road which crosses the railway at Miscouche station, which contained a sweater and some small bottles of perfume. He came to Summerside on the morning train and put on the sweater and put the other articles in his pocket. The money he had on his person he had earned in Freetown and had won a little playing cards on the train. The other small articles he stated that he had purchased in Moncton and Amherst. Prisoner denied being at Wellington or Abrams Village on the night in question or that he had broken into Gallant and Gaudet's store.

Mrs. Ramsay, with whom he boarded at Freetown, gave evidence that he had a fountain pen when he left her house, similar to the one produced in court and that a few days before that she had seen him with some money and that he had left her house on the 13th day of April by the 5.30 p. m. train. On cross examination the witness stated that he had been convicted in Amherst in 1929 for breaking and entering a store there. After the evidence for the defence the case was summed up by Mr. Heath Strong on behalf of the prisoner and the Attorney-General for the Crown. Judge Inman reserved his decision until Monday, the 27th, April, at 10 o'clock a. m. S.

Full-Spencer Nuptials

(Sydney Record, April 17, 1931)

On Thursday afternoon, at the home of the bride's parents, Ankerly Street, a quiet but very pretty wedding took place, when Roberta Genevieve, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Spencer, became the bride of Lieut.-Col. George Elliott Full, of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Kinley, in the presence of a very few relatives and friends. Easter lilies, ferns and pink hydrangeas formed an attractive background for the bridal party, while pink sweet peas and carnations were used for decorations throughout the rooms.

The bride, who was unattended, was most becomingly gowned in a fitted model of pale pink lace with long sleeve jacket, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. The bridal chorus from "The Rose Maiden" played by A. F. MacKinnon, F. T. C. L., was followed by Lohengrin's wedding march as the bride entered the room on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.

During the signing of the registers, Mrs. Arthur Roper sang Greig's "I Love Thee" and the bridal party returned to the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Receiving with the bride were her mother and the groom's mother, Mr. George E. Full, of Charlottetown.

Mrs. B. L. Lowden presided over the tea table, which was centred with the wedding cake and lighted with tall pink candles. Mrs. Roland Lewis cut the loaves, and assisting in the serving were Mrs. T. E. Guy, and Misses Nan Bayer, Dorothy Boyd and Lillian McKennie.

During the reception solos were rendered by Mrs. Roper and Miss McKennie.

Little Misses Jean Lewis and Shirley Lewis, daintily gowned in pink organdy opened the door and ushered the guests to the room.

Lieut.-Col. Full and Mrs. Full left by the evening express on a honeymoon trip to Boston, New York and Montreal, and on their return will reside in Charlottetown. The bride travelled in a brown figured costume, light brown coat with fox collar and hat and accessories to match.

Mrs. Full, who is well known in the city as former organist of the George street Methodist church, is a musician of outstanding ability, a Fellow of Trinity College, London, where she held scholarships and won several honors, has been a brilliant success in Charlottetown, where she was organist and choir director in the First Baptist church for the past five years, and held a prominent position in musical circles there. The large amount of entertaining done in her honor testified to her musical popularity.

Lieut.-Col. Full, who was adjutant of the 106th Battalion during the war is active in military circles being Lieut.-Colonel of the P. E. I. Light Horse, senior A. D. C. to the present Lieut.-Governor, and holder of the V.D. service medal. He is a prominent business man in Charlottetown and is also very popular.

The happy couple are followed by many good wishes of a host of friends both in Sydney and Charlottetown.

Finally, brethren, whatever, things are true, whatever, things are honest, whatever, things are just, whatever, things are pure, whatever, things are lovely, whatever, things are of good report. If there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

After a few words of welcome to the students and other young people, the speaker said: "Thought Determines Life." Brute strength no longer gets a man the highest there is in life.

Clean, pure and Holy Thoughts are the things which bring success these days. The Lord challenges us to think and points out where drifters go. Plan your life right said the speaker, and you won't drift. Many young people refuse to think and just rush on to their destruction. Dr. Vincent likened the present day call to youth to do things, such as young men of old had done noble deeds, Moses, Joseph, David of Bible fame, Luther Newton and many others dared the ridicule of their fellow men to do great things. Dr. Vincent closed his very inspiring and helpful address with an appeal to all present to link up their lives with God and to catch the vision of Jesus Christ.

The hearty thanks of the audience was tendered Dr. Vincent at the close of the meeting and the thanks and appreciation of all is extended to the Quartette, to Mrs. Vincent, and to Miss Stenford, for their kindly assistance.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. A. C. Vincent, at the Baptist Church yesterday morning delivered an inspiring and thoughtful sermon on "The Risks of Life." His text, Hebrews 11, 8, "And he went out, not knowing whither he went." All great living is in part a great adventure. Lonely were the climbers who won to the heights whereon was hid the thought that God is a being with a character, heroic the adventurers who like Abraham went forth, not knowing whither. The whole world loves a lover, and the whole world thrills to the great adventurer. It was when "behind him lay the grey azores, behind, the Gates of Hercules" that Columbus became a hero indeed. Plato, leaving the commonplaces of thought, fared forth upon an unknown sea and won through to the golden isles of reality, to be honored forevermore. Roger Bacon made the great adventure of science for the thirteenth century, a pioneer whose memory shall never die.

There is something in us all that delights in adventure, something that calls to the thrill of the dangerous way. We like risks, we like speculation, and life is full of them. Through risks and adventure men have won to fortune, nations have conquered in war, empires, stately strong and enduring have been built. And many a time risks are taken for pure joy and men meet them as gentlemen unafraid.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

A very pleasant event took place on Wednesday last when representatives of his Bible Class waited upon Dr. Ramsay at his residence and presented him with a purse of gold as an evidence of their esteem and upon his leaving on two or three weeks special leave of absence granted to him by the Session. Dr. Ramsay leaves this morning on a visit to his friend, Mr. Thos. Cantley, M.P. at Ottawa.

Arrangements had been made for Mr. J. M. Greene to give an address on the work of the Gidons but his visit to Charlottetown has been postponed and therefore Rev. Mr. Brown preached on a passage taken from Psalm 96-99 "O worship the King" which was listened to with close attention and with much appreciation. The choir gave the anthem "I love thy Kingdom, Lord" with Mrs. Roy Cudmore as Soloist and as the writer listened and enjoyed the music, his thoughts turned to the following quotation written 35 years ago in regard to this church and which is equally applicable today. "The music has ever been a distinctive feature. The congregational singing is excellent and hearty. A large, loyal and efficient choir under the leadership of Prof. Earle renders impressive the best church music and leads the great congregation in Holy Song." The attendance at Sunday School was 434. It has been the practice recently to have some member give a five minute talk on some subject of interest. The Speaker yesterday was
