MR. FRASER AND THE ELMIRA BRANCH.

The other day in the House of Commons when the railway estimates for Prince Edward Island were under consideration, Hon. Mr. Graham in reply to Mr. Fraser of King's County made the following statement with regard to the so-called Elmira Branch, now under construction from Harmony to Elmira, a distance of ten miles:

Mr. Graham. I am not surprised at my hon. friend's complaint about the slowness of the contractors. This contract was let to the Whitehead Bros. at schedule prices. As our department figured their schedule prices, they amounted to $135,000, that was only for comparative purposes. Our estimates showed $315,000. I think since the Whitehead Bros. started the contract their father died. The Whitehead Bros. took this contract, and got into some difficulty. There were some claims made against them, and we held up their estimates until their claims were settled. But you can understand in what position the young contractors would be in. They have been very slow, but I think they have got things straightened out. It has been suggested to me that a stronger contractor is about to take hold and help them.

Mr. Fraser. What is his name? Mr. Graham. Kitchen. A good deal of the road is graded. The man who had the contract for building the station built it very rapidly, it is nearly completed. The grading is pretty well along. The rails have been ordered from the Intercolonial, we are selling them Canada Eastern rails, 56 lbs. to the yard. These rails will be shipped immediately to

THE SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Congress is now in special session at Washington having been called together by the President for the purpose of considering and adopting the reciprocity agreement. At least that is the President's purpose in calling the session. But Congress, once in session will do such things, omit such things, and divide its forces upon such things as the two Houses may agree or disagree upon. And it is by no means yet certain that the two Houses will agree to adopt the reciprocity agreement. The House of Representatives may be, like Barkis, "willing" enough, but the Senate may be reluctant.

More than at any previous date in the history of the Dominion, Canada, is now concerned with what Congress may do with a measure before it, reciprocity, to wit. And there is another question, when will the final decision thereon be reached? Champ Clark, the Democratic leader of the House of Representatives, is quoted as expecting the session to end in August. That opinion is based on the time occupied by two previous special sessions he had attended. The

HOW TO SAVE MONEY

A Pointer to Housekeepers. Look at the financial side of Zam-Buk's use. A cut sustained in the home, the store, or the workshop, a sore which is unattended, results, say, in festering or blood-poisoning. You have to lay off for a day or two. What does that mean when pay day comes round? Zam-Buk insures you against that loss! A little Zam-Buk applied to such an injury prevents all danger of blood-poisoning, takes out the smarting and heals.

Headaches. Families know how costly doctoring is, so wise and act on the preventive line. A box of Zam-Buk is the home is so all-round useful. The baby's rashes, the older children's cuts and bruises, the inevitable burn, cut, or scald—for all ailments, such as piles, ulcers, eczema, ringworm, etc., Zam-Buk is without a rival.

Dangers of Shaving.—You get a cut at the barber's shop. A little Zam-Buk smeared on the wound prevents all danger. If any ailment has been contracted, Zam-Buk cures. Mr. George Hobden, 108 Manitoba St., Thomas, Ontario, says: "I contracted a barber's rash and the whole of my left cheek broke out in one mass of red, watery pimples and sores. These spread to the other parts of my face, until face and neck were covered with burning sores. How far the disease would have spread had it not been for Zam-Buk, I don't know. I applied the balm, and in a short time Zam-Buk effected a complete cure."

Zam-Buk Soap is as good as the balm, but in a different way. Washed in Zam-Buk Soap the skin is disinfected and disease germs lying upon it are killed. Mothers will find it unequalled for baby's bath.

Zam-Buk Balm and Zam-Buk Soap are sold by all druggists and stores at 50c. for the balm and 25c. tablet for the soap.

NO LOYAL ADDRESS FROM CITY OF DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, April 4.—The Corporation of Dublin voted yesterday 42 to 9, to "proceed with the next business," when a resolution proposing a loyal address on the occasion of the Kings approaching visit was introduced at the meeting on Monday.

Of interest to ladies is the fact that we have stocked several odors of the Harmony Perfumes and sachets made in Boston. You have only to see these perfumes to fall in love with them. Sold only by the bulk, price 75c. per ounce. The Mackinnon Drug Co., Cor. Gt. Geo. & Kt. Sts., 4-4d6i.

the branch line. They are second-hand rails, but in good condition, and were used on the Canada Eastern for heavy traffic. We are charging them $27.50 per ton, $32 is the price of new rails. We sell the old rails that are useable at $27.50 a ton. We expect the road will be completed this year. The rails, I think, cost $40,000. The total cost of the road as estimated by the engineer is $315,000.

In reply to further questions Mr. Graham stated that up to the present time $128,000 had been expended on the work, and that he thought it would be completed this year before next winter sets in. There are to be three stations on the line. Mr. Fraser stated that on one of the stations no work has yet been done, although Mr. Graham said $14,000 had been paid for buildings.

To other inquiries made by Mr. Fraser the Minister of Railways stated in reply that the deficit on the P. E. Island Railway last year was $108,000 and would be $85,000 this year. He added that he hoped to work out something a little more satisfactory for the people of Prince Edward Island in the future, as he had great sympathy for them. The conditions are such, he said, that the railway cannot pay, but he thought it the duty of the Dominion to give fair transportation without regard to the fact that there must be an annual deficit on the road. A further inquiry from Mr. Fraser brought out the statement that small claims, as for cattle killed, could be tried in the local courts of this Province, in the same way as those arising along the Intercolonial Railway.

time stated may be a fair general average, but special sessions are not cut to a pattern or brought to a close by precedent.

Many of the Senators and Congressmen are more concerned about the coming Presidential election than they are about a trade agreement with Canada. All good Democrats will want their party to win in the Presidential race and if they are to win the President now in office and likely to be again a candidate must be embarrassed as much as possible. Reciprocity would add to his laurels, already a little too luxuriant to suit Democratic ideas. How to "put Taft in a hole" is therefore part of the game, if it can be done without otherwise impairing the Democratic hold upon the country.

Among Republican Senators the manufacturing interests and trusts are strongly represented, and this class have little favor for reciprocity or any form of tariff reduction. So no one can tell what may happen or when it will happen. Our own Parliament has done a good deal of marking time since it assembled nearly five months ago. There was a month's adjournment following the Christmas holidays, but deducting that, there is very little actual work done for the sixteen weeks it has been sitting. There will probably be some further waiting to see how things will turn at Washington. That is where the decisive word must be spoken. We shall have reciprocity if Congress says so and not otherwise. And we shall only have it when Congress gets "good and ready," be that in April or in August.

Sir Hibbert Tupper has given his opinion that no Canadian who is an imperialist at heart is in favor of reciprocity. If to be loyal to the Empire and British connection is to be an imperialist, then Sir Hibbert is very far wrong indeed. But we fancy his idea of imperialism is an Empire with a protective tariff against all foreign nations and a preference for all within. In that very narrow meaning of imperialism few who favor reciprocity are imperialists.

In the late Congress the Republican majority decided to equip Speaker Cannon at the public cost with about the best motor car that money could buy for his official service as head of the House. The purchase was made against the protest of Champ Clark and other Democrats. And when it came about that Clark was sure to receive the Speakership in place of Cannon, with the motor car as a perquisite, the new Speaker's consistency was put to the test. He passed it successfully by repudiating the motor, as inconsistent with Democratic simplicity and economy.

THE MILLINERY EVENT OF THE SEASON

Prowse Bros Millinery Opening Dated For Thursday Evening, April 6th, 1911—A Magnificent Showing of Trimmed Millinery—Untrimmed Millinery Requisites Etc, Hats From The Great Show Rooms of the World's Best Millinery Home Hats Second to None in Comparison

The day and date of Prowse Bros Millinery opening is set down for Thursday, 6th April, and the time is 7.30 in the evening.

It is an event to mark down—a something to heat in mind when such an important thing as the purchase of a new hat is under consideration. For the laying aside of the Winter wear means the transition to spring with its warm days and its sunshine, and above all to the wearing of something from that big outside world of fashion which brings us close to it.

Well—there are great many beautiful things on exhibit at Prowse Bros for this millinery opening. There are imported hats which are handsome and the correct models are worn abroad—there are home hats which are equally handsome but which are lower priced—and there are unbounded quantities of everything required to make the home hats all that is demanded from a most fastidious season.

The shapes are odd this spring—they are large and they are very small. They droop over the face and flare off the face. They are tri-cornered, and they are round—they have low crowns and high crowns—and it does really seem as if everything that ever has been worn has been called into requisition to form part of this spring's features, with of course the addition of a touch of modernism which converts it into something new.

But there is not a hat in this showing—be it high or low priced which does not possess that something of style, that marks them individual, and that will make you know your hat when you see it. You will find just the hat you want here—for there are hats of many styles and every style.

Almost regretfully one mentions the imported models first—for when home work ranks so high in comparison with them—it is courtesy only which puts them first.

A pointed turban turned very high in front is an exceptionally beautiful affair, with some green straw facing, and folds of white net, the crown being entirely of sweet peas in all shades of heliotrope. It is $15.00.

A hat in Coronation shape is of chip trimmed plentifully with National Blue velvet, while the towers which form the chief portion of the trimming are Hydrangeas in mauve, pink, blue, etc. It is very uncommon in design, and very becoming to a fresh-pretty face. Price $15.00.

One of the fashionable turbans is shown in lace straw—the shape being almost round. The brim is developed in foliage and flowers, the turban itself being of fawn straw, and the ribbon which completes it is of the same shade. Price $8.00.

Turning to Miss Rendle's work which has been all the while claiming attention, one noticed no difference in attractiveness between it and the imported designs. And the writer noticed some very beautiful hats; one of which was in large Gainsborough shape of black. The brim was of Yel-do straw, and the crown of Maline puffed very full. One large, full rich Ostrich plume of black and two jet ornaments formed the trimming, and the price is $17.00.

A Coronation hat of pressed Mohair, was very simply trimmed with black velvet and three handsome ostrich plumes. $9.75.

Still another of Miss Rendle's is a gorgeous hat for a young girl. It is of pure white—a very large slightly turned shape trimmed with nothing but masses of white ribbon arranged in the autos in roses which are worn a great deal. It is only $5.95. A very unique chapeau is of blue straw with very full crown/broad'd velvet tapestry, this along with two rich ornaments completing the trimming idea totally. Price $6.75.

Really the story could be read on an on in that space permit—for the models seem to be countless and not two of them alike.

But they are all on exhibition on Thursday evening—and it will behoove the interested ladies who wait for the announcement of Prowse Bros Millinery Opening to be on time—for choice models are quickly picked up—and it never pleases very well to see the very hat one chooses from the many marked "sold." It will be a feast of beauty—color and artistic

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Dear Sir,—In looking over The Guardian lately, I noticed that a train was dispatched on Sabbath evening, to Georgetown, to take the boat on Monday morning. Now, Sir, could not that train have been sent early on Monday morning, and have had the passengers go right on board the boat, thus saving them the expense of lodging in Georgetown? Was that a work of either necessity or mercy?

The man who sent that train out that evening was guilty of Sabbath breaking, and he will one day stand at the bar of God to answer for this sin. What excuse can he give for thus sinning and causing others to sin?

I fear our Sabbath is slipping away from us little by little, and no effort is being put forth to retain its sacredness.

A while ago wrestlers came to our Island, and hundreds of fools paid their money to see them throw one another down. And see the fruits of it. Look at the crowd on the North River shore, practising the same actions. And that is a sample of how our Sabbath is kept.

I see again a special meeting called on a Sabbath afternoon. A Mr. Woods was presented with a suit case. It would appear that meeting was not for the purpose of worshipping God on His holy day; but to tell Mr. Woods how much they thought of him.

I read in my Bible that the Sabbath is to be sanctified by a holy resting, and spending the day in the public and private exercises of God's worship; except so much as is taken up by the works of necessity or mercy.

Why did they not meet at Mr. Woods' on some week day or evening? and not trespass on the Lord's time?

He gives us six days for our business and pleasure, and only asks one for His own service; and that one is being desecrated by ungodly people.

We have men going out on the Sabbath to decorate the graves of the dead, then they will have the six days for themselves. Poor men, they will have plenty of time in eternity to spend thinking how they robbed God of His time and lost their souls. Hoping, Mr. Editor, I have not taken up too much of your valuable space on this question, which is so deserving of our consideration, I remain yours for a Christian Sabbath.
