

FOSTER MOVING FOR MORE PAPERS

Grand Trunk Loan Passes Committee But Was Attacked Again on the Third Reading.

OTTAWA, May 4—(Special)—In the Commons today Mr. Foster moved for an order of the House that a copy of the findings of the New Brunswick Royal Commission on the Central Railway be laid on the table. The Speaker pointed out that notice must be given and Mr. Foster agreed that it should stand as a notice of motion.

The House went into committee and, resuming consideration of the Grand Trunk Pacific loan, put it through committee and on the motion for the third reading Mr. Foster opened another attack.

TORONTO, May 4—(Special)—It is not improbable that another inter-provincial conference may be held this year, probably in the autumn. Many matters of importance are to be dealt with the outstanding business being a united definition as to the jurisdiction of the Provinces.

There is speculation as to the possibility of the internal economy of the Provinces having a place on the interprovincial program.

Ontario's contribution is along the lines of universal law reform and the possibility of establishing an inter-provincial or national series of school readers.

NEW YORK, May 4—(Special)—The first three masted icebergs ever seen in the Atlantic was sighted by the officers of the Anchor Liner California from Glasgow.

The big berg was 300 feet longer than the Cunarder and presented much more free board.

AN INTERESTING CITY WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Ruby Rattray, of this City, to A. J. Houle, Locomotive Foreman of the Prince Edward Island Railway, takes place this morning at seven o'clock, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. R. Harper, 204 Weymouth Street.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. George E. Ross, pastor of Zion Church, of which Miss Rattray is a member. Miss Rattray is one of Charlottetown's most popular and talented young ladies. For a number of years she has delighted Charlottetown audiences with her elocution, and has always been a favorite with the people. During the last two years she has been teacher of oratory in St. Dunstan's College where her work has been highly appreciated by the faculty and students. Miss Rattray has a host of friends who will wish her a continuance of happiness. She is the recipient of many valuable presents, among them being a handsome silver salver from the members of the Zion Church choir, of which the bride has been a member for the past ten years. The groom's present is a handsome cheque. Both bride and groom will be unattended. She will be dressed in a tailor made suit of London smoke broad-cloth with hat to match. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple will leave by the morning express on a trip to Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston and Niagara. On their return they will take up their residence on Hillsborough Street.

DARING HIGHWAY ROBBERY

GRAND FALLS, N. B.—A daring highway robbery was perpetrated here shortly before midnight, which resulted in Joseph Chamberline, storekeeper, being robbed of $722. He was attacked by two men, unknown, near Grand Falls Bridge, and while one assailant choked him, the other rifled his pockets. They then made off and have escaped capture.

AWFUL ATROCITIES BY MOHAMMEDANS

Ten Days Orgy of Lust and Violence in the Name of Religion. Thousands Butchered or Burned in Their Homes The Horrible Details Are Unprintable.

TARSUS, May 4—(Special)—Authentic details of the atrocities committed by the fanatical Mohammedans are now coming into Tarsus with sickening abundance.

The worst particulars cannot be mentioned, but without doubt at least 10,000 persons lost their lives in this province, some estimates placing the total at 25,000.

Villages were actually wiped out and in one town of 4,000 people, there are less than one hundred left, nearly all women and children.

It was the same thing with hundreds of farms that dot the fertile plains.

The slaughter was unsparring, even Greeks and Syrians were struck down with Armenians.

Entire families were burned to death in their homes and hundreds of girls and women were seized and carried off to the harems.

At one place 100 Armenians surrendered to the soldiers.

The prisoners were taken to an open field where the women were ordered to stand apart. Every one of the men were shot.

In many cases they were done to death with women clinging to them trying to save their lives.

A large number of women were wounded because of their persistence. Turkish young men around Tarsus are trading American girls among each other for horses and rifles.

The entire ten days seem an insensate orgy of lust and violence in the name of race and religion.

There been numerous instances of murdering women and children with deliberation and other instances where women were brought out one by one and shot down, the by-standers clapping their hands at each fresh execution.

LITTLE CHILD WAS KIDNAPPED

SALEM, Mass., May 4—(Special)—May Beauregard, the four-year-old daughter of William Beauregard, was kidnapped from the Gray Nuns' Home yesterday by her father.

The child is en route for Memramcook, N. B., with her aunt, Ida Beauregard. The police are using every effort to apprehend them.

The little girl, who was placed in the home by her mother some time ago, received a visit from a man representing himself as her father.

The mistress in charge of the home allowed the girl to go with him for a walk.

On the failure of the pair to return the Salem police were notified.

It was found the girl was turned over to a young woman at Lynn and taken to Boston.

The pair, Ida Beauregard and her niece, took the train for New Brunswick.

The police along the railroad have been asked to arrest the aunt.

GETS $15,000 BECAUSE HE DID NOT MARRY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 3—Because Alfred H. Wilcox, of this city, heeded the wish of his mother and did not marry during her lifetime, he is richer today by $15,000, besides a share of $2,000,000. Mrs. Antonia Arguello de Wilcox, the young man's mother, was a direct descendant of one of the oldest California Spanish families. She was a relative of the famous governor Pio Pico. She died April 18, and the will was probated yesterday. The instrument disposes of property valued at $2,000,000.

CONGRATULATED THE NEW SULTAN

WORCESTER, May 3—At a mass meeting of Armenians tonight in Beaver Hall it was voted to cable congratulations to the new Sultan. The chairman of the meeting was K. B. Thomajan, and the speakers included the Rev. Garabed M. Maravian, pastor of the Church of the Martyrs; the Rev. David Daviditian, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, and Dr. A. K. Yoosuf.

EARL GREY AN INSPIRING PROCONSUL

LONDON, May 3—The cable describing the decision of Earl Grey to remain in Canada for six years is the best piece of personal news received from the outer empire for a long time. The Sunday Observer says Britain never sent out a more inspiring pro-consul. No representative of the king could have done surer or more splendid work.

Interviewed by the Daily Mail regarding the reported extension of Earl Grey's term, Hamar Greenwood said the greatest compliment he could pay Earl Grey is to say that he went to Banada an Englishman and will return a keen Canadian. Mr. Greenwood emphasizes his excellency's connection with the Quebec tercentenary, in which he did much to solidify Canadian national life.

SPLENDID LECTURE HELD LAST EVENING

The lecture on "Education, Formal and Informal" delivered last night by Rev. Father Campbell in the Basement of St. Dunstan's Cathedral proved to be most interesting and instructive, and the large number who had the good fortune to attend were treated to an evening of keen intellectual enjoyment.

A chorus by the Sunday School boys was a fitting opening to the night's entertainment. Mrs. James Byrne's solo was pleasingly rendered drawing forth much applause and that by Miss Lucy Blanchard held the rapt attention of the audience. Miss Bertha Gorman created a most favorable impression on her first appearance as an elocutionist in Charlottetown.

Reverend Father Campbell delivered one of his best lectures. He handled his subject in a most capable and masterly manner showing clearly the distinction between the processes of acquiring and the amount of knowledge derived by the formal and the informal method. He regarded first the young, rosy and active mind rapidly and voraciously devouring all that knowledge which his environment and experience teaches, and traced his growth and development from infancy through his teens to manhood. The infant by the time he has reached three years of age has already absorbed almost half his information, and has his faculties focused on a definite course in life. His reason not yet having come into operation all his learning is acquired by simple apprehension. After his rational career has opened he gathers this learning in two ways the formal and the informal, the one by a conscious and the other by an unconscious effort. As the youth matures, as set in life's ways of the world, acquires much information of a questionable character the Reverend lecturer laid great stress on the importance of diverting his mind into good channels and threw out many valuable suggestions to assist the Sunday School in procuring and selecting a library.

After the lecture a hearty vote of thanks to the Reverend lecturer was moved by William A. Scott and seconded by F. A. McKenna both of whom in well chosen words expressed their deep appreciation of his brilliant address.

Rev. Dr. McLellan presided and tendered the unanimously thanks of those present.

GREATEST FACTOR FOR PEACE

CHICAGO, May 3—"War always devours the best." These words, written by the German poet, Schiller a century ago, formed the theme of an address at the opening of the second national peace congress today by David Starr Jordan, president of the Leland Stanford Junior university.

"It is in the great growth of fraternal organizations in the United States," said Joseph E. Burt, of Chicago, speaking at the evening session, "that the peace movement has its greatest present factor. Perhaps," Mr. Burt said, "the greatest guarantee against another civil war in this country lies in the fact that over one-third of our men belong to fraternal orders, and are taught to regard their fellowmen as brothers." He referred to the sessions of the congress which were held in the afternoon, and an evening session, but the evening session was in two parts, one at Orchestra hall, presided over by E. G. Hirsch, of Chicago, and the other in the fine arts building, with Miss Jane Adams, of Chicago, as sttlement worker, in the chair.

THE DEATH OF A NOTED MISSIONARY

ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 3—Dr. Sheldon Jackson, the noted missionary died here yesterday following two operations. Dr. Jackson was one of the most versatile, energetic and industrious workers that his denomination has ever known. The record of his activities and missions is a catalogue of performances and at his death he was a member of the national geographical, education statistics and about forty other societies, religious scientific and philanthropic.

To the general public he became best known after 1885 when he was made the first government agent of education in Alaska and conceived and carried out the plan of introducing reindeer into Alaska working first with private, and latter with government support. In 1889 he was made a United States special agent to found a Lap colony in Alaska. He also founded the first government mail service by reindeer, the first canoe mail service and the Alaskan Society of natural history and ethnology.

DEPARTMENTAL STORES FIGHTING

A Pitched Battle in Which Men Were Thrown Through the Glass Doors Onto the Street.

MONTREAL, May 4—(Special)—Carsley's and Scroggie's departmental stores engaged in a pitched battle for the possession of the Scroggie store.

The police were called and men were thrown through glass doors into the streets.

A couple of years ago the Carsleys bought the store occupied by Scroggie.

Scroggie made no arrangements to leave, claiming that Carsley senior, before his death had given consent to their staying another year, but has no paper to that effect.

The Scroggie firm were notified that they could not sell goods today.

Carsley's had men in the store all night measuring for counters.

When Scroggie and his men came they were let in but told all they could do was to take their goods out.

They opened the front door by force and then they threw the men from Carsley's out.

Scroggie has had a writ issued asking Carsley to appear in the criminal courts on a charge of housebreaking.

Carsley has new stock to put in and Scroggie has made no arrangements so he has no place to which to move his immense stock.

It will now be settled in the courts.

CHARLOTTETOWN MAN HAS DISAPPEARED

George Strickland, son of Thomas Strickland of Upper Queen St. has been missing since yesterday afternoon and great concern is felt by his friends for his welfare.

As always happens in a case of this kind reports of various kinds as to the cause of the young man's departure have gone the rounds of the city, but nothing definite is known.

Mrs. Strickland is at present greatly distressed, and yesterday the services of a doctor were required.

One surmise is that the missing man may have left for good or may have done away with himself, though strong hopes are held out for his return.

Mr. Strickland was well liked by all who knew him, and that his return may be only a question of time is the wish of a great many people.

TELLS OF A NOVEL SCHEME

MONCTON, N. B., May 3—The "Development of Power from Bay of Fundy Tides" was discussed by J. L. Weller, C. E., superintendent of the Welland canal, before the Canadian Club here this evening, and proved an attractive subject for the citizens of Moncton, the attendance being the largest in the history of the club.

Engineer Weller, who is one of the promoters of Fundy Tidal Mill now before parliament asking power to harness the Bay of Fundy tides, explained his scheme in detail.

The proposal is to dam the Petitcodiac and Memramcook rivers at Folly Point at Hopewell Cape, the construction being such as to keep the Petitcodiac river full all the time and the Memramcook river dry. The proposed dam will be over a mile long and forty feet high. This would leave about twenty feet of water in the river at Moncton.

The company is capitalized at $10,000,000 and while Mr. Weller said he would not like to give out the estimated cost he was prepared to say $7,500,000 would more than complete the gigantic undertaking. The bill before parliament not only seeks authority to develop power in the Petitcodiac river but at several other points along the Bay of Fundy.

Engineer Weller stated it was the intention to make a survey this summer and have plans of the scheme ready this coming fall.

The question of disturbing Moncton's sewerage system he regarded as not serious. He had looked over the situation and estimated this was a matter that would not interfere with his proposal. He predicted if his power scheme was realized on the Petitcodiac, Moncton would soon become a great industrial centre, pointing out the great change that had been made in this respect in the Niagara district through the manufacture of cheap power.

ARSENIC SPRAYING IS NON-INJURIOUS

BOSTON, May 3—With reference to published reports that the use of certain forms of arsenic in spraying trees to destroy insect pests might cause a poison in the soil which would be dangerous to human beings, the Massachusetts highway commission has received a letter from L. G. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology of the department of agriculture at Washington, stating that there is no danger whatever in the methods employed in this work in Massachusetts.

SOMETHING "SPECIAL" IN MAY 22 ISSUE

Interest increases daily in The Morning Daily Guardian of Saturday, May 22, the Empire number. Who would not like to read some rhyme from "An Old Time Market" on the old market building in Charlottetown? Everybody in this Province and hundreds of people living abroad will be anxious to see even the "Old Market" article.

There will also be a poem by that talented lady Miss L. M. Montgomery, whose fame as a writer is becoming world wide.

In a few days blank coupons for ordering copies of the Empire number will begin appearing in The Guardian and be distributed throughout the various parts of the Province.

The Empire number of May 22 will be the last issue of the Guardian previous to Victoria Day May 24, so the Daughters of the Empire will have a "special" article on that subject, which will be more than interesting. Business men everywhere will find it to their advantage to have a "special" advertisement in the "special" section of the Empire number of May 22 on which will be "special" articles by the Daughters of the Empire.

The net receipts from all "special" advertising, and from all sales at five cents or more for each paper will be for the "Anti Tuberculosis" movement.

Every reader of The Rural Daily Guardian should not miss The morning Daily of above date, for it will give everybody an idea of what the women can do in editing a newspaper.
