THE death took place in Georgetown yesterday afternoon of one of its oldest residents in the person of Peter Stewart aged 88 years. The deceased was born in 1815 and came to Georgetown in 1838, residing there for thirty years. There he build up a large trade as a carpenter and many houses stand as a monument to his handiwork. His wife, a sister of David Logan died some years ago. He leaves four daughters and two sons to mourn their loss.

THE attitude of Prof. Robertson toward the manual training movement is the sort of spirit which makes for success. When Dr. Sproule raised the question as to whether he—a Federal officer—was not trenching on provincial ground in pushing this scheme, Prof. Robertson replied that he would rather resign his Federal position than give it up. It is not at all likely that this step will be necessary; but the willingness to make the sacrifice rather than abandon a task which Prof. Robertson has come to see is of vast importance to the future of the country, indicates that there is no fear of failure through the inattention of this leader at all events.—Montreal Star.

THE Nova Scotia Garment Manufactory situated on 238 and 240 Creighton Street, Halifax is an emporium for men's and boys' shirts, blouses, pants, waiters' white coats, children's clothing, ladies' shirt waists and all garments for men and women. The manager of the business is T. Booth an experienced and capable gentleman who thoroughly understands the wants of his patrons. Mr. Booth formerly conducted business in Charlottetown and while in this city had a high reputation for straightforward dealing. THE schooner Empress which was ashore near Port LaTour and was got off by Beazley Brothers with the aid of the steam tug Goliah and barge Sandow, arrived in port this morning in tow of the Goliah and went into the Cunard docks. The Empress is laden with hard coal and went ashore at Blanch Island, about six miles from Port La Tour. The place is very rough and Capt. Gasler of the Goliah says they were able to work at the vessel only about two days since they went there owing to the wind and weather. About 100 tons of the coal cargo was taken out of the Empress and loaded on another schooner and sent here. Diver Gregaire found two holes in the ship's bottom, one where the anchor had gone through and the other caused by a rock. The holes were patched over by the diver. Capt. Anderson remained at the scene until the ship was floated and he came to Halifax by rail yesterday. The vessel had been stripped of her sails and gear while on the shore, but after she was got off the sails were bent again and used to assist the tow part of the way to Halifax. The Empress is owned by George W. Wightman, Montague.—Halifax Echo.

Word reached the city Saturday by Thomas Busseau that in the gale of Friday afternoon four lobster boats belonging to the factory of John Gordon at Governor's Island had been carried away by the gale and fears were entertained for the safety of three of them. The boats were manned by the following:—Shed. Jordon, Alexandra and Peter McInnis, Pownal; Daniel Ready and Michael Mc, Innis, Tracadie; David Rattray and Jerry McInnis, Charlotte own. The fourth was manned by Busseau and Joseph Robicheaud. It managed to reach the Island safely at four o'clock, but when Busseau had left Governor's Island at six o'clock Saturday morning there was still no sign of the boats, though the gale had moderated greatly. Two boats from St. Peter's Island are also missing. Their occupants were the Lund brothers and Herbert Hewston, John Ryan and another. It is hoped that the boats were able to run before the northwest gale and reach the shores of Point Prim or Nova Scotia, but up to the present nothing has been heard of them. Word received in the city on Saturday night brought the reassuring news that the boats had all reached the Nova Scotian shore on Friday afternoon, and after the storm had subsided returned to the islands on Saturday forenoon.
