Guardian readers will be deeply grieved to learn of the sudden death of Joseph Wise, which occurred yesterday afternoon at his home in this City. Although suffering from a cold, nothing serious was anticipated until yesterday afternoon when he peacefully passed away at the age of seventy-five years. Despite the unpleasant weather a crowded house greeted Bixley and Holcomb and the new singer, T. A. B. Waterhall at New Wonderland on Saturday evening. The vaudeville team gave the best program of the engagement, rendering a delightful Mandolin number by Miss Holcomb, and in addition to Mr. Bixley's song two duets which gave their beautiful voices ample opportunity to show to best advantage. Mr. Waterhall's song took immediately, and he sang him into instant favor. He has a strong, clear, and powerful voice, filling the large hall with melody, and every word is distinct. The pictures were excellent, and tonight opens the engagement of the Dancing Hogs, one of the finest singing and dancing acts on the circuit.

Never before have you seen as much coloring shown in fashionable head wear as show for this season. Like the clothing shown for this spring, the hats are very different from those of former years. You must use care in selecting your Topper for spring. Here you will find some of the smartest blocks trimmed in becoming shades, and the prices modest.
