PETUNIA THE SKUNK

An immediate social success on the set of Republic's "Cheyenne Wildcat," starring Wild Bill Elliott as Red Ryder, was 2 year old Petunia who plays an important part in the action picture.

"Petunia is a skunk. She is one of the few of her kind to succeed in pictures. Dainty, shy and well mannered, she has a number of simple tricks she does on cue from her owner and trainer. She likes being cuddled, and found a good friend in Bobby Blake, who has the role of Little Beaver in the Republic picture.

"Cheyenne Wildcat" is the fourth in a series of action pictures based on the characters of the famous Red Ryder cartoon strip. Alice Fleming plays the role of the Duchess in the series. The picture is on the screen at the Capitol Theatre.

"MY GAL LOVES MUSIC" IS CHARMING UNIVERSAL FILM

A delightful comedy-with-music, Universal's "My Gal Loves Music," opens tonight at the Empire Theatre, with Bob Crosby in the starring role, supported by Grace McDonald, Walter Catlett, Betty Kean, Alan Mowbray, Freddie Mercer and specialty performers, Chinfta and Trixie.

"My Gal Loves Music" tells the amusing story of two girls in a sister act, who are stranded with their medicine faker uncle, Dr. Bilbo, in a small town.

The girls, Grace McDonald and Betty Kean, together with their uncle, played by Walter Catlett, disguise themselves so that Grace may enter a local radio contest as a fourteen-year-old child prodigy.

Bob Crosby, promoter of the radio contest, is attracted to Grace, and vice versa. It all works itself out pretty hilariously when Grace faces some competition from another kid prodigy, Freddie Mercer.

There is some very tuneful music in "My Gal Loves Music."

POWELL, LOY, ASTA ERE TOGETHER AGAIN

Nick, Nora and Asta, that famous threesome of "Thin Man" fame, got together for the first time in more than two years when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Thin Man Goes Home" went before the cameras. The film opens today at the Prince Edward Theatre.

With more than three hundred extras to serve as a welcoming committee in an elaborate cabaret sequence the production got off to a flying start under the direction of Richard Thorpe.

Written by Dwight Taylor, "The Thin Man Goes Home" promises to be one of the most amusing of the entire series. It takes the zany, cosmopolitan couple out of big city surroundings and dumps them in the comparatively small community of Sycamore Springs, where Nick Charles uses his amazing powers of deduction for two express purposes. The first is to unravel an epidemic of murder and mystery in the quiet little city; the second, to convince his father, the town medico, that he, Nick, had done right by himself in spurning a degree of M. D. in favor of a private detective's badge.

Important because it makes the return of the popular series and because it brings the screen's favorit couple together again after an absence of many months, "The Thin Man Goes Home" promises thrilling and laugh-provoking film fare. The supporting cast includes such favorites as Lucile Watson, Harry Davenport, Gloria De Haven, Donald Meek, Eddie Brophy and Anita Bolster.

STRAIGHT LINE EASED THROUGH SKIRT DRAPING

NEW YORK—Nettie Rosenstien's panorama of wartime silhouettes marks the easing of the straight line through the intricacies of skirt draping "Future drape" is her designation for not actual drapery, but a stimulated shaping of the seams which implies a fullness at the hem each side of many of her skirts. Swag drapery on either side of the skirt in other cases is looped under the hem to give width and fluidity to the silhouette in both daytime and evening dresses in her collection. Several evening gowns have skirts that though extremely slim, are slit high on each side of a looped centre panel.

WE BELIEVE that while rendering useful and indispensable public service, we have given honorable employment to a great body of workers both at home office and in the field.

WE BELIEVE that the agency system does not increase the overall cost of life insurance, and further that it is the only known system that has been devised to give the wide life insurance coverage that the people of our country have a right to demand.

WE BELIEVE that the permanent character of the business, with its long record of solvency, is due to the sound and scientific principles upon which it is founded, as well as to the high standard of management which it has received.

WE BELIEVE that life insurance funds, while being invested with primary concern for their safety, should be and are being usefully employed in the most effective way possible to further the country's interests.

WE BELIEVE that there is much ill-informed and unfair criticism of the business, and that it is the duty of the companies to give the public the facts, so that an intelligent judgment can be formed; further that the business should welcome valid and honest criticism in the interests of advancement and improvement.

WE BELIEVE that life insurance is a democratic business because its policyholders participate in the management of the companies through the directors they elect.

Big Three In Session

LONDON, Feb. 6 — (AP) — It was disclosed today that the Big Three actually are in conference, and the expectation was expressed in informed quarters in London that Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin might already have tackled the thorny problem of halting future aggression.

Sir Walter Citrine, British trade union leader, explaining why Mr. Churchill was not present to address today's opening of the Trades Union Congress, announced that the British, American and Russian leaders were meeting "at this very moment."

Sir Walter did not hint as to the location. The German radio said the meeting was being held either aboard a warship in the Black Sea or at a Black Sea port, while the French telegr... said it was being held at Sochi, on the Black Sea's eastern shore at the foot of the Caucasus mountains.

Britain Announces Service Gratuities

LONDON, Feb. 6 — (CP Cable) —Sir John Anderson, Chancellor of the Exchequer, rounded out Britain's program for rehabilitation of service people today by announcing provision of £200,000,000 (about $890,000,000) for war services gratuities—cash payments ranging from 10 shillings to the lowest ranks to 75 shillings to field marshals and admirals for every month spent in the armed ... the war.

The sum raises the total estimated cost of the Government's rehabilitation plans to £700,000,000 since a white paper was issued months ago to outline plans for expenditure of £500,000,000 on post-war service credits for other ranks, civilian clothing on discharge, educational training, and for a plan of resettlement grants of up to £150 for those wishing to start their own business.

The full plan, Sir John said, is "incomparably wider in scope and more liberal in its benefits" than similar arrangements after the last war, "having regard to the changed circumstances of the times." The gratuities will be tax-exempt and cash payments will begin as soon as a scheme for reallocation of manpower after Germany's defeat goes into effect.

Servicewomen and nursing sisters will receive two-thirds the rates of corresponding male ranks.
