IN MEMORIAM

Mr Robert Bruce McMicken It becomes our sad and sorrowful duty to chronicle the death at Carleton, Lot 28, on Sabbath the 16th March, ult., of Robert Bruce McMicken at the comparatively early age of 47 years, after a lingering illness which he bore with patient submission to the will of God. He was never heard to murmur or complain though suffering with weakness or racked with pain, during all his illness. He was able to be about and to attend to his duties on the farm up to the 11th of January last when his illness suddenly assumed a more serious aspect and he was obliged to take to his bed from which he was destined to rise no more. All that the loving care of a dutiful wife, kind friends and skilled medical attendants could do for him was done but to no avail, and on the evening of the 16th of March, after the bidding adieu to his weeping wife, sorrowing brothers, friends and relatives, by his bedside his patient spirit winged its flight peacefully away to Him who gave it. Of him it can be truly said in the language of the poet:— "He left the world without a tear, Save for the friends he held so dear." He was attended during his illness by his pastor, Rev. James McDougall.

WESTERN PERSONALS

John Hall, Summerside, returned last evening from a visit to Calgary, Alta.—J.

The following registered at the Queen Hotel, Summerside, yesterday: Messrs. A. Rich, Montreal; J. O. Richardson, Toronto; R. W. Sadler, St. John; P. J. Stewart, Alberton; Gavin Harding, Graham's Road; E. A. McKenzie, Truro; Wm. Moran, Charlottetown.—J.

all, and the elders of the Church, who seldom witnessed one so patient and resigned in his sickness. He died in the full assurance of an abundant entrance into that better life beyond death and the grave.

He was a man of unassuming character and quiet and peaceful disposition and was a general favorite with all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was one of the most hospitable of men as all who have had occasion to visit his home will cheerfully bear testimony to ever unflinching in his efforts to make the stranger within his gates or the visitor to his home feel at ease and at home in his house.

The esteem in which he was held in the community in which he lived all his life on the old homestead, was evidenced by the long line of carriages, that followed his mortal remains to their last resting place in the Cape Traverse cemetery, on Wednesday the 19th day of March, there to await the resurrection of the just.

The funeral services which were conducted by the Rev. Jas. McDougall were impressive, appropriate and affecting.

He leaves a sorrowing widow and two brothers, besides other relatives to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband, brother and friend.—Com.

MR THOMAS CAMERON

Departed this life at the home of his brother, S. D. Cameron, Hampton, on the Thursday morning, April 18th, Thomas Cameron, eldest son of the late David Cameron, aged 63 years. The deceased had enjoyed good health up to October last, when heart and kidney trouble, having set in, rapidly developed into dropsy against which his strong constitution wore up wonderfully, till the 3rd inst when he succumbed to the inevitable and passed peacefully away. One brother and six sisters survive him, viz:—S. D. Cameron, Hampton; Mrs. John McFarlane, South Melville; Mrs. Arntomas Beer, DeSable; Mrs. John Sohey, Roxbury, Mass.; Mrs. C. Irving Pope, Salem, Mass.; Mrs. Harriet McDonald, Victoria; Mrs. A. B. Campbell, Charlottetown.

The deceased had resided for many years in the United States. He also visited England and Scotland on several occasions. Sailing out of New York and Liverpool, Eng., he crossed the Atlantic several times. His funeral from the residence of his brother, to the Crapaud Methodist cemetery, was very largely attended their being over sixty carriages, in the procession, besides many afoot, owing to the bad state of roads. Rev. G. M. Young, conducted the services at the house and grave. The pall-bearers were:—Bert van Trowdale, John D. McFarlane, Walter Beer, Thomas Cameron, David Cameron and George Myers. The three first mentioned nephews, and the latter, cousins of the deceased.—Com.

REV. MR. HAWLEY.

The following letter of sympathy has been sent to Mrs. Hawley and family, Marshfield, from Banner Lodge, L. O. G. T. Mrs. Hawley: Dear Madam:—It is with feelings of deep and sincere regret that the members of Banner Lodge, No. 18, Independent Order of Good Templars, have to tender you and your family their heartfelt sympathy in your affliction through the loss of your devoted partner and our esteemed pastor and Chief Templar of our Lodge. Our beloved brother, amiable and highly respected in every walk of life, needed only to be known to be loved, and his connection with our society was at all times characterized by unflinching zeal, distinguished courtesy and spotless character. Our Lodge will greatly miss his prudent counsel and his earnest efforts for its welfare. We shall miss his guiding hand and gentle, persuasive encouragement but we can only hope and pray that He who doeth all things well will raise up others to take up the work that our beloved brother laid down when the call came to come up higher. Again assuring you of our profound respect for the memory of our esteemed brother and of our tender sympathy for yourself and family in this trying dispensation of a kind and merciful as well as an all-wise Providence, we commend yourself, our beloved sister Helen and other members of your family to His loving and gracious keeping.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge in F. H. and O.: Bessie Crosby, L.H.D.

A Persistent Misrepresentation of Facts is being carried on by certain firms in this City to the effect that, the oilcloths and linoleums sold by us at from 20 to 30 per cent cheaper than they sell the same goods, are of an inferior quality. This statement we positively deny, and if any customer who is told this, premeditated "falsehood" will only challenge the truth of the statement and demand the proof, we will cheerfully produce our invoices and prove beyond the question of a doubt that we buy direct from the largest and best English and Scotch manufacturers, and that the oilcloths and linoleums sold by us are the best made, and that our prices are the lowest in Canada.

CUSTOMERS HAVE BEEN TOLD that our carpets fade. This is the arguments used by department managers in other stores when they are asked to explain why their prices are so much higher than ours. Some of these customers are our good friends, who came to investigate and found that carpet squares of the same quality were just 20 p. c. cheaper here than in the other stores.

PERHAPS WE HAVE SAID ENOUGH about the slanderous tactics used by competing firms in an effort to justify their high prices, but we want to make it plain, that, if you are buying your house furnishings, curtains, carpets and oilcloths "for cash," you can save from 20 to 30 per cent on your purchases and we give you the largest and best assorted stock on P. E. Island to select from.

The True Reason Why Our Prices Are So Much Lower Than Other Stores is Because We Do a Strictly Cash Business

How To Buy Inlaid Linoleum

There are three qualities of inlaid Linoleum A, B, and C. These qualities are not marked on the rolls, but every firm that sells these goods has the book of samples and the quality is marked plainly on the back of the samples. The same pattern is not made in the different qualities. For instance, if you see a pattern marked C quality you cannot get that same pattern in either A or B quality, and the same rule holds good in the other qualities.

Now, Then A is the first, B the second and C the third quality. We import direct from Nairn's and Barry, Ostlere and Shepard Ltd. of Kirkcaldy, Scotland the largest manufacturers of linoleum in the world.

Table listing prices for Nairn's A, B, and C quality inlaid linoleum and Barry, Ostler & Shepherd Ltd. quality A per yard.

We match, cut and lay all Inlaid Linoleum free of charge.

Foster, Com. Well we know he would not falter Though his inmost soul might bleed. Are we eager for his service, Will we labor, watch, and pray? May our brother's life enthruse us And the mantle he let fall Rest not only on our workers, But on Christians one and all.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF BRO. HAWLEY. "I am going home, he whispered, Oh what visions cheered his eyes As his eager spirit hastened To his home beyond the skies. God had called him, Oh, how often Had he listened to the call, Hastening to the field of action Full of zeal and love for all.

How he prayed and how he labored, Seeking souls for Christ to win, Till his eager words have rescued Many a soul from the depths of sin, We shall hear no more his pleadings, For his prayer is turned to praise; But we look for still more answers, In the swiftly passing days.

In his home, his church, in Marshfield, In our temperance work so wide, How we sorrow for our leader, On this blessed Easter-tide! But the work must go straight onward, There was never greater need.
