Johnny Walker Gets Second At Halifax Meet

Island Horse Does Well In 2.30 Class—Jessica the Great Finishes Third In 2.25 Trot and Pace.

(Special to the Guardian) HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 26—A crowd of two thousand witnessed the opening harness races of the Halifax Exhibition this afternoon. The races were on the three heat plan, and the 2.25 trot and pace had to go an extra heat with Lina Patch, owned by C. E. Elliot, of Aylesford, winning. Johnny Walker, from P. E. I., won the first heat of the Maritime Province Bred 2.30 trot in the excellent time of 2:16 1/4, and looked like a winner of the second, when Dora Mac came up with a rush and won the heat in the last few strides, and took the race in the third. This stake was named after James W. Power, in recognition of his having for forty years compiled the records of racing in the Maritime Provinces. Frank Power was stater, C. E. Smith, Frank Boutiller, and R. Mc-

Cowan, Sydney, judges.

BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE

Interesting Letter From Rev. Charles N. Palmer, One of the Scout Masters

Following are extracts from a letter received by Mr. H. J. Palmer, K. C. from his son the Rev. Charles N. Palmer who has been one of the Scout Masters attending the Boy Scout Jamboree in Arrow Park, Cheshire, England:

The Jamboree is really too tremendous to take in let alone describe. There is so much to do and see, that one gets bewildered. Arrow Park is a beautiful old English estate, now public. You can imagine it has to be pretty big to take some 50,000 scouts camping on it. Our Canadian section is at one end. To show the variety, we have on one side of us the scouts from London, on the other side from Sussex, next to them Norway and then Scotland. A little further down is Austria and then Ceylon. Most of the foreigners can speak English, but not all. It is very amusing to see them all mixing over the grounds. There is the greatest spirit of friendliness throughout. It is especially evident when one notes Austrian, German and Hungarian Scouts (the latter a fine type) mixing with English, Belgians and countless others. Two of the biggest events so far have been what they call the "March Past", where all the contingents in alphabetical order march around the huge arena and past the Grand Stand, where the salute is taken. On the opening day it was taken by the Duke of Connaught, on Friday by the Prince of Wales. That perhaps was the brightest spot of the whole thing. Impressive does not begin to describe it. The Americans led, having A as their letter, 1500 of them. We came right behind the Belgians.

Our uniform, with the colors green and gold is very distinctive and very smart and we got tremendous applause all the way round. On Sunday morning some of us went to an early celebration of the Holy Communion at 7.45 in the church tent. It is a large marquee, and was crowded to the doors. At 11 o'clock we marched over to the arena where there was an immense open air service addressed by the Archbishop of Canterbury. There was a very impressive moment in the service, when the Archbishop in the course of his address laid his hand on the bare head of Sir Robert Baden-Powell referring to him as a soldier, who 21 years ago dreamed a dream. Today he said, "Behold the dreamer cometh and he comes not alone, but with a comradeship of nearly two million boys belonging to 41 countries. His dream has become one of the great realities of the world. I pray that God's blessing in fullest measure, may be upon him, and upon the world wide company wherein his dream has been fulfilled.

"The Whip" at the Capitol Theatre

A neatly-wrought melodramatic plot, an exceptionally capable and well-chosen cast, and all the thrills which made the oldtime play famous combine to make "The Whip," First National's current production one of the most entertaining of the season.

"The Whip" opened its local engagement yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, and for those who like their screen entertainment exciting and their plots melodramatic, this will prove a distinct treat. Based on the old Drury Lane melodrama first produced almost a century ago, "The Whip" is brought up to date in settings and dress and its multitudinous thrills are magnified by modern technical skill and photographic ingenuity. It all revolves around a horse-race, of course, as the title indicates, with a great deal resting on the proper horse's winning the big derby and a great many people interested one way or another in having it either win or lose. There are plots and counter-plots, divers bits of conniving and last-minute suspenses, perfectly handled through the direction of Charles Brabin.

Dorothy Mackall brings her beauty and charm to the leading feminine role and Ralph Forbes proves an excellent foil in the masculine lead. Anna Q. Nilsson is particularly striking as the beautiful and scheming "vamp" and Lowell Sherman contributes another of his delightfully villainous "heavy" characterizations. Outstanding in the cast are Marc McDermott, Art Gran, Arthur Clayton and others.

There is no current champion who so completely dominates his or her field as does Miss Helen Willis. She will be America's mainstay this week-end in defense of the Wightman Cup at Forest Hills, L. I., having returned recently from abroad where she definitely established herself as woman's tennis champion of the world. When the extraordinary Lenglen entered professional tennis ranks a few seasons back, Miss Willis was her logical successor and she has not lost a single set in about three years! Among male champions, Mr. Robert Tyre Jones is the most striking super-star at that game where form is oft so fickle—golf. Once a year, for almost a decade, Bobby meets all comers in the American open championships and, when he does not win, he is always close to the top. There are comparatively few amateurs who stand much of a competitive chance with the great golf professionals. Yet Jones—the great amateur—so consistently excels the links professionals that only Walter Hagen, over a span of years, can seriously question claims of Bobby's admirers that the Atlantan is the greatest golfer of his time, if not of all time thus far. Of course, this is "The Age of Ruth" in baseball. Abilaze as the national game is with dozens of truly great stars, the radiance of the Home Run King, for close to ten years, outshines all else. Indeed, the Babe has symbolized baseball ever since 1921, when his prodigious clouting set the pace for sluggers. Even now, with time stulting the power of his legs, Ruth is still the diamond's most dynamic personality. His influence will be a vital force long after he has retired. Johnny Weismuller is swimming's present super-star. Having exhausted amateur competition, he became a professional and is in a class by himself so far. Yet none of these or other super-stars in certain branches of sport really approach Miss Willis in completeness of command in their respective fields. Some, like Ruth and Jones, perform in sports that are far better known to fandom in general; but women's tennis is no longer a minor matter and super-stardom in that is a detail deserving of wonder. Time is dimming Ruth, and Jones has always had to contend with great competition from many of his golfing pro even to those play-off extremists. But since Mlle. Lenglen became a pro, Miss Willis has consistently out-classed all opposition. In her field she is the nearest thing to being an invincible champion ever known to sport records. Even Helen can't go on for ever at that pace. If she should lose even one set in the Wightman Cup matches what a sensation that would make! Such a news test is a pretty good gauge of how big some super-stars can really be. We Americans hope that "lost set" news test will not be made at Forest Hill this week. We want "Our Helen" to play on as a super-star indefinitely.

Base Ball Series Starts this Evening

This evening the first game of the final series of baseball between the Rovers and All-Stars takes place on the Abegweit grounds, both teams having been practicing faithfully and a very close game is assured. Nine innings must be played, and as the game is called for five o'clock there is no reason why the full quota of innings cannot be played. Competent base judges have been named and all is now ready for the big game. The boys expect a large crowd, since considerable expense has been incurred in keeping the fans interested in the game.

The following is the schedule with dates: Aug. 30, Sept. 3, Sept. 6; Sept 10 winners must have three wins.

Former Island Athlete Visiting In Charlottetown

Fred Lane, dashing and intrepid hockey and football star, formerly of this city and now of Halifax is at present in the city accompanied by his charming young wife and two children. Lane it will be remembered, started his hockey career with the Victorias of this city, and although very young and light at the time, was effective, and blessed with plenty "gray matter" soon developed into a hockeyist of no mean calibre.

Since Fred's removal to the Bluenose country he has made his presence felt in the athletic firmament, via the glazed surface and the gridiron. He threw his lot with the famous Wanderers Club and since then has gained an enviable reputation as an athlete with punch and stamina and the "go-get-'em-will-to-win."
