WORTH WHILE

One of the grossly misleading statements repeatedly made by Mr. Mackenzie King in his recent political addresses is that the Bennett fiscal policies have "stiffed" Canadian trade.

Here, for example, is how the Agreements affected the price of bacon hogs, which up to Jan. 1933 was at a ruinously low level.

Every farmer knows this to be a true statement of fact. Yet day after day the Liberal Federal leader continues to "knock" the agreement with the United Kingdom by which this benefit was realized.

RURAL MAIL CASE

Elsewhere in today's issue appears notice of an important meeting of the Mail Contractors' in Queens County, to be held in the new Board Room of the City Hall tomorrow evening.

PAINTING BARNS

After a lapse of five full years, says The Financial Post, Canadian farmers are beginning to paint their barns again.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Liberal politician's life is not a happy one these days. For positions in P.C. Registrar's Office alone there are said to be 46 applicants.

Mr. King does not now openly condemn the Ottawa Agreements, but merely suggests how much better it would be for everybody if he had reciprocated with the United

Notes By The Way

Canada is getting out of the depression with much greater speed than is the United States, according to a bulletin issued by the Bank of Nova Scotia.

To cultivate friends who do not capitulate under misfortune is to lay up treasures for the future.

Harassed Liberal-elect-members are now broadcasting that there will be no Provincial appointments until after the Federal election.

Friends of Mr. E. P. Foley, M.L.A., Summerside, are urging his claims for the Ministry of Health, in view of the fact that, being a druggist, he is but one step removed from being a medical doctor.

The misnomer of the Mounties is emphasized by the fact that in the extensive rebuilding plans of the R.C.M.P. headquarters at Winnipeg provision is made for a 24-car garage, and not for a single horse.

It appears that Canada's membership of the League of Nations costs us $200,000 per annum.

Mr. King thinks that both Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, were they alive today, would unite and congratulate him on his "wait and see" plan of campaign.

The unanimous opinion, almost, of political students is that the Liberals cannot possibly win the Federal election.

The formal protest sent by the Japanese Government to the Washington Government over a cartoon in an American magazine cynically entitled "Japan's Emperor gets the Nobel Peace Prize," recalls a similar incident when Kaiser William II of Germany dismissed his old adviser Bismarck.

Evidently the U.S.A. citizens are solving for themselves the question of depopulation.

The usual custom of the old and new Governor-Generals passing one another on the high seas is not to be observed on the present occasion.

Since the war the political pendulum has swung rapidly from one extreme to another.

Mussolini's paper says that the Italian people have but one duty and that is to obey and march on—"if necessary against everything and against everybody."

That Body of Deeds

Dr. James W. Barton, M.D.

PERNICIOUS ANAEMIA THOUGH A PERMANENT CONDITION CAN BE SUCCESSFULLY TREATED

When Dr. Banting of Toronto discovered that insulin, a juice obtained from the pancreatic gland, would enable the blood in the diabetic to use sugar to maintain strength and energy instead of having it thrown out of the body in the urine, the "cure" for diabetes was said to have been found.

Insulin is not the cure for diabetes—there is no cure as yet—but as insulin enables most diabetics to go about their work, enjoy life and live as long as other people, it really makes no difference about the finding of a "cure" at present.

Similarly when Drs. Minot and Murphy, Boston, discovered that salt's liver, a natural red corpuscles in the blood enabling patients with pernicious anaemia to continue to live instead of dying in one or two years, it was said that the "cure" for this formerly incurable disease had been found.

However, just as insulin is needed regularly and must be used daily by patients with diabetes, so also must patients with pernicious anaemia take liver in some form always.

Thus Dr. J. W. Wilkinson in the Practitioner, London, points out: "The fundamental principle underlying the successful treatment of pernicious anaemia is that it must be recognized as a permanent condition—not enough red corpuscles and iron in the blood—and so the red corpuscles and iron must be replaced in the blood by liver, liver extract, extract of hog's stomach."

"This means that the blood must be examined about every three months and the amount of liver or extract administered increased according to the condition of the blood. If there are any signs, however slight, of nervous symptoms, the treatment must be continued in full doses."

The prognosis is the likely outcome of the above points are kept in mind and adequate treatment with an "active" preparation of liver, liver extract, extract of hog's stomach, is taken for the rest of the patient's life.

To be cured of pernicious anaemia, pernicious anaemia is certainly worth the slight trouble of having the blood examined every three or six months.

The purpose of the Bennett administration has been to promote Canada's recovery from the depression, which is well under way.

The reason for the Liberal preference of "prejudice" rather than "intelligence" is easily seen.

These reasons will also necessitate camouflage, distortion of fact and the side tracking of essential issues to mislead the people and conceal important phases of economic conditions.

In comparing trade operations there is often a wide difference between volume and value.

Wheat is the biggest factor in determining the dollar and cents extent of our foreign trade.

The "intelligence" of our Maritime people should investigate, not as to the volume or value of Canada's total trade, almost wholly governed by prices of wheat, but rather as to the exports of our own products, hog, butter, cheese, eggs, poultry, potatoes, turnips, garden truck and fruits, and as to the prices realized for them, under operation of the processes of government of the different parties in power.

In this series of articles I submit many items of fact, taken from government statistical records. I comment a careful study of these to those interested in our provincial prosperity, and in their own progress. And not only such as I present, (limited of necessity by space) but to search deeper and wider into facts and history, and to apply the test of "intelligence" rather than "prejudice" in reaching a decision upon the merits of the matters in issue.

PUBLIC FORUM

MR. BENNETT'S R. O. P.

Sir,—I read a very brief letter in The Guardian of Aug. 3rd in answer to "An Appeal to Electors" signed "Haroun Al Raschid".

"Haroun Al Raschid" does not contradict my statements any more than he or she thinks I am more interested in receiving relief than relieving the government of the obligation to pay out this money. I might say for "Haroun Al Raschid" peace of mind, I did not receive relief, but others did and it was the means of staving off starvation for some, which goes to prove that we have a man at the head of the government, who is plenty more anxious to help out his fellow countrymen.

"Haroun Al Raschid" says the results of the provincial and bye-elections are sufficient proof of the confidence the electors have in the Bennett administration.

What do the King Government do during the nine years they were in power in the so called open years? Through Mr. King's extravagance there was left for the Bennett Government to shoulder, in addition to the tremendous task of the Conservative Government, a burden that grew as the country's resources steadily grew less.

The Poet's Corner

AN IRISH SONG

The grand road from the mountain goes shining to the sea, And there is traffic on it and many a horse and cart;

A great storm from the ocean goes shouting o'er the hill, And there is glory in it, and terror on the wind;

The great waves of the Atlantic sweep storming on their way, Shining green and silver with the hidden herring shoal;

The little waves of the Breefny have drenched my heart in spray, And the little waves of Breefny go tumbling through my soul.

—Eva Gore-Booth.

Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, issued recently the statement of the Dominion's direct and indirect debt, as shown by public accounts covering the period from April 1922 to Mar. 31, 1930.

points to the advantages the screen has over the stage in presenting the fantastic and the superhuman, and certainly it is not hard to conceive a setting, for instance, of "The Tempest" in which all the camera's miraculous trickery could be bent to aiding Shakespeare's magic.

Perhaps the greatest doubt attaching to the India bill in the mind of the public today had been created by the extent and vigor of the opposition it received.

Lawrence's Gift (Frederick Gleazer)

The world will long puzzle over the enigma of personality that was represented by the man who won fame as Lawrence of Arabia and sought obscurity as T. E. Shaw.

Whether the man was actually an enigma or merely stood as one to the world is not clear, but one of his mystifying characteristics was his self-denial.

Interesting as its application. The publication of "Revolt in the Desert," the popular version of Lawrence's own story of his career in Arabia, brought the author $75,000 in royalties, a rich reward for one not primarily an author. He allowed himself no share in these profits, but set them aside and ultimately established the aforementioned fund. It was at his insistence that the donor whole incident suggests the most thorough-going self-denial, but it will help some persons to explain to themselves the character who has seemed a mystic out of his time or an eccentric living an anti-climax.

Autonomy To India. (Toronto Globe)

The British Government has at last surrounded the obstacles of its opponents and taken the great step by which it proposes to solve much of the complex problem that is India.
