FUNERAL SERVICE.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Jessie MacLean which left her residence on Water St., Georgetown, Monday, March 5th was one of the largest seen for some time. The pall bearers were T. E. Morrissey, Capt. McPhee, J. H. McDonald, Duncan McDonald, John A. MacKinnon and Louis Douglas. The services were conducted by Rev. H. Pierce.—A.

WEDDING BELLS.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson, Georgetown was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter Jessie Alice was united in matrimony to Harry Simmonds of Charlottetown, Rev. H. Pierce performed the ceremony. The bride looked charmingly in fawn crepe-de-chene and carried a bouquet of orchids and roses and maiden hair fern. After the ceremony a large crowd assembled at the bride's home where a delicious lunch was served by the bride's mother. Previous to her marriage the bride had been showered on several occasions where she had been the recipient of a beautiful collection of silver, china, cut glass and linens. With their numerous friends we join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Simmonds many years of happy married life.—A.

In Memoriam

WILLIAM H. BOYLE.

The community of Cornwall has sustained an almost irreparable loss in the passing of the late William Boyle. The news of his sudden illness came as a shock to all that knew him, for he had been an example of an exceptionally robust physique, and although he had reached his 74th year, no one thought of him as an old man, but one for whom there would yet seem to be a span of life. Anxiously many waited, hoping that he might be strong enough to combat the disease, but on Saturday morning, Feb. 21st, at an early hour the call was heard and a Christian answered.

The late Wm. Boyle was born at Cornwall in 1851, and there he spent his life. He proved himself to be a farmer of exceptional thrift and ability. His motto being: "Work dell done." His highest ideal, however, was not to rejoice in the gathering of great harvests in the storing up of worldly goods, for he was best known in his own time for his own character. He was a member of the former Methodist Church, and since the amalgamation he has been raised to the highest position to which a layman can be called in the United Church of Canada, that of elder. Every cause and every claim that he believed was near to his Master's heart was near to his own. And after more than the allotted span of service he has been summoned to a greater task.

His place so regularly filled in the pew is empty, his wise counsel and his generous support we can here and realize no more, but the influence of his life is still with us, though death has claimed all that is mortal.

He leaves to mourn one daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) F. W. Sawdon Bear River, N. S. (his only surviving predeceased him many years ago), two sisters, Miss Fannie, at home, and Mrs. Hammond Crosby of Cornwall, besides a large number of relatives and friends.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday, Feb. 24, from his late residence. After a brief service at the home, conducted by his pastor Rev. E. M. O'Brien, B. A., the service was continued at Cornwall United Church where a large number of friends gathered to pay their last tribute of respect. In testament was at Cornwall cemetery "Servant of God, well done."

KINKORA SCHOOL CHILDREN ENTERTAIN

On the afternoon of February 24th, the kind pastor of St. Malachi's Church, Kinkora, was given a genuine surprise, when the school children assembled in the Parish Hall and gave a very pleasing entertainment in his honour, on the feast of his Patron Saint.

The programme consisted of selections on the piano by the different music pupils, recitations, songs and choruses by the school children.

Each and everyone performed their parts well, which reflected great credit upon their teachers for the splendid training they are receiving at their hands.

One of the Senior pupils read an excellent address to the Reverend Father, and he was presented with a beautiful bouquet by one of the younger children. Father Smith, although completely taken by surprise, made a very appropriate reply, commending the school pupils upon the splendid manner in which they acquitted themselves, and thanking them and their teachers for their thoughtfulness towards him on this occasion.

At the close of the programme, a still greater surprise was in store for the Reverend Pastor, when, on behalf of the Catholic Women's League, the President, Mrs. John A. Shreenan, read the following address, while the Recording Secretary, Mrs. W. J. MacIver, presented him with a substantial gift.

To Rev. M. J. Smith, Honorary Chaplain of the C. W. L., Kinkora.

Reverend Father:— Having learned that the good sisters of Kinkora school pupils were having the school children put on a programme to-day in your honour, on the occasion of the anniversary of your birthday, we, the members of the C. W. L., Kinkora, deemed it an opportune time to offer a little appreciation of your work in behalf of our League. As Honorary Chaplain of our League, you have always taken the foremost part in all its activities, and have been ever ready to give us your assistance at all times. In fact, we would be powerless without your aid.

I will not presume in this short address to recount all the good works you have done since coming to our midst. I will leave that to some of the master minds of the parish. There are some things, however, which I cannot overlook, you give to the aged and infirm of your flock, and the almost inexhaustible patience you exhibit in administering the Holy Sacrament at all hours to all those who may approach the Holy Table.

To enumerate your many good qualities of mind and heart would require a volume, but— "Much talk doth not much friendship tell." Few words are best: "I wish thee well."

In asking you, dear Father, to accept the accompanying cheque, we hope that the year 1928 may be for you a happy one, and trust that you may be spared many long years to minister to the Spiritual and temporal needs of your parishioners in Kinkora.

Signed on behalf of the Catholics Women's League. Mrs. John A. Shreenan, Pres. Mrs. W. J. MacIver, Recording Secretary.

TORONTO SCHOOL

The semi-annual examination of Toronto School, Martin, Lot 23, was held on January 31st, in presence of a large number of parents and other visitors, which showed what great interest was taken in the school work.

The program opened with a Welcome Song by the class. The pupils were then examined in English, History, Geography, Arithmetic and Geometry by their teachers, Miss Marie Doucette, assisted by Miss Helen Gallant, Mrs. Leon Peters and Miss Odille Gauthier.

Between the lessons the following numbers were rendered: Song—by Marie LeClair. Recitation—An Incident of the War—by the class. Dialogue, "As Deaf as a Post"—by Marie LeClair, Laurette Dolron, and Florentine Gallant. Dialogue—by Marie Bradford Gallant.

Recitation "Sophranie a Monteval"—by Florentine Gallant. The pupils were addressed by Mr. Andrew Gallant, Mr. Mathias LeClair, Mr. Leon Peters, Helen Gallant and Mrs. Andrew Gallant, by whom they and the teacher were congratulated on the good work they were doing.

Remarks were also made on the great improvement made since the last examination. A pleasant afternoon was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the King." (Summerside Papers please copy)

OBITUARY Michael Reedy, an aged and deservedly respected resident of Irish town, died at his home there on Friday, February 24, after sustaining the affliction of a brief but fatal illness.

The funeral was held from his home to St. Mary's, Indian River on Sunday, Feb. 26, and was composed of many of the multitude of relatives and admiring friends that the deceased had in his own and neighboring settlements. The pallbearers were Amos Davison, W. M. Edward Proffit, Jeremiah Hynes, James L. Saunders, Alexander Campbell and Thomas Pendergast.

The service in the church and at the grave was performed by the Pastor, Rev. Mgr. Gillis. Wreaths and intentions in number were laid upon the casket by his many thoughtful friends, and many a prayer was offered up to the Supreme Judge, beseeching the Throne of Grace for benign mercy.

Michael Reedy, the deceased, was the son of the late James Reedy and the late Catherine Pendergast, his wife, and was born at Irish town October 25, 1839, the eldest son of a family of twelve. Being the eldest he had to sustain the responsibility for the performance of many duties that devolve upon the eldest member of a family. But with the virility of the fraternal and paternal spirit, he confidently accepted the care thus imposed, heroically discharging the duties with that commendable zeal which marks the true, manly character.

On June 27, 1887, he was married to Josephine McKinnon, daughter of the late Joseph McKinnon, Brackley Point, and initiated family life in the homestead.

The issue of the marriage was one daughter, Lillian, and five sons—Frank, Bernard (deceased), William, Commercial Traveller, Frederick and Henry (deceased). The thoughtful intentions and beautiful wreaths placed upon the casket were a testimony of the profound respect shown him and his wife and family by his hosts of friends.

Originally he followed the vocation of farming, but for thirty-eight years he dealt extensively in eggs, making regular trips over a well-defined route every two weeks. He also frequently employed the winter months soliciting business for the Summerside Pioneer.

He gave his family a young education, one son, Henry, (now deceased) qualifying for the profession of teacher and spending some years in that profession. Although his avocation for considerable time demanded his presence from home, yet he succeeded in maintaining the home in a practically flourishing condition.

Long will his memory endure in the minds of his many admiring friends. Requiescat in pace.

Raised on common sense

"Just the thing", said Doctor

THIS baby is being brought up on a plain, sensible kind of rule.

"Go ahead and use Nujol", said the doctor. "It's just the thing for the baby. Harmless. Safe. Contains no drugs or medicine. It's the most natural way in the world to keep everything normal. For Nujol not only prevents any excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but also aids in their removal."

Why don't you try Nujol in your household? Nujol can't do anyone—baby or grown-up—the least bit of harm. And so many people have found it beneficial. Be sure you get the genuine.
