Roasting

Place the prepared ducks on a rack in an open roasting pan and lay strips of fat bacon over the tops.

Those in favor of wild flavor usually liked the finished product to have flesh, that is dark red in color—in fact, it is said that the ducks should quack for the last time just before they are taken from the oven. They achieve this result by first adding a little water to the pan and then cooking the ducks in a hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 30 minutes. However a well done duck is first seared in a hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 15 to 20 minutes and then the heat should be lowered to moderate (350 deg. F.) and 15 minutes a pound is allowed at the lowered temperature.

A Bingo Enthusiast Gets Seperation

MONTREAL, Oct. 24—The game of bingo and the gambling tendencies of a married woman, mother of nine, who received from five of her working children $75. a week "board" money and spent in "frivolities" $40. a month paid to her by the government as a family allowance for her younger children, were scathingly denounced by Mr. Justice Forest in a provisional judgment delivered in the Superior Court yesterday.

"Petitioner in this case," the Judge said, "has a passion for games of chance. She spends every Saturday evening in parochial halls and not only risks on bingo sums of money disproportionate to her means, but also engages her young daughters in this degrading game."

Order Refused

The case before the court was one in which, in applying for leave to sue for separation and alimony, petitioner asked to be allowed to continue to occupy the conjugal residence pending final judgment in the case. This would mean the court ordering the husband's ejection from the home.

Mr. Justice Forest refused to make such an order for reasons he stated as follows: The husband is a good worker, pays his bills promptly and has contributed $20 a week toward family expenses besides paying the rent, and costs of fuel and light; the wife, besides her husband's contribution, has received regularly an aggregate sum of $75 a week earned by her elder children, and, beyond this, $40. a month family allowance for her younger children. The last-named sum she has spent wholly on frivolities.

In the circumstances, and pending final judgment on the action, she is permitted by the court to take for a judicial separation, she will leave the common domicile and live at the home of her brother and sister in law; she will also be required to endorse the $40 cheque she receives monthly for family allowance and send it to her husband who, on his side, will make his wife a provisional allowance of $35. a month for her maintenance. The children will remain under his care.
