"Telephone" is the Word

The people of the Maritime Provinces use about 30,000 telephones at present. To be on a par with the United States they should use 72,000. Of this increase 10,000 will be used by the 40,000 farmers of Nova Scotia. With farmers it has hitherto been a luxury. Hereafter it will become more and more of a necessity. Every farmer who aspires to be a business man will have a phone. He has to keep in touch with the markets, with the people about him, and with the occurences of every day life. Every subscriber added to a system increases its importance to other subscribers.

It is needless to add that the larger the number of patrons the greater the revenue and consequent profits. As the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co. controls all the Telephone Companies of Nova Scotia worth while, one can thus see what splendid prospects the Company has in this respect and also understand the excellent position of the preferred stock as an investment.

The par value of these shares is $10, and we are offering a block in lots to suit purchasers. Price upon application.

HAVE FISH DISHES MORE OFTEN

There seems to be a prejudice against fish—that is, served frequently and this, too, without apparent reason, says the Seattle Sun. It is usually relished once a week; why not oftener? Some house.keepers claim they buy fish on Friday only because they feel sure of getting it fresh then but if they would create a daily demand for it the fish would be sold to them fresh every day. Not that a daily diet of fish is to be recommended, but if the home mother can induce her family to eat sea food three times or even twice a week she would find a decrease in her butcher's and egg man's bills.

Ol course, if one kind of fish is frequently served in the same way the family is sure to tire of it, but with uch a variety to choose from and so any different ways of cooking, there hould be no such monotony. The moked kinds of fish could take the lace of eggs for breakfast. Finnan haddie is delicious either broiled or teamed in milk, and a fish weighing bout two pounds can be bought in he market for a quarter.

Every woman knows the possibilities of dried codfish as a breakfast ish, but a dinner dish of this fish is ot as well known as it should be.

You take a thick piece weighing rom one to two pounds and soak ne day and one night in cold water; hen put on in cold water and simmr for two or three hours. It must ot boil. Next you fry two goodized onions in butter until a light rown. Add a can of strained tomaoes and cook for ten minutes. Take ith the tomatoes. Place at the back he fish from the water and put in the stove for half an hour, then erve.

Fish dishes suitable for luncheon e curried, scalloped and creamed. old, left-over fish, also oysters, are cooked in various ways, and there re also clam bouillon and salmon oaf.

A fish curry is delicious. You fry ne tablespoonful of butter and add ne small teaspoonful of curry power. You pour over this a stock made rom fish-bones, about one cup and a half of milk or cream. Then you rub ogether a tablespoonful each of flour nd butter and stir into the hot mixure. When smooth you add to it about one pound of any cold, flaked fish. Gently simmer for a few minutes; then serve.

Creamed fish is well known, but if little lemon juice is added at the last moment it will be found to give est. Scalloped fish, too, is a fairly familiar dish, but it can be made more tasty if the white sauce is seasoned with a dash of mustard and aprika, as well as salt. For desserts one could make a creamy rice pudding without eggs.

Young cooks must bear in mind the success of a fish dish depends quite a good deal upon the way it is served. The sauce must be smooth, tasty and reamy and the garnishing of parsley nd lemon arranged to tempt the palate.

Some Pertinent Questions

Have you $100 that is not in use? Or can you save $10 a month?

If you can answer "yes" to either of these questions, can you give a good reason why that money should not be put away where it will earn 6 p.c. or better, instead of 3 p. c.—and still be safe?

At present prices we advise you to place your money in the 6 p. c. Perpetual Debenture Stock of the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Company, which yields 6 1-8 p. c., or in the 6 p. c. Bonds of its subsidiary, Eastern Car Company, which yield 5.94 p. c. or in Stanfield's Limited 6 p. c. Bonds, which yield 6 p. c.

In our opinion, all three of these excellent securities sell for less than their degree of safety warrant. And they are in the convenient $100 size.

SURFACE FIRES WILL DESTROY FORESTS.

The effect of light surface fires on pine timber is to kill or damage more than half of the mature trees, according to findings just announced by the U. S. Forest Service.

The studies were made on the Wallowa and Whiteman national forests in the Blue Mountains of eastern Oregon. Several typical stands of western yellow pine, where surface fires had recently burned were selected. The region had been periodically run over by such fires for a long time. The most recently burned areas were carefully surveyed and all the trees individually studied to find the effect of the fires.

As a result of this survey the following facts were verified: a surface fire fells from one to three merchantable trees per acre, by eating out basal fire scars; it makes fire scars at the base of 42 per cent. or nearly one-half, of all the merchantable yellow pines; it actually burns to death more than 3 per cent of the trees—that is, they are killed by the heat of the surface fire at their bases. In short, of the mature trees, more than one half of the total stand suffer more or less damage.

The stands were selected to insure results representative of the religion, according to the Forest Service investigators, who draw the conclusion at deliberate light, burning in such localities to remove brush and undergrowth is distinctly uneconomical, particularly since successive surface burnings only heighten the injury af the trees and make it cumulative.

FASHIONS AND FADS

The girdle ends of evening gowns are finished with long bead tassels.

The sleeveless and gloveless arm is one of fashion's latest innovations.

For formal occasion the large hat of velvet or moire reigns supreme.

In midwinter one finds afternoon dresses composed of chiffon and tulle.

Almost any color or any two or three colors may be made into one dress.

A very taking neck finish is appleated maline frill, with large yellow heads.

Street or house gowns made of taffeta will be very fashionable for spring.

Jet is extremely fashionable, and it trims some of the toques for early spring.

Smart walking costumes are of velvet peau de peche, velours de laine and duvetyne.

A few evening gowns are cut so low in the back that the point reaches the waist line.

The newest turban toques recall the headdresses worn in the reign of Marie Antoinette.

Spring suits are trimmed with braid, narrow pleating, velvet appliqué and shirrings.

Tartan braids and tartan silks are novel and pretty trimmings to some of the velvet suits.

Some people are even prophesying rigid waist lines instead of the extremely supple ones, which have been such a comfort to so many women.

MRS. MANGES ESCAPES OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mogadore, Ohio.—"The first two years I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. LEE MANGES, R. F. D. 10, Mogadore, Ohio.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES

If you desire to purchase a box of oranges and fear that they will not keep, follow these instructions. Remove each orange and wipe it with a dry cloth, then wrap with a piece of waxed paper. Place the oranges loosely in a box or barrel, and they will be preserved for several months.

Every housekeeper should go to market to buy. She will find that her purchase will be much more satisfactory than if ordered over the telephone. In the markets there is always the choice between the fresh and the near-fresh produce, and there is always waste if the near-fresh comes into your pantry.

PILES Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and as certainly cure you. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 2c. stamp to pay postage.

The Future of Foxes

An Independent Review

By W. C. Anderson

(Reprinted from the Charlottetown Guardian)

This article has been reprinted in pamphlet form by special request, and supplied to the Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, to be laid before the English Trade Commission about to visit Canada.

It is a full and frank discussion of the Future of Foxes as a permanent paying industry, and shows that the Average Annual Profits of Fox Companies should, for the next ten years, be 23 per cent.

This pamphlet is indespensable to all Bona fide Fox Companies.

It is their guarantee of Good Faith.
