Big 4-Goal Second Period Paves Way For 7-3 Victory

Staging a four-goal second period offensive after scoring the only goal of the opening session and then splitting four counters in the windup twenty minutes of play, Jackie Kane's St. Dunstan's University squad last night skated into first place in the City Hockey League as they defeated Gordie Drillon's Legionaires 7-3 in a crucial league encounter.

Outplayed in the first period by the fast starting Legion outfit but nevertheless holding a one goal lead at the end due to Cart MacDonald's spectacular solo effort in the first five minutes, Saints took the offensive away from the Legion in the second period to hem the losers inside their own blueline, hammer four goals into the cage while allowing the Legion one and practically sew up the verdict.

The two squads, slowing down somewhat throughout the third period played on practically even terms throughout. Both goalies performed sensationally at times as they kicked out rubber from all angles but at that each bowed twice as the Saints matched the Legion team counter for counter.

MacDonald, Blanchard and McIsaac each shot a brace of tallies for the winners with McDougall getting the other one, while Carver, Strain and Perry shot the Legion counters, all of them coming on unassisted efforts.

Legion Open Fast

Legion opening fast tested McKinnon in the first few seconds of play without success as McDonald of the Saints received two bruising body checks as he attempted to ride in alone. Legion's kid line of Carver, Dowling and Shepherd were continually boring in in the first five minutes but they couldn't cage the disc and then suddenly Cart MacDonald broke down centre, stickhandled beautifully through the Legion defence to snap a drive into the cords for the opening and only score of the period.

Set back momentarily Legion sprang to the attack again but McKinnon, guarding the twines, was equal to every occasion. A penalty to McIntyre left the Legion shorthanded but they couldn't break through while twice in the session Methot took trips to "sinner's bin" but the erratic shooting Legion team couldn't find the range and when they did McKinnon was unbeatable as he kicked out drives with arms, legs and stick. In the final minute Legion missed three chances in a row at one time the puck wobbling crazily on the goal line only to fall outside.

Saints took a new lease on life as they skated out for the middle session. Getting their passing attacks clicking after a bit of line juggling between the two coaches the winners raced through for the first score of the period in a minute and 10 seconds, McIsaac taking Joe Mahar's goalmouth pass to give Cudmore little chance. For the next nine minutes with the Saints repelling a couple of dangerous thrusts by their opponents and incessantly attacking themselves the score remained unchanged but at 10:19 Saints clicked for goal number three MacDonald breaking away from a Legion attack and after rounding defence passing across the goalmouth to Blanchard who made no mistake on the chance.

The Legionaires got that one back 39 seconds later as Allie Carver, forced to the side of the net, recovered possession to round the cage and slide the disc in under the falling body of the S. D. U. netminder. It was the signal for the game to speed up and for the next few minutes play raged from one end of the ice to the other and again it was MacDonald who advanced the Saints' lead as he gathered in a loose puck fifteen feet out from the cage to blast a low drive into the right hand corner.

Keeping up their steady search for goals Saints scored the final goal of the period with 34 seconds of the period remaining Perky McDougall taking MacDonald's pass to beat Cudmore cleanly for a goal that gave the winners a 5-1 lead.

Split Four Goals

The goal-hungry Saints forced Cudmore to the heights in the first few seconds of the third period as they skated right in on top of him and a tripping penalty to Shepherd saw them exert even more pressure but to no avail. McIsaac of the Saints drew a penalty to give the Legion a chance and while he was resting in "durance vile" Legion came through with their second goal as Strain faking a shot as he skated to the defence, carried right in to slide the disc into the cage and draw the Legion team to within three goals of their opponents.

With Saints missing an open net twice in a row and McKinnon, Saints' goalie, pulling off a couple more sensational stops the two clubs battled scorelessly until nearing the sixteen minute mark and it was the winners that broke through, McIsaac picking Blanchard's rebound to score his second goal of the game. Less than two minutes later Legion were back for goal number three as Perry skated from his team's blueline to round the Saints' defence and blaze an ankle high drive behind McKinnon. But again the Saints came back with one of their own, Blanchard, with goal number two to his credit winding up the scoring as he took MacDonald's pass just outside the crease to score easily.

As a parting gesture Perry of Legion, with a beautiful piece of stickhandling broke through in the final seconds only to shoot wide of the target with a drive from McKinnon's doorstep.

Lineups:

Set back on their heels by their defeat at the hands of the Saints on Saturday night last, Navy basketball team will attempt to regain their winning stride tonight when they tangle with the Prince of Wales squad in a City basketball encounter at the Prince of Wales Auditorium, but despite the big difference in the standing of the two clubs, the students are not to be regarded lightly.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Walter Goss' charges have been improving steadily ever since the season opened and in their last tilt against the Army, after they really got going showed plenty of speed and scoring ability, so much so in fact that they took the play entirely away from the Army boys, overcame a big deficit and then were too good in the overtime session.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Should they display the same speed afoot and scoring punch in tonight's setto, Navy will be in for the toughest kind of game. A defeat won't do Navy morale any good either for they would lose a chance of taking over undisputed leadership of the league and leave the way open for the University team to take command in their appearance against the Army next Saturday night.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

By the above we don't mean to install Prince of Wales as favorites to take tonight's game. Our opinion is they haven't reached that point of effectiveness as yet but at the same time, Navy won't be able to take too many breathing spells if they desire to again take over the lead in a league that is shaping up as a battle right down to the wire.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Souris' juvenile hockeyists threw a surprise into the ranks of P.J.'s Rovers on Monday night when they came from behind on a couple of occasions to finally edge out the local youngsters in a game played at the eastern centre. Fans who witnessed the game were quick to put their stamp of approval on the performance dished out by the Souris squad and it is likely more will be heard from them before this season's hockey battles are over.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

For the past couple of years since Bill Reid took the post as Director of Physical Fitness, more and more attention has been paid to minor branches of sport in the outlying centres and gradually the efforts are beginning to bear fruit. In the past, battles for Island titles were usually between Summerside, Charlottetown and Kensington, but with the added impetus being given to other centres, it will not be too long before these other centres will have to be watched and watched closely.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Gordon Drillon's recent visit to Halifax on a scouting trip for Toronto Maple Leafs evidently has proved successful judging by a news report at hand. The big fellow was impressed with three or four of St. Mary's juniors and with the experience Drillon gained when starring in the National League, his selections should turn out to be valuable hockey material for future Toronto teams.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

And evidently Drillon is all through as a player with the local Legion team. That is not surprising. No doubt about it, he was forced to put up with a lot of "heckling" from the fans in his two appearances, most of which was not deserved, to our way of thinking.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Drillon was doing a mighty fine job with his players. On the ice, he was working with different attacking units endeavoring to correct their mistakes and proving successful. He wasn't seeking any personal glory when out there on the frozen surface and he was not to blame when his temper leaped its bounds a couple of times which drew down even more abuse on his head.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

However, although quitting an active player role, Drillon will still handle the squad from the bench, and with the players listening to his sound coaching advice and profiting from it, the Legion will just have to be reckoned with and strongly when it comes to selecting the future City League champions.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Soon, obviously, there will be nothing left to link the present-day New York Yankees with the mighty Bronx Bombers of the Ruthian era.

* * *

Termination of the contract of Ed Barrow, as chairman of the board of directors, means that the 79-year-old veteran who was mainly responsible for the Yanks' surge to the limelight is through with the Gotham organization.

* * *

It was Barrow who was mainly responsible for transforming "Babe" Ruth from one of the greatest left-handed pitchers in the majors to the leading home run hitter of all time.

* * *

With the Boston Red Sox, Barrow recognized Ruth's ability with the stick and had the courage to insist upon switching the big fellow from the mound to the outfield, regardless of the fact Ruth, as a hurler, was supreme, and had set mound records that will adorn the books.

* * *

When Barrow was lured to New York, he brought Ruth along a little later, and it was Ruth then who lifted the Yanks into the top rung of baseball, blasting his way at the head of an unforgettable "murderers' row" to give baseball new life, make successful the greatest monument to the game — Yankee Stadium — and start the dollars rolling into all American League parks as they had never rolled before.

* * *

Now Barrow is retired and Ruth is ill in hospital, trying to recover from an operation. It is unlikely that either will ever again be connected, in an active way, with baseball.

* * *

And so the picture changes, but unlike other greats who pass into oblivion, the names of Barrow and Ruth will remain. Each contributed tremendously, in his own way, to a great pastime.

Toronto Leafs And Canucks Both Gloomy

TORONTO, Jan. 14 — (CP)— Gloom shrouded Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens and the hotel headquarters of Montreal Canadiens so thickly today you could hardly see.

At the Gardens Coach Clarence (Happy) Day unhappily surveyed the list of injured of his National Hockey League-leading Maple Leafs on the eve of their two-game home-and-home series with the second-place Canadiens —here tomorrow night and in Montreal Thursday night.

And at the hotel, Coach Dick Irvin of the Canadiens, never a man to look at a silver lining when there's even the faintest wisp of a cloud around, talked dolefully of the jinx now chasing the team which in the last three years won three league titles and two Stanley Cups.

The Leafs are at least secure in the knowledge that even if they lose they'll still lead the league for the time being. They hold a seven-point lead over their arch-rivals in the standings but the Canadiens have played two less games, which gives them a long-range advantage.

Day's unhappiness centres on the absence of such formidable performers as left wingers Harry Watson and Vic Lynn and defencemen Bob Goldham and Garth Boesch. Boesch, the latest to go on the injured list, will be the first to come back. He suffered a groin injury last Saturday night but will probably be in action this coming Saturday—too late, however, to help against the Canadiens.

Toronto will go into the two-game series with three defencemen —veteran Wally Stanowski and rookie Gus Mortson and Jim Thomson.

Irvine's biggest injury worry is over. He has Elmer Lach, the star centre of his punch line, back in action between Toe Blake and Maurice Richard.

But the Flying Frenchmen are in a slump. They've lost three games in a row—Detroit beat them once and the Black Hawks twice.

"Toey" Richards To Play With S'side Kinsmen Friday

"Toey" Richards, flashy forward of last year's Maritime champions, the Summerside Kinsmen Juveniles, will be in uniform for the first time this year when they meet the Juvenile Rovers of Charlottetown in Summerside on Friday night. "Toey" has been living for the past few months in Saint John, N. B. and has decided to come back to the Island for a while.

The Summerside team is just rounding into condition and with this addition to their forward lines should be a much stronger team than on last Friday night when they went down to defeat before the Charlottetown Kinsmen Juveniles by a score of 4 to 2.

The hockey program on Friday night will be of the doubleheader variety and the newly organized Summerside Kinsmen Midgets, coached by Harry Dickie, will make their first appearance against the Charlottetown Knotty-Niners. Reports received are to the effect that they have a lot of good hockey material and it will be interesting to see them in action for the first time.—S.

Robinson To Be Given Every Chance

BROOKLYN, Jan. 14 — (AP) — Jackie Robinson, star negro infielder and first of his race to appear in modern organized baseball, will be given every chance to land a regular berth with Brooklyn Dodgers, president Branch Rickey promised today.

Rickey said the mere fact that Robinson was listed on the Montreal roster did not mean that his chances to land a position with the varsity would be hampered in any way.

Said Rickey: "Those who are not familiar with the workings of the club point out that Robinson is a more likely looking prospect than others who have been brought up to the Dodgers for 1947. That may be true. But they did not know that Robbie, having been a member of the Brooklyn organization only one year, was not eligible for the major league draft. All other players now on our roster were. Therefore by bringing him up we might have lost a $100,000 prospect via the draft."

Local Teams Split Games With Souris

G. & G. Dairy Kings, a new entry in Island minor hockey league circles chalked up their first victory of the season at Souris on Monday night when they took Souris Midgets into camp by an 8-1 score. But although their margin at the end was a decisive one Dairy Kings met with some stout opposition from their opponents who in the latter stages of the game were playing on even terms with their opponents. Dairy Kings built up an 8-0 lead in the first two periods but the losers came back strongly in the third to score the only goal of the session.

P. J.'s Juvenile Rovers and Souris Juveniles waged a nip and tuck battle in the second game of the double bill with the Souris youngsters edging out the Charlottetown squad 6-5 to give Souris an even break in the doubleheader bill.

Away to a two goal lead in the first period Souris saw Rovers overtake them in the second to lead 4-3. Early in the third Souris knotted the count at 4-all only to have the losers go ahead again in the next minute but the home team had the final say shooting the equalizer at 9:50 of the period and then ramming home the winner with just a minute of play left.

Tonight at 7:00 Commercial League: Michael Bros. vs. Downe's Furniture.

Going into the third period deadlocked at 5-all, the Borden Nationals went on the rampage in the final session scoring three goals to defeat the Summerside Legion 8 to 5 at the Crystal Rink last night.

"Toey" Richard, hero of the Summerside-Sydney juvenile series last winter, added to his fame by scoring two of the three goals in the final frame. Clint Howatt, veteran of many hockey battles, potted the last one after a series of short bewildering passes with his old side-kick Oscar Campbell. Campbell got two goals himself in the sandwich session.

The kid line of S. Bernard, "Mooney" Gallant and G. McNeill shone for the losers, getting three of the five goals. Bernard's effective backchecking also stood out. Young Pickering, still of juvenile age, played a particularly fine game on defence.

The game was very fast and clean although fisticuffs did liven up proceedings a little in the third period.

Conick May Lineup With Bearcats

HALIFAX, Jan. 14 — (CP) — Ab Conick of Hamilton's hockey Tigers is seeking a release from the Ontario Senior Hockey League club to play with Truro Bearcats of the Maritime Big Four, Willard Cox, Truro manager, said here tonight. Babe Ruth took a $17,000 salary cut to play with New York Yankees 13 years ago today. He received $35,000 for a one-year contract and retired a year later. Including his 1934 salary his aggregate income from the Yankees over a 15-year stretch was $842,000.
