HEPBURN TIRED OF OFFICE?

Would Dissolve Legislature If Bennett Should Disallow Hydro Bill On Return to Power.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WALLACEBURG, Ont., Oct. 10—Premier Hespburn asserted in a speech here today that if Prime Minister Bennett is returned to power and "disallows" the Ontario Government legislation enabling it to cancel power contracts with Quebec companies, he will dissolve the Ontario Legislature and appeal to the electorates on that issue.

"Mr. Bennett said he would disallow our Hydro Bill if his party is returned to power," said the Ontario Premier. Mr. Bennett had said Ontario's action in regard to the power contracts destroyed the credit of Ontario and that of the Dominion.

"I want to make this offer to Mr. Bennett. If he can buy any Ontario bonds or securities at less than par, we will buy them."

Speaking in the interests of Hugh McKenzie, Liberal candidate for Lambton-Kent, Mr. Hespburn dealt at some length with hydro matters, particularly with reference to the Ontario Government's step at the last legislative session in cancelling contracts.

When the Liberal Government went into power a year ago last June "we fought our great public utility in a bad way," he said. "We either had to cancel these contracts or increase power rates to the consumer. We had to choose between the public and private interests."

"Am I to take it from Mr. Bennett that he will disallow our bill? Then we have no alternative but to increase rates to hydro consumers."

"If Mr. Bennett disallows our Hydro Bill, I will dissolve the Ontario Legislature and appeal to the people on that issue."

Increase Over Last Year In U.S. Wheat Crop

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—The United States department of agriculture announced today its preliminary estimate of the wheat crop as 698,955,000 bushels and indicated crop production as 2,213,319,000 bushels.

Wheat production was indicated as 598,000,000 bushels a month ago. Last year's production was 497,000,000 and the 1928-32 average production, 661,000,000. Corn production was indicated at 2,184,000,000 bushels a month ago. Production last year was 1,377,000,000 and the 1928-32 average 2,562,000,000.

PREMIER LEA LENDS SUPPORT AT CRAPAUD

The Liberal candidates were given a full house at Crapaud last night when they presented their political views. Premier W. M. Lea, Mr. A. E. MacLean, Mr. P. M. Horace Wright, Dr. Jack MacNeill, and Mr. W. F. Allan Stewart spoke in support of the candidates. Mr. Fred MacDonald acted as chairman.

Mr. James J. Larrabee said when the electors endorse the Liberal program with their votes it will be the first step back to prosperity. He protested against Mr. Bennett's idea of blasting into markets.

Mr. Myers in Montreal to the effect that there were no hard times in Prince Edward Island as men out of employment in the city could go to the farmers and get overalls, a pair of sturdy boots and their chewing tobacco. What, asked Mr. Larrabee, are the wives and children of these men going to do while they are away waiting sturdy boots and chewing Mr. Myers' tobacco. He quoted figures to prove that butter factories are not as prosperous as they were in 1930. In contrast to this, farm machinery is costing the farmer more in these hard times because of the tariff. Pointing out the increased taxes under Premier MacLean's government, the speaker said, the money had been spent in opening up over 100 offices paying men more than $5,000 a year. He said Mr. Bennett should be able to answer the question why so many farms are vacant and why our young people had to seek employment elsewhere.

Mr. Peter Sinclair said that only a small part of the $312,000,000 spent in unemployment relief really went to alleviate the suffering of the people. The largest proportion of it was given to incorporated companies and to provinces in financial difficulties. Canada has been behind every other nation in the world in the deficit which would be larger than ever. Pegging the price of wheat was a mistake declared Mr. Sinclair. This was the cause of us losing the British market. Millers in England found they could use the cheaper Argentine wheat and well refused to pay the Canadian price. Livestock prices have dropped tremendously, said Mr. Sinclair. A farmer of his acquaintance had sold 16 lambs in 1930 for $187, in 1931 he sold 16 lambs for $84 and in 1932, two years after Mr. Bennett's policies had come into effect, he only got $37 for 16 lambs.

Total production of the two governments on the nation's debt, the speaker stated that Mr. King had reduced the debt by $110,000 for every day he was in office, and Mr. Bennett increased it by $438,000 for every day of his term. Someone had told him that Mr. MacLeure had spoken in Crapaud for two hours and the Premier had said, if he did, said Mr. Larrabee, it was more than he spoke during the five years he was at Ottawa.

Premier W. M. Lea said his speech would be in part on Federal issues and partly on provincial issues. He said the only time a paper politician was called about his paper-ignoring him. Judging from the issues of the Guardian he had no reason to worry. Sentiment had not changed since the Provincial election, said the Premier, and he prophesied that Dr. Grant would have a majority of 1000 in King's County. The people of Canada were very prosperous at the time the new Zealand treaty was negotiated. They were eating more products into which milk entered and consequently there was a shortage of butter. New Zealand supplied this shortage and took four times as much goods from Canada in return. During some periods they were buying twelve times as much from Canada as they supplied to this country. Today Great Britain is the most prosperous country in the world because she trades with the world. Tariffs were not necessary to prosperity, said the Premier, telling a story to illustrate. A meeting of the church members was called about building a fence around the graveyard. Pat fell asleep while the vote was being taken and when a the resulted he was awakened for his opinion. Pat said he saw no reason for the fence as no one outside wanted to get in, and no one inside could get out even if they wanted to. Turning to provincial politics, Premier Lea said that $3,000,000 had been borrowed in the best interests of the Province. Against his advice on the floor of the house, the Stewart government had borrowed $1,250,000 at 6.12 percent for a period of 15 years. Later when bonds could be sold at an interest rate of less than 3 per cent they had borrowed $1,900,000 for the short period of two years. In both cases of borrowing they showed very poor business judgment. Faced with a million dollar overdraft, a $500,000 bond issue that had to be refunded, and a large expenditure for roadwork, his government had taken advantage of the present favourable bond market to make provision to meet these demands. He expected that when Mr. King came into power the sharp pick up in business would result in an increase in the interest rate. If he was going to carry out his promise of balancing the budget it was necessary to borrow at once. When Mr. King comes in the power he will call a meeting of all the members for the purpose of guaranteeing the bonds of our weaker western sisters. The effect of this would be to restore confidence in provincial bonds and cause a further lowering of the interest

League Fails To Change Italy's Attitude. ARMY MOVES ON

but not surprised by the overwhelming stand of the League against the Ethiopian war. Italy's "acquired rights" have never been properly considered, they said. "Mussolini with or without the League" is still the Italian watchword. Officials do not use the word "war" for their "colonial operations," but the sense of their comment is "war goes on while the League talks."

By Jacques Barre, Havas Staff Correspondent Copyright, 1935. By The Havas News Agency WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY, Addis Ababa, Oct. 10.—The first eyewitness account of the fall of Addis Ababa was obtained by Havas tonight as Italian generals were holding a council of war in preparation for a drive southward into Tigre Province's highest mountain country and through its thorny ravines.

The battle which ended in capture of the "City of Vengeance" was compared to the historic engagement at Thermopylae, a narrow pass from Thessaly to Locris, where Leonidas and his 300 Spartans tried to stem the tide of the Persian invasion in 480 B. C.

A similar pass almost 5,000 feet above sea-level exists at Enis Bait, about 13 miles from Addis Ababa. Here a detachment of Ascaris-Eritrean natives incorporated in the Italian offensive—moved forward in the first thrust.

At the head of these troops was a young Italian lieutenant. Lying in ambush behind a sharp cliff was a little band of vanguard Ethiopians. As the Ascaris approached the defence opened fire and the lieutenant fell.

He was replaced by his adjutant. About 35 feet farther along the pass the adjutant also was shot. Then an Ascaris sergeant took command. The ranks were closed and the fearless natives drove forward into the teeth of the Ethiopian fire. The defending warriors were cut to pieces. The pass seemed clear.

Almost immediately, however, about 1,000 Ethiopians stationed on an elevation overlooking the narrow passage began to sweep the advancing troops with machine gun fire. More than 100 Ascaris fell wounded.

The sergeant called a halt while the men took cover and first aid was given. Then a fierce pitched battle began, and the outcome was in doubt until Italian speed and the scale in favor of the offensive.

Finally the advance pushed its way through the pass and Addis Ababa was within reach. On Oct. 5, under a broiling noonday sun, the Ascaris marched into the city where they found the headquarters of the Italian Consulate abandoned and all its fittings wrecked.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Oct. 10—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics today reported a decrease of 20.3 per cent or nearly 10,000,000 cwt. in Canada's estimated potato crop as compared with last year. The potato acreage was reduced by 10.8 per cent while the yield per acre was 10.7 per cent below that of 1934.

Total production was estimated at 78,345,000 cwt. from 507,900 acres or 75 cwt. per acre against 48,095,000 cwt. from 569,200 acres or 84 cwt. per acre last year.

The crop in the principal surplus region, the Maritime Provinces, was placed at 9,010,000 cwt. a reduction of 5,295,000 cwt. against last year. The Quebec production was lowered by 2,870,000 cwt. while Ontario's was down 4,210,000 cwt. British Columbia's production was also lower, while the Prairie Provinces showed an increase of 50 per cent.

The Guardian that "contemptible sheet" which, he said, makes a charge of misappropriation of $200,000 might be in a libelous position. He would not misappropriate a dollar much less $200,000. He had looked up the statutes passed by the MacMillan Government for this borrowing and he was earmarked for hard surfaced roads so he placed it against the million dollar loan. Mr. A. E. MacLean, M. P., said a knock from the Guardian was as good as a boost. He referred to Mr. Bennett's announcement that he would form a Union Government and invite every member of the House to join. He said the Reconstruction party was unsuccessful in getting a candidate to oppose him but they had three men running in the province. Mr. Stevens who is now seeking to reform the capitalistic system cast his vote every time in favor of the big interest. The speaker pointed out that the result of limiting the imports directly cut down the exports. What most he do Canada to have a favorable balance of trade if our products cannot be sold, asked Mr. MacLean. The Liberals had a favorable balance of trade, they got it by cooperating with the world. Bennett got his by destroying our exports. He challenged the Guardian to prove that the Liberals lost 1930 Canada lost over $100,000,000 of the United States trade. The loss of the Cuban market was caused by Conservative tariff policies and if returned to power, Mr. MacLean said he would make it his business to see that this market was restored to Canada.

N.S. RADIO RECEPTION

Nova Scotia Centres Pleased With C. F. C. Y. Service.

The New Glasgow Evening News of Saturday, Oct. 5th says regarding radio reception in Nova Scotia: "The one station that gives an outstanding service here, and over a wide range of territory as well is CFCY at Charlottetown. That station should be included on all outstanding political programs at night if the ears of the people along the whole Northumberland Strait shore are being sought. It is a grave question, from a newspaper standpoint, if the radio broadcasts are as effective as they are claimed to be. They are of value when the political leaders are on the air but a lot of local claptrap is being dished out which is assuredly not worth the price and a sheer waste of money."

SEEK SITE FOR TRANSATLANTIC AIR TERMINAL

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, Oct. 10—Somewhere along the rugged coast of Cape Breton a site will be selected within the next few days for the Canadian base of a trans-Atlantic service that will bring London and New York within 24 hours flying time.

Location for the Canadian terminal on the shores of Nova Scotia, will be recommended by C. H. Glendinning, chairman of the Irish Trans-Atlantic Corporation which plans to establish the daily service at a cost of more than $7,500,000. He arrived at Quebec in the liner Empress of Britain today and continued to Montreal tonight. After a brief stay in Montreal, Mr. Glendinning will leave for Sydney, N. S., probably Saturday evening, returning after a week or so to confer with government aviation officials at Ottawa. A definite itinerary has not been planned, he said.

The Canadian terminal will be constructed somewhere along the Nova Scotia coast, said Mr. Glendinning, who visited Canada about a month ago in connection with plans for the project. Nothing definite had been decided in regard to the location on this side of the Atlantic, he said. And it only will be after personal inspection of several areas suggested he will form his recommendation.

Development of the Canadian depot will be similar to the one planned for Londonderry, Ireland, at an approximate cost of more than $1,500,000. Mr. Glendinning said. Present plans of the corporation outline the "shortest practical route" as between Londonderry and Nova Scotia, which would serve, as Mr. Glendinning described it, "as the distributing point, so to speak."

Saint John, N. B., which "might serve as an intermediate point" for planes travelling from the main terminal to southern and inland centres, also will be visited by the chairman, who said it was impossible at present to make public details of the plan. On his return from Sydney, however, probably the depot would be given general approval with other information concerning the Canadian end of the project.

The company has taken an option on 800 acres at Londonderry, and probably as much property would be necessary for the Canadian base, he said. Plans for the Londonderry construction, prepared by Maxwell Ayrton, architect who drew plans for the Wembley and Philadelphia exhibitions, will be the basis for the Canadian development.

Estimate of the time required for construction could be determined, said Mr. Glendinning, only after he had visited the Cape Breton area and learned engineering possibilities of the district.

Conference at Washington with Harrie Branch, assistant postmaster general of the United States, and other officials, will be held by Mr. Glendinning before he returns to London.

League officials anticipate that the sanctions committee will harmonize or combine these two methods of attack.

umbia, Liberal governments in Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. He thought the great moment had arrived. Lo and behold! When the ballots were counted Sir John A. Macdonald had a substantial majority. "Truth will prevail." Some of the people can be fooled some of the time, but the majority of the people can't be fooled all the time by slander and vilification. Much more could be said. Time and space will not permit. It seems reasonable to suppose that the big majority of our sane and sober citizens, both old time Liberals and Conservatives will not repudiate the British trade agreements and thereby spite themselves, but vote for the policies that have lifted us out of the world depression faster than any other country, entrust the destiny of this country for the next four years to R. B. Bennett and mark our ballots for Myers, McLure, MacDonald and Arnett.

LEAGUE WILL STRIVE FOR UNITED ACTION

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) GENEVA, Oct. 10—The attitude of Austria and Hungary in opposing the action of the League of Nations in applying sanctions against Italy caused grave concern in League quarters tonight.

Despite their non-acceptance of the Council's report, they were invited to sit on the sanctions committee, along with all League states except the belligerents.

Officials said pressure would probably be brought to bear upon Hungary and Austria to prevent transit across their soil from neutral countries like Germany of war and other material destined for Italy.

Impressive was the note in today's speeches that there was no idea of hind sanctions of punishing people. The dominating note was that Italy should be "brought to her senses" and shown that in these days "war is out of fashion," as one delegate said.

There was no official discussion of inviting non-member states, such as the United States and Japan, to sit on the sanctions committee as observers. The project apparently was dropped, although negotiations through diplomatic channels with Washington and Tokyo may come.

While the British idea is to "buy nothing from Italy," which already has a big unfavorable balance of trade, the French are inclined to tackle the problem from another angle, the cutting off of exports to Italy.

League officials anticipate that the sanctions committee will harmonize or combine these two methods of attack.
